

CC. : American Culture 101: The View from the Inside

American Culture 101: The View from the Inside is a course intended for international students and domestic students with an interest in global cultures. While (re-)learning core concepts of US-American cultures, students will share and compare elements of their own cultural experiences. The approach enables participants to have rich cultural exchanges and to learn about global cultures. Simultaneously, students will be introduced to their common new environment: Life at Bethany College. (Harald Menz, Professor of World Languages and Cultures, Co-Chair, Dept. of Humanities, Director of International Education, Co-Director of Interdisciplinary Studies)