

ENGL 365 : Classic American Novels

This is a study of novels by major American writers from the early 19th century to World War II. Emphasis is on the analysis of specific novels and their relationships to the development of American literature. Usually offered Fall semester in odd-numbered years.

Credits 3.0

Prerequisites

ENGL 255, 256, or one of these courses and concurrent enrollment in the other