

PHED 240 : Prevention and Care of Injuries

This course provides the student with a basic insight into prevention and treatment strategies of athletic injury. The student will learn healthcare administration, legal concerns in sports medicine, rehabilitation techniques, skin disorder recognition, gait training, emergency procedures, and tissue response to injury.

Credits 3.0

Prerequisite Courses

PHED 180

Prerequisites

PHED 180 or permission of the instructor.