

CHEM 255 : Introduction to Pharmacology

Pharmacological properties of some common types of organic compounds are studied along with various issues in medical ethics. The course is taught predominantly in a discussion/seminar format with occasional introductory lectures.

Credits 3.0

Prerequisites

CHEM 212 or concurrent enrollment in CHEM 212.