

CHEM 385 : Writing for Chemistry I

This course is the first of two which focus on written and oral communication in the styles common to the chemistry and biochemistry fields. Students read and report on current literature of interest, including that presented by invited speakers.

Credits 1.0

Prerequisites

CHEM 211 or permission of the instructor