

CPSC 152 : Computer Science II

This course is an introduction to advanced features of a high-level computer language including stacks, queues, and user-defined data structures. The programming assignments involve the techniques of searching, sorting, and recursion.

Credits 4.0

Prerequisites

CPSC 151 or the equivalent.