

ECON 376 : Junior Seminar in Economics

The Junior Seminar in Economics is designed to prepare the student for Senior Seminar in Economics and Senior Project. In the course students gain command of the writing and research methods characteristic of contemporary economics and their incorporation in written and oral reports in economics.

Credits 1.0

Prerequisites

Junior standing or permission of instructor.