MATH 390 : Numerical Analysis

This course is a study of numerical methods in evaluating integrals and differential equations, techniques in finding the roots of polynomials, solving systems of linear equations, and matrix manipulation. (This course may be taken for credit as
CPSC 390
.)
Credits 3.0
Prerequisites
MATH 202 or equivalent; CPSC 151.