

PSYC 313 : Experimental: Biopsychology

This course is an exploration of the biological basis of behavior through experimental work. Focus is on the nervous and endocrine systems and on their respective roles in the production of normal and abnormal behaviors. This course includes a laboratory component.

Credits 4.0

Prerequisite Courses

PSYC 100