

PSYC 415 : Systematic Psychology

This course is an examination of the systematic positions and theories that have been important in the history of psychology. Major figures holding each position are also discussed.

Credits 3.0

Prerequisites

senior status.