

THEA 306 : Period Styles for the Theatre

This course is an exploration of the historical events that have shaped the decorative arts in different ages. Students study the craft, architecture, decor, clothing, mannerisms, politics, social attitudes, and economic conditions as sources for creating the visual/sensory world of a theatrical production in an appropriate historical context.

Credits 3.0