

BIOL 104 : Introductory Biology II: Evolution, Diversity, and Ecology

This course is an introduction to modern concepts in evolution, plant and animal diversity, behavior, and ecology. Consideration is given to social and ethical implications of biological issues and to the process of acquiring biological knowledge.

Credits 4.0