

BIOL 270 : Human Nutrition

This course is a study of the nutritional requirements in humans. Topics discussed include comparative physiology of the digestive systems of domesticated animals, impact of nutrition on human health, nutrient biochemistry and metabolism, and nutritional management.

Credits 3.0