Bethany Profile

Bethany, a small college of national distinction, was founded March 2, 1840, by Alexander Campbell, who provided the land and funds for the first building and served as the first president. Now entering its 173rd year, Bethany College is a highly contemporary institution based in the tradition of the liberal arts.

The College offers a wide array of studies, awarding bachelor of science and bachelor of arts degrees in more than 25 fields of study, many with options for emphasis. Students also may include one or more minors as part of their program. The College also offers a Masters of Arts in Teaching.

The College's program of liberal arts education prepares students for a lifetime of work and a life of significance. Bethany places particular emphasis on leadership and incorporates pre-professional education in dentistry, engineering, law, medicine, physical therapy, public administration, theology, and veterinary medicine.

Bethany's 1,300-acre campus is located in the northern panhandle of West Virginia in the foothills of the Allegheny Mountains. Pittsburgh is 39 miles to the northeast. A half-hour drive from the College are Wheeling, West Virginia; Washington, Pennsylvania; and Steubenville, Ohio.

Since its inception Bethany has been a four-year private liberal arts college affiliated with the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ). This religious body, of which Campbell was one of the principal founders, continues to support and encourage the College, although it exercises no sectarian control. Students from virtually every religious community attend Bethany.

Mission

Teaching and learning form the mission of Bethany College. Central to this broad purpose is providing a liberal arts education for students, including the preparation of professionals, in an atmosphere of study, work, and service.

Values

Bethany College is an academic community founded on the close interaction between students and faculty in the educational process. Bethany College values intellectual rigor and freedom, diversity of thought and lifestyle, personal growth within a community context, and responsible engagement with public issues. Its programs are designed to

--engage the mind through emphasis on discipline in thinking, motivation in the search for knowledge, and acquisition of the intellectual resources for a lifetime of learning

--embolden the spirit through the opportunity for intellectual challenge, collaborative enterprise, athletic competition, artistic expression, personal growth, and meaningful work

--enlarge the world through exposure to the abundant diversity of thought and lifestyle of the human community, support for personal engagement with societies and cultures different from one's own, and commitment to service.

Goals

In its charter, granted in 1840 by the Commonwealth of Virginia and recognized in 1863 by the newly organized state of West Virginia, the mission of Bethany College is defined as the instruction of youth in the various branches of science and literature, the useful arts and the learned and foreign languages.

Alexander Campbell set the purpose of the College in the context of western religious tradition and the thinking of the American Enlightenment, interpreting it to imply that the goal of education is to prepare students to become useful and responsible members of society by liberating them from superstition and ignorance, the tyranny of others, and "vulgar prejudices." Campbell envisioned that upon graduation, students would become their own teacher and pupil and continue their education throughout life.

Bethany College continues to accept the implications of its mission as understood by its founder. It continues to accept the responsibility for educating effective, honorable, humane, and intelligent citizens who believe in and will promote the creation of a world of worth and value, integrating critical reason with the convictions of faith, personal accomplishment with ethical responsibility, and individual development with service to others.

Objectives

The Bethany experience encourages students to realize their intellectual capabilities, moral capacities, and leadership potential by assisting them in their quest to achieve the following objectives:

- the ability to write well and to read with discrimination
- the ability to speak with facility and to listen effectively
- the ability to use the liberal arts and sciences in the application of critical thinking
- the ability to recognize and to appreciate the ethical, moral, and spiritual dimensions of the human experience
- the ability to recognize and to appreciate the experiences of diverse populations
- the ability to recognize and to appreciate the importance of lifelong learning and the responsibilities of world citizenship
- the preparation for post-baccalaureate education and career opportunities

Undergraduate Program

Application for Undergraduate Program

Bethany accepts applications for admission from candidates who feel they would benefit from and contribute to a Bethany education. Prospective students may submit applications by either paper application or online application from the Bethany College website at www.bethanywv.edu/prospective-students/apply-online.

Admission is based on a careful review of all credentials presented by the candidate. The Center for Enrollment accepts candidates it considers qualified among those applying. The meeting of minimum standards does not in itself assure admission. Acceptance is contingent upon a candidate's successful completion of secondary school.

The College seeks students who have prepared themselves for a liberal arts curriculum by taking at least 15 units of college-preparatory work. Although the College does not absolutely prescribe how these units should be distributed, it encourages a minimum of four years of English, three years of mathematics, three years of science, three years of social science, and two years of a foreign language. For students who have developed individual curricula, have been home schooled, or are involved in experimental honors programs, the Center for Enrollment makes special evaluations.

Visiting Bethany

An on-campus interview with an enrollment counselor is highly recommended. A campus visit enables the student to develop a more thorough understanding of the College and its expectations. A comprehensive tour, observation of classes, and interaction with Bethany students and faculty are available if desired by the applicant. Arrangements must be made through the Center for Enrollment.

Lodging is available on campus at Gresham Inn and at nearby lodges and motels. Transportation arrangements from the Greater Pittsburgh International Airport and from the Pittsburgh rail and bus terminals may be arranged through the Center for Enrollment.

The Center for Enrollment is open for tours Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and many Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. throughout the academic year. Also, visit www.bethanywv.edu for Green and White Visitation Days. Appointments may be made by calling 304-829-7611 or 800-922-7611, or by writing to the Center for Enrollment, Bethany College, Bethany, West Virginia 26032; e-mail: admission@bethanywv.edu. Three days advance notice is requested to make proper arrangements for visits.

First-Year Students

Application for admission requires the submission of the following: a completed application form; a transcript of secondary school work; and scores from either the College Entrance Examination Board Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) or the American College Testing Program (ACT). An on-campus interview, letters of recommendation, and personal essay are strongly recommended but not required.

Candidates for admission may share other materials with their enrollment counselors, such as examples of poems, plays, or short stories that they have written, samples of their art work or photography, journalistic pieces they have had printed, programs indicating their musical or dramatic endeavors, or clippings depicting activities for which they have received recognition. Rolling admission enables Bethany to evaluate and act on completed applications as soon as they are submitted. Therefore, each applicant is notified of Bethany's decision approximately two weeks after all credentials have been received.

The application for admission and the acceptance are valid only for the academic year for which the application has been made.

Transfer Students

The College welcomes qualified transfer students. Applicants for transfer should have a good academic record at the institution attended and must present full credentials for both college and preparatory work. Transfers need to complete the Faculty Report and the Statement of Good Standing Form. Both can be found on Bethany College's website. Prospective transfer students should review the College's transfer of credit policy which can be found on the College Website.

Applications for transfer students are accepted year round. A thorough transfer analysis is completed by the Registrar office to determine the amount of credits that will transfer in to Bethany College. The Center for Enrollment encourages transfers to apply well in advance as the process for transferring can take up to a month for everything to be complete.

Community College Graduates

Students who have received or will receive an Associate in Arts or Associate in Science Degree and find Bethany's curriculum suited to their educational goals are encouraged to apply.

Students transferring to Bethany with the A.A. or A.S. Degree are granted a minimum of 60 credits, enter as juniors, and receive all the rights and privileges of upperclass students. The College assists holders of Associate degrees to complete their baccalaureate programs within two years at Bethany. However, the completion of some major programs may require more than two years at Bethany.

Early Admission

Some students complete their secondary school graduation requirements a year early and decide to enter college after the junior year. For those who have demonstrated maturity and show evidence of a strong academic background, Bethany offers a program for early admission. For early admission, the usual admission procedures must be followed. In addition, the student must have an interview on campus and the student's high school counselor must confer with the Bethany Director of Enrollment and Financial Aid.

Bethany Scholars

Qualified area high-school students have the opportunity to take college courses at Bethany College free of charge during the regular semesters or as part of special summer offerings. The program is open to students who have successfully completed the 10th grade in high school and are located in Brooke, Hancock, Ohio and Wetzel counties in (WV), Washington County (PA) and Jefferson County (OH). Students must rank in the top 15 percent of their class and be nominated to participate in this program by a teacher, guidance counselor, or principal on an official Bethany College nomination form. Students who are home-schooled will be considered on an individual basis. Students may take a total of 6 hours per semester in their junior and senior years of high school.

Students who enroll in at least one course through this program will be designated Bethany Scholars for the term. They will be granted library privileges, given assistance in college selection and financing, preferential consideration in Bethany scholarship awards, and be admitted free-of-charge to college athletic, musical and cultural events.

The College also offers a variety of college-level courses in partnership with a number of area high schools. Some fees will apply for non campus based courses.

Advanced Placement and Credit by Examination

Credit may be received or courses waived as a result of high scores on the College Entrance Examination Board Testing Program for Advanced Placement and the higher level examinations of the International Baccalaureate Program. The waiving of courses and granting of credit, however, are departmental matters and require consultation with the chair of the appropriate department.

Students may receive advanced placement and/or credit from any department in the College through a testing program. Those who wish to receive credit by examination should consult with the Registrar and the chair of the appropriate department.

Program for Academic and Social Success

The Program for Academic and Social Success (PASS) provides a comprehensive set of services specifically designed to support students with learning disabilities and attention deficit disorders in the college mainstream. The program promotes the development of skills which enhance a student's ability to undertake successful college-level work and engage in lifelong learning.

In order to participate in PASS, a student must also be admitted to Bethany College. In addition to the application, high school transcript, recommendations, and SAT or ACT scores, the student must submit complete documentation of the learning disability. Complete documentation consists of a current psycho-educational evaluation (within 3 years) and it must include recommendations for any adaptive devices, assistive services, etc. All candidates applying for PASS should schedule an interview with the PASS coordinator prior to the beginning of the school year. Interviews can be scheduled by the Center for Enrollment.

Students with documented disabilities are offered accommodations on a case by case basis in compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973.

International Students

Bethany encourages applications from residents of other countries. As many as 10 countries are represented on campus each year. Prospective international students may apply to Bethany through the application form which appears on the Bethany College website at www.bethanywv.edu/prospective-students/apply-online.

In addition to the application form, prospective international students must submit a complete secondary school transcript, "O" or "A" level examination results (if appropriate), a certificate of financial support (available on the website address listed above), an official bank statement demonstrating financial sufficiency for at least one year's total expenses, and one letter of recommendation. Students must also provide evidence of English language skills by submitting results of the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL). Bethany does provide merit-based scholarships for international students, but does not provide need-based financial aid. Upon acceptance to Bethany, students will receive written notification, and once all financial support documentation has been received, the Form I-20 is sent to secure a student visa from the nearest U.S. Embassy or Consulate. In order to be enrolled, each student's account must be paid in full on or before the specified due dates applicable to each semester.

Prospective international students are urged to begin the application process as early as possible and to have submitted all appropriate credentials and documents at least four months prior to the beginning of the semester in which they wish to enroll.

Application Fee

Bethany does not require an application fee.

Tuition Deposit

A student accepted for admission or readmission is required to pay a $150 tuition deposit. This deposit holds the student's spot in the incoming class. The tuition deposit is very important for selection of housing, orientation date and classes.

This deposit is refunded after graduation or when a student accepted for admission who has paid the registration deposit but decided not to attend Bethany, submits a request in writing for the refund prior to May 1st of the year of their intended matriculation.

Application for Readmission

Students who were previously enrolled at Bethany College but left for any reason can apply for readmission.

All students must apply for readmission through the Center for Enrollment. The Center for Enrollment will provide all students with the necessary materials to apply for readmission.

Undergraduate Expenses, Aid

Bethany College is a non-profit institution. Tuition, fees, and other general charges paid by the student cover approximately two-thirds of the College's instructional and operational expenses. The remainder comes from income from endowment funds and from gifts and contributions. Bethany continues to keep costs as low as possible.

Billing Information and Dates

Billing Information

Students are expected to register at the times and places announced. Registration is not considered complete until all charges have been paid or arrangements for payments have been made.

January Term (first-year students) — January Term is required of all first-year students, this is non-refundable. Financial aid packaging will include appropriate January Term fees. Due to the concentrated nature of January Term, there is no add/drop period nor a prorated withdrawal period following the start of the class.

January Term (other students) — Those students wishing to include January Term in their annual packaging, must notify the Office of Financial Aid prior to annual packaging. Otherwise, students will be billed subject to the fees stated above and billed according to the timetable below. Due to the concentrated nature of January Term, there is no add/drop period nor a prorated withdrawal period following the start of the class.

Billing and Payment Dates

- Fall Semester 2012 invoices will be issued July 9, 2012 and are due by August 13, 2012
- Deadline for non-freshman students to register for January Term 2013 is December 18, 2012. After the deadline a $50 late fee will apply. (Please note for all non-freshman students, financial aid packages must be included in the fall billing period. Students wishing such packaging should so indicate prior to annual packaging)
- Spring Semester 2013 invoices will be issued December 3, 2012 and are due by January 7, 2013.
- A $250 late fee will be imposed if Fall Semester payment (or alternative) is not received by August 13, 2012 and Spring Semester payment by January 7, 2013. The College reserves the right to cancel a student's registration for lack of payment.
- May Term, Summer Term, online, off-campus, and study abroad programs may have different charges and due dates. Consult the Office of Business/Finance for specific charges.

Degree Completion

As prescribed by the Charter and Bylaws of the institution, granting a degree from Bethany College is a three-step process involving the Registrar, the Faculty, and the Board of Trustees. The Registrar conducts a graduation audit on the date final grades are due at three points in the academic calendar: 1) at the end of the Fall Term; 2) at the end of the January Term; and, 3) and at the end of Spring Term. For the 2012-13 Academic year, these dates are December 17, 2012; January 25, 2013; and May 20, 2013.

Only the names of those students who have completed all the requirements for the degree by one of the dates noted above will be submitted to the Faculty at its next regularly scheduled meeting, at which time the Faculty nominates the members of the list for degree. The President then presents the list to the Board of Trustees which then confers the degree. Commencement exercises are held once each year, in May, at which time all degree recipients for that academic year receive their diplomas. All students who are candidates for graduation must resolve their financial obligations to the institution prior to their nomination for a degree, and transcripts will be withheld until the financial obligation is satisfied.

Comprehensive Examination

Students who wish to take Comprehensive Examinations must resolve their financial obligations to the institution at least one week prior to the first day of the written section of the Examination. Examination dates are listed in the College calendar which appears on Page 2 of the Catalogue.

Bethany Educational Employment Program and Work Study

All Bethany College students are professionals in training and will follow professional expectations while employed through the Bethany Educational Employment and Work Study programs. Meaningful work opportunities have been created and funded in an effort to provide learning opportunities, career expertise and resume building experiences for students.

Working while attending Bethany College is not considered a right but a privilege to be achieved with ambition to find a job, the desire to learn and ability to follow the expectations and requirements established by the job supervisor. Students will be held to the same standards, expectations and requirements most businesses and companies will require in their future careers.

All students having an outstanding balance who participate in any work program offered at Bethany College are required to apply their earnings to their outstanding account balance.

Refund Policies

Any notification of withdrawal or cancellation and request for refund must be in writing. A withdrawal form must be completed and all necessary signatures obtained. Oral requests for refunds will not be acted upon.

- Tuition, Room and Board — One hundred percent of the tuition, room and board charges, less special course fees, will be refunded if written notification of cancellation is made before the first day of classes. Other refunds of tuition, room and board will be made upon receipt of written notification of withdrawal or cancellation according to the following schedule:
 - * 75% in the first week of the academic period
 - * 50% in the second week of the academic period
 - * 25% in the third week of the academic period
 - * No refund will be made following the third week of the academic period.

The academic period referred to above is the normal semester (fifteen weeks) of the College. If a student is enrolled in an academic period of different duration, the refund periods stated above will be adjusted proportionally (in an academic period of one half the length of a normal semester the refund periods above would be one half as long). Refund checks will be issued within thirty days if all financial aid has been received.

- Discipline — In case of dismissal for breach of college disciplinary rules, no refund will be given.
- Deposits — Any refundable deposit (for example, a key deposit) will first be applied against the student's outstanding balance. If the student's outstanding balance exceeds the refundable deposit, the student will not be entitled to the refund of such deposit.
- Appeals — Students or parents who feel that unusual circumstances warrant exception from published refund policy should submit a written explanation of these circumstances to the Executive Vice President.
- Title IV Federal Financial Aid Recipients — The Refund/Replacement Policy governs the return of Title IV funds when a student withdraws before completing more than 60% of the semester. Funds must be returned to the following sources in specific order until the total amount of the school's responsibility has been satisfied:
 - * Unsubsidized Federal Stafford Loans
 - * Subsidized Federal Stafford Loans
 - * Subsidized Direct Stafford Loans
 - * Perkins Loans
 - * Federal PLUS Loans
 - * Direct PLUS Loans
 - * Federal Pell Grants
 - * FSEOG
 - * Other Title IV Assistance

Fees Specific to Off-Campus Study

Institutionally funded financial aid is not applicable to the international study programs listed below. The Tuition Exchange, The Council of Independent Colleges Tuition Exchange and Employee Tuition Benefit are not applicable to the international studies programs listed below. The listed charges are based upon the tuition charged by the host institution at the time of the publishing of this schedule. Such charges may be changed by said institutions at any time and without notice to Bethany College and the student. When changed by the host institution Bethany College reserves the right to revise this schedule to reflect such change. In addition to the charges below, the College requires each student to purchase international health insurance from an insurer approved by the College, the charge for which varies by location and length of stay.

Unpaid Accounts

Any fees, fines or miscellaneous payments not received by due dates may result in the student being administratively withdrawn from the College. Future registrations will not be allowed, nor will grades, diploma, certificates or transcripts provided until balance is cleared. Re-instatement to the College will require payment of all amounts due and compliance with the usual re-admission procedures. The student is responsible for all collection agency fees, attorney fees, court costs and other costs necessary for the collection of amounts not paid by the due date. Students whose accounts are assigned to collections may have their credit adversely affected and may have difficulty in obtaining credit in the future.

Financial Aid

Recognizing the increasing cost of achieving a college education, Bethany College offers a wide variety of scholarships, grants, loans and work possibilities. Institutional scholarships are available only to full-time students. Entering students who wish to be considered for all types of financial aid, including federal and state programs and most institutional grants and scholarships should complete the following requirements no later than March 15 prior to their first Fall semester:

1. Apply and be accepted for admission to Bethany College.
2. Complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) at www.fafsa.gov. The FAFSA is used by the Federal Student Aid Programs to determine a student's financial "need". The Bethany College Financial Aid Office uses this information to evaluate a student's eligibility for other aid programs.

A student who qualifies for assistance will receive an award that may consist of scholarships, grants, loans, and work study. The student may accept or decline any of the aid that is offered. Questions should be directed to the Center for Enrollment. An extensive list of federal, state and institutional financial aid assistance may be viewed at www.bethanywv.edu/prospective-students/aid/.

Satisfactory Academic Progress for Financial Aid

The Educational Amendments of 1976 (P.L.94-482, October 12, 1976) under section 132 states that "a student shall be entitled to receive Federal student assistance benefits only if that student is maintaining satisfactory progress in the course of study."

Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) is evaluated each May at the close of the Spring term. This policy applies to all periods of enrollment whether or not the student previously received financial aid. Transfer credits will be included.

There are three elements of Satisfactory Academic Progress measurement: Credits, Grade Point Average, and Pace of Progression. Students must meet all three requirements to receive financial aid. Complete descriptions of these terms may be found at www.bethanywv.edu/academics/fa-academic-policy/.

Students who fail to meet the credit, grade point average, or pace of progression Satisfactory Academic Progress requirements will be placed on Financial Aid Warning. Students placed on Financial Aid Warning may receive financial aid for one additional semester. If they fail to recover their pace of progression to an acceptable level, they face the prospect of Financial Aid Suspension. Students placed on suspension may appeal by letter to the Director of Financial Aid. Students may appeal suspension twice. After that, no additional appeals will be entertained. A full description of the process of Financial Aid Warning, Suspension, and appeal may be viewed at www.bethanywv.edu/academics/fa-academic-policy/.

Student Drawing Account

The Office of Business/Finance provides a limited banking service through which students and their parents may deposit funds which the student may draw on as required. Establishing a student drawing account is recommended to avoid the necessity of keeping on hand any substantial amount of money. All checks for this account must be made payable to the Bethany College Student Drawing Account.

Academic Programs

Undergraduate Programs

Based in the liberal arts tradition, Bethany's academic program is designed to meet the educational needs of individual students by promoting breadth, depth, and the integration of knowledge. Bethany assists students in developing intellectual concepts, sophisticated learning skills, moral values, and good citizenship. Preparation for leadership is a central theme of the College.

The Bethany curriculum is unique in caring for individual students and in helping them develop their full potential at each level of learning. From First-Year Seminars to Senior Comprehensive Examinations, Bethany prepares its students for ever greater tasks and achievements, guiding them toward the fulfillment of personal goals, the challenges of graduate study, and the preparation for productive and rewarding careers.

Bethany brings its students a rich variety of opportunities for learning. Seminars, lectures, laboratory and independent research projects, encounters with high technology through the use of state-of-the-art computers, television and graphics equipment, artistic performances, and athletic activities present opportunities for self-expression and growth. Learning at Bethany often takes place outside traditional classroom settings, through independent study, informal interaction with faculty, off-campus internships, and study abroad.

A Bethany education is, then, more than a list of courses. Bethany students approach their study through a framework of common educational goals which define the liberally educated person. Faculty members work closely with all students to ensure a proper grounding in the humanities, natural sciences, and social sciences. Bethany students have many opportunities for choice; but here, too, faculty work closely with them to ensure that each student's personal plan of study is both comprehensive and coherent. It is this combination of thoroughness and personal expression that makes Bethany unique.

Academic Advising

The student-advisor relationship is an important aspect of the Bethany education. Although students are responsible for understanding Bethany's curriculum, knowing the requirements for graduation from Bethany, and recognizing their progress toward fulfilling all requirements, students and advisors work together to determine and schedule classroom and experience-based academic activities appropriate for individual students.

First-Year Seminar instructors serve as advisors for entering students and for other students who have not yet officially selected a major. All students are encouraged to discuss their academic plans with a faculty member from their intended major department as soon as they have decided what that department is to be. Students must declare a major before the end of the second semester of the sophomore year; at that time, they are assigned formally to an advisor from the chosen department.

There are also special advisors to assist students with specific academic activities, such as fulfilling particular requirements, preparing for specific careers, and planning for applying to graduate and professional school programs. A list of special advisors appears in the directory section of this Catalogue.

Requirements for a Bethany Degree

Bethany College confers a Bachelor of Arts or a Bachelor of Science degree to a student who has satisfactorily completed the following requirements:

- 128 credits with a minimum grade-point average of 2.00, including completion of the following:
 - the First-Year Experience
 - First-Year Seminar (FSEM 111)
 - First-Year Connections (FSEM 112)
 - First-Year January Seminar (FSEM 113)
 - The Bethany Writing Requirement
 - Religious Studies Requirement
 - The Bethany Fitness/Physical Activity Requirement
 - World Languages and Cultures Requirement
 - Liberal Arts Core
 - a Major Field of Study
 - a Senior Project in the major field
- the senior comprehensive examination in the major field of study
- the residence requirement

Bachelor of Arts degrees are awarded in Accounting, Business Administration, Communications, Computer Science, Economics, Education, English, French, German, History, Interdisciplinary Studies, Music, Physical Education, Political Science, Psychology, Religious Studies, Social Work, Spanish, Theatre, and Visual Art. Specific requirements for each major are described in the sections of this Catalogue devoted to the offerings of the individual academic departments.

Bachelor of Science degrees are awarded in Biology, Chemistry, Computer Science, Interdisciplinary Studies, Mathematics, Physics, and Psychology. Specific requirements for each major are described in the sections of this Catalogue devoted to the offerings of the individual academic departments.

First-Year Experience

The First Year Experience is designed to meet the following goals:

- Provide a small seminar of students with a faculty mentor/advisor who will help them to improve writing and thinking skills and familiarize them with the academic life of the College, while they study a specialized subject area
- Provide a bridge between the high school experience and the Bethany experience designed to enable students to engage actively and successfully as they grow and learn inside the classroom and out
- Provide students with an intense, single-class, topic driven learning experience designed to enhance college level reading, writing and research skills

All students who meet one of the following conditions are required to complete successfully the First Year Experience, including FSEM 111, FSEM 112, and FSEM 113.

- The student has graduated from high school but never attended college, even if she or he has completed college credits while in high school
- The student has enrolled in another college and is transferring fewer than 13 credits to Bethany

Note on Completions: Students who do not successfully complete their first year seminar in the fall term will be required to make up this course during the Spring term of their first year. Additionally, students who do not successfully complete FSEM 112 (Connections: A Personalized College Experience) in the Fall term of their first year will be required to register for, and successfully complete, the course in the Fall term of their sophomore year. Students who do not successfully complete FSEM 113 (First Year JTerm Experience) will be required to register for, and successfully complete, the course in the May term of their first year, at additional expense. If these courses are not successfully completed, students will not be eligible for graduation.

Writing Requirement

Writing is integral to the liberal arts curriculum at Bethany College. Therefore, the Bethany Writing Requirement is a multiple-activity program spread across the student's entire college career. To fulfill the requirement, students must complete a minimum of five courses designated as writing intensive, including FSEM 111 and ENGL 111. Writing intensive courses are designated by the Writing Across the Curriculum Advisory Committee. A list of courses so designated may be obtained from the Office of the Registrar.

Religious Studies Requirement

Religious literacy is essential to the liberally-educated citizen of the world. Bethany students are required to complete successfully RELS 100 (Introduction to Religion: Texts, Contexts, Practices). The course is offered by faculty members of the Department of Humanities and is preferably taken during the Freshman year. RELS 100 takes an academic approach to the study of religion: students are introduced to critical methods and definitions in religious studies and then proceed to apply one or more of those methods to a comparative study of three different world religions. The lens through which the religions are compared varies with the interest and expertise of the professor teaching the course. Students might consider, for example, religious definitions of the human condition in relation to philosophical, political, or moral definitions; the meaning and function of religious rituals; or the way religions develop, reinforce, or challenge gender roles in society.

Fitness/Physical Activity Requirement

Each student is required to complete successfully a two-part fitness and physical activity requirement. The Fitness Component of the requirement is met by successful completion of either PHED 102 Introduction to Lifelong Fitness, or PHED 103 Introduction to Sports Fitness. The Activity Component may be met by registration for and successful completion of one course selected from among the Varsity Sport Sequence (PHED 150-164), the Skills Sequence (PHED 110, 120, 121, 122, 123, 124), the Intense Conditioning Sequence (PHED 132, 137, 138, 139), or the Equestrian Performance Courses (EQUI 103, 203, 204, 205, 303, 306, 403). Students with documented disabilities are offered accommodations and modifications on a case by case basis in compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973.

World Languages and Cultures Requirement

All students must demonstrate world languages and cultures proficiency at the elementary level. Students may demonstrate proficiency in any one of the following ways:

- completing successfully at Bethany the first two courses of a basic language sequence (Arabic, French, German, Italian, Japanese, Latin, or Spanish)
- performing at an acceptable level on a Bethany College written placement test in one of the above languages
- attaining the "Novice High" level of the ACTFL Oral Proficiency Interview
- earning a 3, 4 or 5 score on the College Entrance Examination Board Advanced Placement Test in the language
- completing successfully at a high school or college the first two courses in a language other than Arabic, French, German, Italian, Japanese, Latin, or Spanish
- placing, as the result of one of the tests listed above, in the second course of one of the basic language sequences at Bethany and enrolling in and successfully completing that course
- showing evidence of being a native speaker of a language other than English

Liberal Arts Core

The Liberal Arts Core is designed to ensure that all Bethany students are acquainted at the college level with areas of knowledge and methods of thinking traditionally associated with a liberal arts education. Each student is required to complete successfully a three or four credit course in each of the areas listed below, with no more than two courses from the administrative department of the student's major. The list of courses approved for satisfying the requirement in each area changes every year. Only courses taken in the year they appear on the approved list can count toward fulfillment of the requirement.

Major Field of Study

Every student must select a major field of study from one of the academic departments of the College, from among the faculty-sponsored interdisciplinary programs, or by initiating and developing an individual interdisciplinary program.

A major program may require no more than 72 credits, no more than 48 of which may be in one curricular department. Credits for senior projects (2, 3, or 4 credits) do not count toward this total unless otherwise specified by a department. Each major requires a minimum of 24 credits within the department.

Faculty-sponsored and student-initiated interdisciplinary majors cross departmental lines. Information about faculty-sponsored interdisciplinary majors is available from the Office of the Registrar and in the Interdisciplinary Studies section of this Catalogue. Information about student-initiated interdisciplinary study is available in the Interdisciplinary Studies section of this Catalogue and from the Director of Interdisciplinary Studies.

Double Major: A double major represents the completion by a student of all of the curricular requirements of any two majors. Students may elect to double major in any two disciplines of their choosing and are required to complete separate senior projects and comprehensive exams for each major program. Students completing a double major receive one diploma. The double major is noted on the transcript.

Dual Major: A dual major is one in which the faculty of each of the programs involved have determined that because of significant curricular commonalities and/or the requirements of external certifying bodies, students completing all of the course requirements for each major would benefit by being able to complete a single senior project and a specialized set of extended, combined comprehensive exams. Dual majors are initiated by the faculty in the programs affected and are approved by the faculty as a whole. Students completing a dual major receive one diploma. The dual major is noted on the transcript. Information about dual majors is available from the Office of the Registrar and in the respective departments that host a dual major.

Senior Project

Each student must successfully complete a project consistent with the guidelines and requirements of the department of the student's major. Guidelines are available from the chair of each department. A student may propose a senior project earning two, three, or four credits as determined through consultation with the faculty of the major department. Projects are proposed, scheduled, and evaluated in accordance with guidelines established by each major department. The project is supervised and evaluated by the student's senior project advisor and by at least one additional faculty member. The project grade is submitted by the department chair. The completed project is filed in the library archives.

Senior Comprehensive Examination

Culminating the Bethany education is the Senior Comprehensive Examination. Comprehensive examinations assure the College of qualitative accomplishment and lead the student to a sense of self-confidence and achievement.

A student who has attained senior standing, has completed all the requirements for a major, and has a grade-point average of at least 2.0 in the major is eligible to take the Senior Comprehensive Examination. To take the Examination, the student must apply in the Office of the Registrar at least two months prior to the first day of the written section of the Examination. The application form can be obtained from the Registrar's Office or online and requires the signature of the department chair, and a copy of the student's most recent Degree Audit must be attached. The Examination, which is offered in January and in May, includes both written and oral sections. In some majors, portions of external examinations may be part of or prerequisite to the Senior Comprehensive Examination. A full description of the policy governing the administration of the Senior Comprehensive Examination may be found in Bethany College Policy Manual, Vol. VI, Academic Policies.

Students who wish to take the Comprehensive Examination must resolve their financial obligations to the institution at least one week prior to the first day of the written section of the examination. Examination dates are listed in the College calendar which appears on Page 2 of this Catalogue.

Students who have completed all requirements in their majors may take the examination in January with the consent of their advisors. Students who do not pass the examination in January may take it again at the end of the Spring semester or at any time that it is regularly given within the following twelve months. If the student fails a second time, the student may petition the faculty for a re-examination during the following year. No student may take the examination more than three times.

Minor Field of Study

Students may include as part of their program of study one or more optional minors. Requirements for minors are described in detail in the sections of this Catalogue devoted to the offerings of the individual academic departments. Minors generally require between 15 and 24 credits of directed study in one or more departments. Minors are offered in:

- | | |
|----------------------------------|--|
| Accounting | International Relations |
| American Government and Politics | Management |
| American Literature | Mathematics |
| Botany | Medieval and Renaissance Studies |
| British Literature | Music |
| Business Administration | Multi-Category Special Education K-Adult |

| Economics | Spanish |
| Environmental Biology | Theatre |
| Equine Studies | Theoretical Physics |
| Experimental Physics | Visual Art |
| French | Women's Studies |
| German | Writing and Language |
| History | Zoology |

A student may earn a minor in a curricular department in which the student earns a major only if the minor requires no more than six credits in courses also required for the major.

Academic Residence Requirement

To be eligible for a degree a student must have completed 48 credits in courses at Bethany and/or as part of an approved off campus Bethany program. No more than six of the last thirty-four credits may be transfer credits.* Exceptions to this rule may be granted for approved summer courses, study-abroad programs, or other programs with the pre-approval of the major department and the Vice President for Academic Affairs.

*Transcripts showing final grades for all transfer credits must be received by the Registrar by the final grade due dates in the Bethany College Calendar.

January Term

The Bethany program includes a required three-week January Term for all First-Year Students. The First-Year January Term provides students with a small topic driven seminar experience (most often students will remain in their seminar group from first semester and continue to study with their seminar professor, although they may explore a new topic). The seminar will allow students to learn deeply, rather than broadly, since this seminar will be the only course they take during January Term. Topics will vary, but all seminars are designed to enhance college-level reading, writing and research skills. In addition to the required First-Year January Term seminars, a limited number of courses will be offered for upper class students who choose to take a three-week January Term course.

May Term

The Bethany program includes a voluntary two to four-week May Term. The May Term provides opportunities for students to supplement and extend the learning experience available during the traditional academic year. Students may enroll in a course, study single topics intensively, travel and study in various parts of the world, and undertake independent study projects.

Students may earn a maximum of four credits towards Bethany College degree requirements in any one May Term. Since the May Term is voluntary, students who participate in credit-granting programs are assessed for tuition, room and board, travel, and laboratory and other fees as appropriate to the particular program. Specific information about course offerings and costs is available from the Office of the Registrar.

Beth-Bridge Early Experience

Beth-Bridge is one of several support programs that Bethany College offers in the summer preceding the Freshman year to assist students in realizing what it takes to become a successful college graduate. Bethany only invites students into the program who demonstrate a sincere interest in attending college, but whose records indicate that there could be great benefits gained from an intense pre-college experience. This two-week program consists of several preparatory courses for academic credit, workshops for transition to College, and several on- and off-campus extracurricular activities.

Pre-Professional Study

Bethany offers pre-professional study programs in a number of areas, including the following:

Engineering

The Bethany engineering program permits students to earn both a bachelor's degree from Bethany and a B.S. in engineering from a cooperating school upon completion of a five-year sequence. Students spend three years in the liberal arts environment at Bethany and then attend Case Western Reserve University or Columbia University for an additional two years. Students interested in engineering should plan to take Physics 201-202 and Mathematics 201-202 during their first year. Other courses should be chosen with regard to the particular subfield within engineering that interests the student. Students considering this program should contact the pre-engineering advisor Dr. Robert Spangler to plan their degree program.

Medical and Health Professions

Programs for advanced degrees in medical fields such as dentistry, medicine, optometry, pharmacy, and podiatry, as well as physician's assistant and other health science fields require applicants to have a broad foundation in the sciences, mathematics, and English. Students are required to show competency in both inorganic and organic chemistry, biology and general physics, usually completing a two semester sequence, and many programs are now requiring or strongly recommending biochemistry. Students will also be expected to perform satisfactorily on a qualifying exams such as the DAT, GRE, MCAT, OAT, or PCAT. Students interested in health related professions should plan to take Chemistry 101-102 and Biology 100 during their first year. Mathematics 201 is highly recommended during the first year. Chemistry 211-212 should be taken in the second year, and Physics 201-202 taken no later than the third year. Pre-professional students in the health sciences should consult early in their first year with the chair of the Health Professions Advisory Committee.

Pre-Veterinary Medicine

Colleges of Veterinary Medicine expect incoming students to have a broad background in the biological and physical sciences with students completing at least three courses in biology including general biology, genetics, microbiology as the most requested, two semesters of both general chemistry and organic chemistry, as well as at least one semester of biochemistry, and two semesters of general physics. A course in animal nutrition is required by nearly half of the schools. Bethany College courses that satisfy the usual requirements are: Biology 100, 180, 290, and 343; Chemistry 101-102, 211-212, and 351-352; Physics 201-202.

Other typical course requirements include at least one math class and two semesters of English composition and literature. Another major requirement is documented experience with animals and work with veterinarians. Students can gain valuable experience working with area veterinarians.

Students who can claim West Virginia residency status may obtain a position as a contract student at one of three schools: Auburn University, The Virginia-Maryland Regional College of Veterinary Medicine, and Mississippi State University. There are at present 13 contract seats among the three schools. Eligible students must complete the application for the West Virginia Contract Seat, which can be obtained at http://dms.wvu.edu/veterinary_school_information. Application deadlines vary, and students are encouraged to consult the website listed above at the beginning of their junior year. All students interested in attending veterinary school should review the admission requirements of any veterinary college they may likely attend as requirements among the colleges vary widely.

Law

No particular pattern of courses is required for admission to law schools. Students should plan to take the Law School Admission Test no later than December of the senior year. The following courses will assist students to prepare for this test: POLS 225, 322, 361-363, 401; ACCT 202-203; COMM 206, 304; PHIL 100, 123; and courses in English literature, composition, and world languages. During the sabbatical leave (2012-13) of the pre-law advisor, Dr. Marc Sable, Department of History and Political Science students interested in pre-professional preparation in law should consult either Virgil Thompson, Associate Professor of Accounting or William Kiefer, Executive Vice President and General Counsel.

Bethany College has also established, in conjunction with Duquesne University in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, an innovative three-three program which permits a student to complete three years of undergraduate work at Bethany and then enter the Duquesne University Law School for completion of the J.D. degree after three more years of study (four years in the Evening Division). Students receive a bachelor's degree from Bethany upon successful completion of the first year of the law program and having completed all college-wide requirements for a Bethany degree. Additional information about this program may be obtained from the office of the Dean of the Faculty.

Ministry

Students planning to enter church vocations complete their preparation in seminaries and graduate schools of religion after completing their undergraduate studies at Bethany. A solid and broad base in liberal arts is recommended as preparation for seminary studies. Students should consider taking courses in Religious Studies, History, English, Literature, Philosophy, Psychology, Social Work, and World Languages and Cultures. Students interested in ministerial careers should contact the Department of Humanities.

Pre-Physical Therapy

Preparation for graduate programs in Physical Therapy is available through one of the majors in the Department of Psychology: Psychology with a Pre-Physical Therapy Emphasis (requirements are listed in the Psychology section of this Catalogue). Students interested in pre-professional preparation in physical therapy should consult the pre-physical therapy advisor, Professor John H. Hull, Department of Psychology.

Other Professions

Bethany also provides thorough preparation for professions in the fields of business administration, communication media, public administration, teaching at all levels, social work, and many more. For assistance with academic and career planning, students are encouraged to contact individual academic departments, as well as the College's Office of Career Counseling and Placement.

Dual Degree Programs

Carnegie Mellon University

In cooperation with H. John Heinz III School of Public Policy and Management at Carnegie Mellon University in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, Bethany College offers accelerated master's programs to qualified Bethany students. Students attend Bethany College for their Freshman, Sophomore, and Junior years followed by three to four semesters at the Heinz School. Students who successfully complete the program are awarded a bachelor's degree from Bethany College and a master's degree from Carnegie Mellon University in less time than would normally be required to achieve both.

The following cooperative programs are available:

- Master of Science in Public Policy and Management
- Master of Science in Health Care Policy and Management
- Master of Science in Biotechnology and Management
- Master of Arts Management
- Master of Information Systems Management
- Master of Science in Information Security Policy and Management

Students pay tuition and fees to Bethany College from their First-Year through Junior years. They pay tuition and fees to Carnegie Mellon for their graduate program, either three or four semesters beyond the completion of the junior year, depending upon program. Certain courses taken at Carnegie Mellon University may be applied to major requirements for Bethany College as determined by the department concerned. Bethany College students are eligible for scholarship support from Bethany for their First-Year through Junior years. They will be eligible for scholarship support from the Heinz College for the length of their graduate program. For additional information about these programs, please contact the office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs and Dean of the Faculty.

Case Western Reserve University and Columbia University

In cooperation with Case Western Reserve University and Columbia University, Bethany College permits students to earn both a bachelor's degree from Bethany and a B.S. in engineering from a cooperating school upon completion of a five-year sequence.

Students spend three years in the liberal arts environment at Bethany and then attend Case Western Reserve University or Columbia University for an additional two years. Students interested in engineering should plan to take Physics 201-202 and Mathematics 201-202 during their first year. Other courses should be chosen with regard to the particular subfield within engineering that interests the student. Students considering this program should contact the pre-engineering advisor Dr. Robert Spangler to plan their degree program.

Duquesne University

In cooperation with Duquesne University in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, Bethany College has established an innovative three-three program which permits a student to complete three years of undergraduate work at Bethany and then enter the Duquesne University Law School for completion of the J.D. degree after three more years of study (four years in the Evening Division).

Students receive a bachelor's degree from Bethany upon successful completion of the first year of the law program and having completed all college-wide requirements for a Bethany degree. Additional information about this program may be obtained from the office of the Dean of the Faculty.

Digital Design Program With The Art Institute of Pittsburgh

Bethany College Communications and Media Arts Department administers a program in conjunction with the Art Institute of Pittsburgh (AIP). Communications and Media Arts majors spend their junior year in the city of Pittsburgh taking classes at AIP and graduate from Bethany with an emphasis in digital design. Students complete courses in the Communications and Media Arts major for three years and at AIP in digital design for one year. For more information, contact M.E. Yancosek Gamble, Chair, Communications and Media Arts Department.

Internships

Students may spend a semester combining practical professional experience with formal off-campus study. A student wishing to do this must obtain full-time employment in the chosen area and arrange independent study credit which integrates this work experience with formal theoretical study.

A written proposal, signed by the faculty member responsible for supervising and evaluating the internship program, must provide a description of the student's goals in undertaking the program, a description of the experience including a summary of responsibilities and the name of the supervisor, a description of the formal independent study course work, an explanation of the way in which the program will integrate the work experience and the formal independent study course work, and a description of the methods to be used in supervising and evaluating the entire project.

Students may earn eight credits upon satisfactory completion of the project. No additional academic work may be taken during the semester of the project.

Study Abroad

Qualified students may earn academic credit for formal study completed in a country other than the United States. To be eligible for study abroad, a student should normally have junior standing. Approval by the faculty International Education Committee is also required. Several programs for study abroad are part of the Bethany curriculum. A student enrolled in one of them remains registered at Bethany and may remain eligible for some forms of financial aid. Students and their advisors should consult with the Director of Financial Aid before registering for a study abroad program. For information on any of the Bethany College Study Abroad Programs below, contact Dr. Harald Menz, Director of International Studies.

Heidelberg Program

Qualified Bethany students may enroll for a semester or a full year in such courses as German language, literature, history, and civilization courses at the Pädagogische Hochschule in Heidelberg, Germany. The first four weeks are spent in an intensive language course at a Goethe Institute. The Bethany representative and former Bethany exchange students from Heidelberg serve as counselors to Bethany's students while they are at Heidelberg.

Paris Sorbonne Program

By special arrangement with the Sorbonne, qualified Bethany students may enroll for a semester or a full year in its Cours de Langue et de Civilisation Française. A Bethany representative in Paris serves as counselor to Bethany's students during their stay at the Sorbonne.

Seigakuin Program

By special arrangement with the Seigakuin University of Saitamaken, Japan, qualified students may enroll for a semester or full year for studies in a variety of subjects or arrange for independent studies. Courses in Japanese language and culture are offered. A Bethany representative at Seigakuin University serves as counselor to Bethany students during their stay in Japan.

Spain Study Program

By special arrangement with the University of Navarra in Pamplona, qualified Bethany students may enroll for a semester or full year. A Bethany representative at the University of Navarra serves as counselor to Bethany's students during their stay in Pamplona.

United Kingdom Programs

Bethany College makes three programs for study in the United Kingdom available to its students. Enrollment is limited. Students make application for the programs through the Honors Committee. Restrictions on the use of financial aid resources may apply.

Harlaxton College Program

Qualified Bethany students may enroll in either the fall or spring semester at Harlaxton College, near Grantham, Lincolnshire. Students choose from the full range of curriculum offerings at Harlaxton College, including courses that traditionally meet general education requirements, as well as a British Studies course which features an interdisciplinary approach to the analysis of English culture. Harlaxton College is owned and operated by the University of Evansville (Indiana).

Oxford Program

Qualified Bethany students may enroll in either the fall or spring semester as affiliate students at an Oxford College through the Oxford Study Abroad Program. They take tutorials with Oxford faculty, have library, dining, and social privileges at their affiliate college, and enjoy other University privileges.

Regent's College Program

Qualified Bethany students may enroll in either the fall or spring semester at Regent's College, London. Regent's offers a broad range of courses, including many which meet regular Bethany graduation requirements, as well as special courses designed to take advantage of its London/United Kingdom setting. Internships may also be available

InterAmerican Consortium of Higher Education

The InterAmerican Consortium of Higher Education, composed of six U.S. colleges and universities and eleven international institutions, provides study abroad opportunities for students of member institutions. U.S. members include Bethany College, Elmira College, Lake Erie College, Lewis University, Neumann University, and Wesley College.

The consortium presently operates in collaboration with Universidad Interamericana of Costa Rica and Panama. Additionally, the consortium has relationships with institutions in Australia, Bulgaria, Honduras, Italy and France. Other partnerships are pending.

East Central Colleges Exchange Programs

As a result of Bethany College's participation in the now defunct East Central Colleges, students may still benefit from a series of exchange agreements developed by the consortium of East Central Colleges and administered through Muskingum University, qualified Bethany students may remain registered at Bethany while living and studying for a semester or full year at one of nine institutions around the world.

Other Programs

Bethany students have participated in additional programs for study abroad. The Director of International Studies can provide interested students with information about such programs.

Appalachian College Association

Bethany College is a member of the Appalachian College Association (ACA), a non-profit consortium of 36 private two- and four-year liberal arts colleges and universities spread across the central Appalachian mountains in Kentucky, North Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia, and West Virginia. From its headquarters in Berea, Kentucky, the ACA helps develop and share ideas, information, programs, and resources in such areas as faculty development, library and information technology services, student-centered research and service projects, and international travel.

The Washington Center

The Washington Center for Internships and Academic Seminars enables students to earn college credit for full-time Washington-based internships and short-term academic seminars. Participants in the program must be recommended by the campus liaison, Professor Clinton W. Maffett, Department of History and Political Science, and have the approval of the Vice President for Academic Affairs.

State Government Study

The Department of History and Political Science administers a program in conjunction with the West Virginia University Foundation in which an outstanding junior or senior is selected each year to spend one week studying the three branches of state government in Charleston, West Virginia. Students may earn two credits for participating in this program.

Online Consortium of Independent Colleges and Universities

Bethany College is a member of the Online Consortium of Independent Colleges and Universities (OCICU). All consortium members are regionally accredited, independent, not-for-profit liberal arts institutions. OCICU is managed by New Ventures of Regis University in Denver, CO. Through membership to the OCICU, Bethany is able to make online courses offered by more than 60 other Consortium members available to students at Bethany College.

Bethany students may take online work during the summer term only and earn up to twelve credits total to be applied toward graduation. Departments determine which courses would be acceptable from a list provided by OCICU. Students register through the Bethany system and their grades are then added to their Bethany transcripts upon completion of the course. For a complete list of the courses available, contact the Office of the Registrar.

Programs for International Students

The American College Experience

The American College Experience program is designed to provide students or young professionals who have never been to the United States with the opportunity to develop their knowledge of American culture and to improve their language proficiency in English. Applicants must provide evidence of English language skills by submitting results of the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL). Students participate in a number of courses selected from the regular curriculum and are awarded a certificate at the end of either a one or two-semester experience.

The Pre-MBA Program

The pre-MBA program provides post-undergraduate preparation for admission into a Master of Business Administration program. The program is open only to students who have already completed a baccalaureate degree or its equivalent and who provide evidence of English language skills by submitting results of the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL). A certificate is awarded at the end of the two-semester sequence.

External Programs

Bethany College develops special programs for older adults through intensive, short-term residential and off-campus seminars, institutes, courses, and workshops. These programs generally serve business, industrial, educational, professional, and church organizations.

Each summer, the Bethany campus and facilities are used for camps for youth, including camps for sporting activities, church groups, and musical groups. Retreats and workshops also are conducted on the Bethany campus.

Library and Information Technology Services

The Mary Cutlip Center for Library and Information Technology Services facilitates teaching and learning at Bethany College by providing a rich collection of resources and equipment, knowledgeable staff, and support services for the campus community.

Library: The T.W. Phillips Memorial Library serves the Bethany College community by helping users identify, select, access, and evaluate information resources in a variety of formats both in-house and through the Internet. Local holdings include:

- More than 250,000 physical items: books, periodicals, newspapers, audiovisuals, and archival materials
- A broad yet selective group of online resources: magazines, journals, primary source documents, and eBooks
- Specialized collections: the Grace Ryland and William Henry Robinson Children's Library, the Bethany College Archives, the Center for Campbell Studies, the Upper Ohio Valley Collection, the James Schuyler Poetry Collection and related materials

Bowen Central Library of Appalachia (BCLA): The BCLA has a core collection of more than 100,000 eBook titles representing eleven collections, which continue to grow annually through new purchases. This collection includes:

- ABC-Clio eBook Collection
- The American Civil War: Letters and Diaries
- Cambridge Books Online
- Early American Imprints, Series I: Evans, 1639-1800
- Early Encounters in North America
- EBSCO eBook Shared Collections I-IX & Classic Literature Collection
- Gale Virtual Reference Library
- North American Women's Letters and Diaries
- Palgrave eBook Collection
- Springer eBook Collection
- Wiley Interscience (eBooks)

The BCLA also purchases or annually subscribes to eight database collections; including journals, reference materials, digital images, and language learning tools. These collections include:

- ARTstor
- Encyclopedia of Life Sciences
- JSTOR Arts and Sciences I-IV and VII
- Mango Languages
- Oxford Art Online
- Oxford Music Online
- Polling the Nations
- Statesman's Yearbook

Technology Services: Information Technology Services at Bethany College provide support for all areas of campus technology. Facilities and services include:

- multiple open-use computer labs, including two that are available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week (Windows OS computers)
- strategically placed “walk up” computer stations around campus
- high-speed network, basic cable television, and telephone services in all residential halls
- wireless network access in a variety of academic and student life buildings
- computers, projectors, DVD/VCRs, TVs, visual presenters, “smart boards”, etc. for academic needs
- video and sound system equipment for casual use by students, faculty, and staff
- support for campus resources including the Academic Toolbox, email, Inside Bethany, e-storage, Moodle, and the library

For complete information about library and technology services available at Bethany College, including recommended computer specifications, please visit the following websites: www.bethanywv.edu/library/ or www.bethanywv.edu/technology.

Student Online Identify Verification: Bethany College provides an electronic account for each registered student which includes an email account, access to Web Advisor where the students can register for courses and monitor their progress toward degree, and access to the campus course management system called Moodle. Each student is provided a unique user name and password, the protection and confidentiality of which is the student’s own responsibility. Sharing or disseminating user name or password information is prohibited.

McCann Learning Center

The McCann Learning Center, located on the main floor of Cramblet Hall, is a convenient and inviting place on campus to develop or enhance skills that promote academic success at the college level. Equipped with state of the art technology, the Center houses Academic Support Services, the Writing Center, the Program for Academic and Social Success (PASS), and Disability Services. The Center provides a helpful, relaxed environment that promotes effective studying and academic success.

Academic Support Services: Academic Support Services are available to all Bethany students. Student resources include Supplemental Instruction, study groups, individual content tutors, course-specific software, study and meeting rooms, and study skills media and instruction. Individual and small group study skills workshops are also provided.

Writing Center: The Writing Center is available to assist students with the writing process beginning with generating ideas to publishing products. The professionals and student writing assistants who staff the Writing Center are committed to providing students with the support necessary to become competent writers. The Center is also a place where students can informally share their writings with other students.

Program for Academic and Social Success (PASS): PASS is a specifically designed program for students identified as having specific learning disabilities and/or attention deficit disorders. Students participate in 1:1 appointments with certified, experienced learning specialists to develop the metacognitive and multisensory strategies necessary for college success. A separate application process is required for PASS, and an additional fee based upon the level of services is charged.

Disability Services: Students with documented disabilities are provided accommodations on a case-by-case basis in compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973.

Recreation Facilities

The Thomas Phillips Johnson Recreation Center, Knight Natatorium, Hummel Field House, Sandwen Arena, and various playing fields are available for student use at most hours.

Academic Procedures

Academic Standards Committee

The Academic Standards Committee is composed of members of the Bethany faculty charged with the responsibility of developing policies and procedures for the equitable and efficient administration of the academic machinery in such areas as attendance, the grading system, and academic standards. The Committee reviews students' academic records to apply College policies on such matters as academic standing, probation, eligibility, and dismissal. It evaluates and acts on student appeals for exemptions from established policies.

Academic Standards and Expectations of Educational Integrity

Honesty and academic integrity are essential to Bethany College's purpose and vital intellectual pursuits. Therefore, academic integrity is expected, required, and demanded of all Bethany College students. A student's academic work and conduct should always represent the student's private and personal best efforts and thus should be above reproach. Breaches of academic honesty at Bethany College constitute a violation of the Student Code of Conduct and include acts such as:

Cheating: using unauthorized materials, taking another's work and using it as one's own, providing work to another student to copy or adapt, allowing another to do one's work and submitting it as one's own, obtaining inappropriate assistance from another or from other sources during a quiz or test, sharing work via technological means with others without authorized permission, unauthorized collaboration on an assignment, or doing anything that would allow anyone to gain an unfair advantage over another's academic success;

Collusion: an agreement or cooperation between two or more people for a fraudulent or deceitful purpose, or the approval or knowledge of another's fraudulent or deceitful purpose;

Plagiarism: taking another's work and presenting it as one's own without citing or failing to document appropriate sources;

Fabrication: unauthorized creation or invention of any data, information, or citation;

Procedure for Dealing with Violations of Academic Integrity

Consequences resulting from violations of academic integrity in a class may range from failure for the particular assignment to failure for the course in accordance with the policies articulated in the course syllabus. Additionally, all breaches of academic integrity must be reported to the Office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs. Instructors must:

- Fill out and turn in the "Violation of Academic Integrity Form" to the Office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs. See below for description.
- Provide clear documentation that a violation of academic integrity has occurred. In cases where a group of students or an entire class is accused, the instructor must provide documentation that clearly incriminates each student he or she turns in.
- Agree, along with his or her student, to follow through with the penalty prescribed or, in cases where student and instructor disagree on either the violation or prescribed penalty, agree to follow through with the decision of the Academic Standards Committee. The penalty must be in line with the range of disciplinary actions set out in the instructor's syllabus.
- Inform the student of his or her intentions to turn in the form.
- Request, in cases where the instructor believes a particular violation of academic integrity merits a penalty more severe than failure of the course, a hearing with the Academic Standards Committee. In cases such as these the instructor writes a letter detailing the case, attaches appropriate copies of evidence, and requests a hearing (see section 7.6.1.1.3 of the Bethany College Policy Manual, Vol. VII, Student Life and Development Policies). The Academic Standards Committee reviews the merits of the case and decides whether or not it will hold a formal hearing.

Violation of Academic Integrity Form

In cases where a violation of academic integrity has been clearly identified, instructor and student must fill out the Violation of Academic Integrity Form, or if the student refuses or is unavailable to meet with the instructor, the instructor fills out the form on his or her own and documents an attempt at written contact with the student concerning the violation.

If the student admits to the violation and agrees to the penalty which the instructor prescribes, the instructor fills out Part A of the form, attaches the necessary documentation, and both parties sign it. The instructor then provides the form to the office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs, to be placed in a file under the student's name.

In situations in which (1) the student disagrees with the instructor's claim that he or she has committed a violation of academic integrity, (2) the student wishes to appeal the instructor's penalty for the infraction, or (3) the student refuses or is unavailable to meet with the instructor, the instructor also fills out Part B of the form.

In all cases, the instructor delivers the Violation of Academic Integrity Form to the Office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs. The form is copied for the student's file and forwarded to the Academic Standards Committee (see section 7.6.1.1.3 of the Bethany College Policy Manual, Vol. VII, Student Life and Development Policies for procedures).

Compounded Violations of Academic Integrity

Forms recording first-time violations of academic integrity are filed in the Office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs and result in no further discussion or repercussion so long as the student and instructor follow through with the prescribed penalties and the student accumulates no further violations of academic integrity. In cases where Part B of the Academic Integrity Violation Form is used and the Academic Standards Committee finds reason to clear the student of charges, the student may request to have the form removed from his or her file.

Second-time violations of academic integrity are noted when a second form is filed. Second-time violations result in both instructor-mandated penalties and a mandatory meeting with the Vice President for Academic Affairs. Failures to attend such meetings are referred to the Academic Standards Committee.

Third-time violations of academic integrity are noted when a third form is filed. Third-time violations are referred by the Vice President for Academic Affairs to the Academic Standards Committee and may result in a recommendation of expulsion, suspension, or other appropriate action.

Activity Courses

Some courses which emphasize practice and performance are considered activity courses. Of the 128 semester credits required for a Bethany College degree, no more than eight credits may be earned in activity courses and no more than four of these eight credits may be earned in activity courses offered by a single department. However, a student may enroll in additional activity courses which will be listed on official transcripts and become part of the student's cumulative record.

Change of Schedule

During the first five class days of each semester, a student, with the approval of the advisor, may drop or add any course. No courses may be added after this time. To withdraw from a course the student must follow the procedures established by the Office of the Registrar.

Class Attendance Policy

A student is expected to attend all class meetings and laboratory, discussion, and practice sessions of courses and to participate in outside activities that are part of the courses. Upon enrolling for any course at Bethany College, a student accepts the requirements of that course as binding, including the instructor's attendance policy as stated in the syllabus.

The number of absences that are acceptable and the manner in which they are handled are the prerogative of the instructor. An absence, for whatever reason, does not excuse a student from meeting the full requirements of the course. Students recognize that many class activities can neither be replicated nor made up and that absences are likely to be detrimental to the student's performance.

Classification of Students

Students attain sophomore standing when they have earned 25 credits, junior standing when they have earned 60 credits, and senior standing when they have earned 94 credits.

Students are not considered candidates for the baccalaureate degree until they have earned senior classification, have filed an application to take the Senior Comprehensive Examination in the major, and have filed an application for a degree.

Course Load

A full-time student is defined as any student carrying at least 12 credits during a semester. Normally a student enrolls for 15 to 18 credits each semester. A course load exceeding 18 credits is always considered an overload. Permission to enroll for additional credits must be obtained from the Vice President for Academic Affairs. Applications for excess credits are available in the Office of the Registrar.

Students enrolled for more than 18 credit hours in the Fall or Spring Semester will be charged $675 for each credit hour beyond 18 in addition to the regular full-time tuition.

Course Offerings

Most courses listed among departmental offerings are offered annually. Some, however, are offered every other year and a few are offered in three-year cycles. Students should see their advisors or respective department chairs for a long-range course plan.

Cross-Listed Courses

When a course which is part of a department's requirements for its major may be taken for credit in more than one department, a student majoring in that field may register for the course in any department in which it is listed, but the course will count as part of the maximum credit which may be earned by the student within the major department.

Degree Completion

As prescribed by the Charter and Bylaws of the institution, granting a degree from Bethany College is a three-step process involving the Registrar, the Faculty, and the Board of Trustees. The Registrar conducts a graduation audit on the date final grades are due at three points in the academic calendar: 1) at the end of the Fall Term; 2) at the end of the January Term; and, 3) and at the end of Spring Term. These dates are listed in the College Calendar which appears on Page 2 of the Catalogue.

Only the names of those students who have completed all the requirements for the degree by one of the dates noted above will be submitted to the Faculty at its next regularly scheduled meeting, at which time the Faculty nominates the members of the list for degree. The President then presents the list to the Board of Trustees which then confers the degree. Commencement exercises are held once each year, in May, at which time all degree recipients for that academic year receive their diplomas. All students who are candidates for graduation must resolve their financial obligations to the institution prior to their nomination for a degree, and transcripts will be withheld until the financial obligation is satisfied.

Grade Discrepancies

Any grade that has been submitted to the Registrar by an instructor is considered final. Grades may not be changed by allowing a student to do additional work (e.g. retaking exams, rewriting papers, extra credit projects, or other assignments not outlined in the course syllabus); by any change in course requirements that did not apply to all students enrolled in that particular class; or for any purpose other than (1) to correct a demonstrated error in calculation or recording; (2) pursuant to a confirmed finding of academic integrity violation (see Academic Standards and Expectations of Educational Integrity), or (3) pursuant to a decision in a student academic grievance.

If a student wishes to appeal a grade that the student believes has been erroneously or unjustly determined, the student must try to resolve the issue through informal discussions with the instructor. If no mutually satisfactory resolution is reached and the student wishes to pursue the appeal the student must adhere to the following procedure:

- No later than 14 days into the semester immediately following the semester for which the grade report in question was recorded, the student must send to the course instructor a written request for a change in the grade. The written communication must contain specific details about the graded work (such as grades received on exams, projects, and papers) and must describe the specifics of the potential grade discrepancy. The course instructor must respond within 14 days of receiving the letter to questions raised by the student and correct any grade found to be erroneous or unjust. If the instructor believes that the grade should remain as previously recorded, the response to the student must be a written one. If the instructor is the department chair, the appeal process continues with Step 3.
- Within 14 days of the date on which the response was written, the student may appeal the decision by notifying the instructor's department chair. The department chair will promptly (within 14 days) confer with the student, the course instructor, and such others as may be helpful. The department chair will then consider all materials and conversations to determine whether the criteria designated in the syllabus or announced in the course were used for determining the grade. The department chair will render a decision that will be transmitted in writing to the student and to the course instructor.
- Within 14 days of the date on which the chair's response was written, the student or the instructor may appeal the decision by notifying the Academic Standards Committee (ASC). The ASC will promptly (within 14 days) confer with the student, the course instructor, and such others as may be helpful. The ASC will then consider all materials and conversations to determine whether the criteria designated in the syllabus or announced in the course were used for determining the grades and whether procedures specified were followed in the appeal stages and render a decision transmitted in writing to the student and to the course instructor.
- The student may (within 14 days of the decision by the ASC) make a final appeal of a grade to the Vice President for Academic Affairs/Dean of Faculty

If in any of the appeal stages, the course instructor or department chair does not respond to the formal request in the time specified, the student may immediately take the next step in the procedure. If at any point, the student does not challenge the grade within the deadline specified, the grade will remain as recorded.

Grading System

Letter grades given for Mid-term (reported at the 8th week of each semester) and Final grades and their equivalents in quality points are:

A.....	4.00	B	3.00	C	2.00	D	1.00
A-	3.75	B-	2.75	C-	1.75	D-	0.75
B+.....	3.25	C+	2.25	D+.....	1.25	F	0.00

Students are required to take at least 100 credits of letter-graded work.

Grades mean: A, Superior; B, Excellent; C, Average; D, Below Average; F, Failure.

INC Incomplete. No quality points or credits will be awarded or counted toward the calculation of a student's grade point average for incompletes unless the student is already on probation Poor academic performance is not, in and of itself, a reason for an INC. An incomplete must be removed by the end of the fourth week of class of the following semester, unless an extension of time is granted by the instructor and the registrar is notified. It is the student's responsibility to submit an application for an extension of time signed by the instructor of the course and submitted to the registrar in a timely manner. Four weeks after the beginning of the following semester, an INC will be recorded as an “F” and averaged into the student’s grade point average. The grade can be changed within one year from the date the incomplete was submitted to the registrar’s office if the instructor accepts the work in question. After one year, an INC will be permanently recorded as an “F”.

*If a student is already on academic probation, an incomplete will be averaged into the calculation of the grade point average as an “F”. These students must complete all work before the beginning of the next semester.

Students with an INC will not be eligible for the Dean’s List or the President’s List or consideration for honors until the INC is removed.

CR Credit. No quality points.

NCR No-Credit. No quality points or academic penalty.

W Withdrawal. Indicates withdrawal from a course before the end of the ninth week of a full-semester course or before the fifth week of a half-semester course. Carries no quality points or credits.

WP Withdrawal while passing. Indicates withdrawal while passing from a course after the ninth week of a full-semester course or after the fifth week of a half-semester course. Carries no quality points or credits.

WF Withdrawal while failing. Indicates withdrawal while failing from a course after the ninth week of a full-semester course or after the fifth week of a half-semester course. Carries no quality points or credits.

SP Satisfactory Progress on Senior Project. No quality points.

UP Unsatisfactory Progress on Senior Project. No quality points.

AUD Audit.

NG No grade. Used at mid-term only.

Any upper-class student who carries 12 credits of letter-graded academic work may elect to take additional work on a Credit-No Credit basis in courses which are not used for the major, a minor, or any graduation requirement. First-Year students may not take academic courses on a Credit-No Credit basis, with the exception of FSEM 112 Connections.

Graduation Audit

All students must inform the Registrar of their anticipated degree completion date by registering for the appropriate graduation audit section (course number 495 in each curriculum offering a major) two semesters prior to the semester in which they expect to have completed all graduation requirements. Registration for this course initiates a graduation audit process to verify that all requirements for graduation are scheduled to be met by the anticipated degree completion date.

Independent Study

Each department offers independent study for those students who have demonstrated the ability to work individually in some area of special interest. The student selects an area of study, subject to the approval of the chair of the department. Upon approval, the student then completes an Application for Independent Study in the Office of the Registrar before the start of the semester. First-Year students may not register for independent study courses. Independent study courses are not offered in courses that are being offered in the current semester.

Probation and Dismissal

A satisfactory scholastic record at Bethany requires a student to have a semester’s grade point average of at least 1.70 during the freshman year, 1.80 during the sophomore year, and 2.00 during the junior and senior years. For purposes of determining this average the Fall semester and the following January Term will be considered together and the Spring semester and May Term will be considered together. Students who have failed to meet the academic standards expected by the College are placed on academic probation.

Academic probation is a warning that academic performance is unsatisfactory and that unless significant improvement is made, continuation at Bethany will not be permitted and the student will be dismissed. At the end of a semester on probation; the Academic Standards Committee reviews a student’s entire academic record. Academic dismissal is a result of back-to-back semesters on academic probation, a third time on academic probation although not in consecutive semesters or a GPA of less than 0.500. Students who normally would be dismissed because of Bethany College standards may have academic probation extended if their cumulative GPA is 2.00 or greater. Students who believe their grades are a result of unusual or extenuating circumstances may appeal their dismissal to the Academic Standards Committee for its review and an exception to college standards. The ASC’s decision may be appealed to the Vice President for Academic Affairs /Dean of Faculty for a final decision. The procedure and deadlines for appeal are attached to the probation and dismissal letters. Specific policies regarding multiple scenarios may be found in Appendix One of Volume VI: Academic Policies posted on the Bethany homepage at: www.bethanywv.edu/PolicyManual/Vol6.pdf.

Special Examinations

A student justifiably absent from a final examination or a test given in connection with regular class work is permitted to take a special test without payment of fees with the consent of the instructor and approval of the Vice President for Academic Affairs. For any other special examination a fee must be paid at the Business Office before the examination is taken, and the proper receipt must be presented to the instructor at the time of the examination.

Transcript of Records

Students wishing transcripts of records in order to support applications for graduate or professional school, to transfer to other schools, or for other purposes should make application to the Office of the Registrar at least one week before the transcript is needed. Transcripts are issued only at the written and signed request of the student, and official transcripts are sent directly to the recipient specified by the student. A fee of $10.00 will be charged for each transcript provided. Fees must accompany the request. All financial obligations to the College must be paid before a transcript is issued.

Withdrawal

A voluntary dismissal is granted to students in good standing who may desire to withdraw from the College if they have satisfied to their academic advisors and a responsible officer of the College that there is good reason to justify such action. Students asking to withdraw must contact the Office of the Dean of Students for procedural details. No withdrawal is considered complete until this procedure has been carried out.

Changes in Regulations

Bethany reserves the right to amend the regulations covering the granting of degrees, the courses of study, and the conduct of students. Attending Bethany College and receiving its degrees are privileges, not rights. The College reserves the right (and the student concedes to the College the right) to require the withdrawal of any student at any time.

Recognition Awards

Awards are made by the President and by the Honors Committee in accordance with the requirements of a particular endowed fund. Each year, Bethany offers entering students its Kalon Leaders Program in which participants vie for tuition grants that can be renewed for four years, regardless of financial need. Selection is based upon past leadership achievements, secondary school record, a required essay, references, and interviews by Bethany faculty, current students, and alumni.

Achievement Recognition

Bethany encourages achievement in scholarship and leadership in student affairs by public recognition at Commencement, Honors Day, and other suitable occasions.

Graduation Honors

Students who have done academic work of unusual merit are graduated with honors: Summa Cum Laude (3.85); Magna Cum Laude (3.65); Cum Laude (3.35).

Departmental Fellowships

Departments have the ability to create fellowships for their students, which may be funded or honorary at the discretion of the department. The criteria for these fellowships are determined by the department but are generally given to majors who excel in the department and are employed by the department. See the chair of each department for information about their fellowships.

President's List

At the end of each semester students who have demonstrated exemplary academic accomplishment by achieving a grade-point average of 4.00 and have completed at least 12 graded credits during the semester are designated as members of President's List.

Dean's List

At the end of each semester students who have demonstrated a high level of academic achievement (grade-point average of 3.65 or better) and have completed at least 12 graded credits during the semester are designated as "Students Distinguished in Scholarship" and, thus, members of the Dean's List. This distinction is determined by the Honors Committee.

Honor Societies

A number of honor societies have been established at Bethany through the years to recognize academic achievement and campus leadership.

All-College

Bethany Kalon is a junior and senior society established in 1948 to give recognition to students of high character who have demonstrated competent and unselfish leadership in student activities and have been constructive citizens of the College community. Selection is made by members of the society with the advice and approval of the Honors Committee.

Gamma Sigma Alpha is the National Academic Greek Honor Society that recognizes the overall scholastic achievements of Greek students. The society is open to junior and senior students who maintain at least a 3.5 grade-point average and are members of a Greek fraternity or sorority

Gamma Sigma Kappa is a scholastic society founded at Bethany in 1932. Degree-seeking students who have achieved a high cumulative scholarship index (over at least four consecutive semesters, provided that in no semester their scholastic index falls below a 3.00 and provided they have completed at least 12 graded credits in each of the semesters) may, upon recommendation of the Honors Committee, be considered for membership. No more than 10 percent of any class will be recommended.

Biology

Alpha Phi Chapter of Beta Beta Beta is for students of the biological sciences. Its purpose is to stimulate sound scholarship, to promote the dissemination of scientific truth, and to encourage investigation into the life sciences.

Chemistry

Pi Alpha Chapter of Gamma Sigma Epsilon, a national chemistry honor society, was established at Bethany in 1989. Its purpose is to promote and recognize interest, scholarship, and research in the field of chemistry. Students are elected from those who have completed a minimum of 16 credits of chemistry with at least a 3.00 grade-point average and an overall grade-point average of 2.75, or from students recommended by faculty in the Chemistry Department.

Communications and Media Arts

Alpha Epsilon Rho, an honor society in the National Broadcasting Society, is for students in telecommunication, television, film, cable, or other programs in electronic media. It promotes leadership and exposes students to telecommunications industries, career preparation, and the development of media education programs. Membership is open to National Broadcasting members who are nominated for scholastic excellence, and/or recognized for creative achievement.

The Society for Collegiate Journalists, a national recognition society in communications and mass media, is designed to stimulate interest in journalism, foster the welfare of student publications, and reward journalists for their efforts, service, and accomplishments.

Epsilon Chi Chapter of Kappa Pi is for students of graphic arts. Its purpose is to uphold the highest ideals of a liberal education, to provide a means whereby students with artistic commitment meet for the purpose of informal study and entertainment, to raise the standards of productive artistic work, and to furnish the highest reward for conscientious effort in furthering the best interest in art in the broadest sense of the term.

Computer Science

Upsilon Pi Epsilon, an international honor society, recognizes excellence and innovation in the field of computer science. Membership is limited to students who are candidates for a degree in computer science who have completed at least 21 credits toward the major including Computer Science I and II (or the equivalent) with a grade-point average of at least 3.0. Members also must display academic achievement, reputation, and creative abilities which deserve recognition and which enhance the stature of the organization.

Economics

Alpha Chapter of Omicron Delta Epsilon, an international honor society in economics, was established in 1960 to recognize excellence in the study of economics. Membership is limited to students who have completed a minimum of 12 credits in economics courses, attainment of at least a 3.0 in both those courses and overall, and be in the top third of their class. Students need not be a declared major in Economics, but must demonstrate a genuine interest in economics in addition to meeting the above requirements.

Education

Kappa Delta Pi is an international honor society in education, and elects those to membership who exhibit the ideals of scholarship, high personal standards, and promise in teaching and allied professions. Selection as a member of Kappa Delta Pi is based on high academic achievement, commitment to education as a career, and a professional attitude that assures steady growth in the profession. Students must have sophomore status and have completed 12 credits in education with a 3.25 grade point average to be considered for membership.

History

Mu Epsilon Chapter of Phi Alpha Theta was established at Bethany in 1967 to recognize excellence in the study of history. Its membership is limited to those students who have completed at least 12 credits of history with a grade-point average of 3.1 or better and with at least a 3.0 grade-point average in two-thirds of all other studies. Members also must rank in the upper 35 percent of their class.

Literature

Sigma Tau Delta is the International English Honor Society that confers distinction for high achievement in English language and literature in undergraduate, graduate, and professional studies. The society is open to English majors who have 12 semester hours in English beyond the College Writing course, an overall GPA of 3.0, an in-major GPA of 3.5, and who are in the top 35% of their class

Mathematics

A 3.0 average in at least 20 credits of study in these fields and standing in the top 35 percent of their class are required for membership.

Social Work

The Phi Alpha Social Work Honor Society strives to provide a close bond among students of social work while promoting humanitarian ideals. Phi Alpha invites into membership those who have attained excellence in scholarship and achievement in social work. Social work majors who have completed at least nine credit hours in the major with a grade point average of 3.25 or higher may join the honor society.

Visual and Performing Arts

Alpha Psi Omega is a national recognition society in dramatics. Students qualify by faithful work in playing major and minor roles or working with technical or business aspects of theatre.

Kappa Pi is an international honorary art fraternity with the purpose of uniting artists who care about art and its role in life. The Epsilon Chi chapter of Kappa Pi was chartered at Bethany in 1973-74 and reactivated in 2006. Membership is limited to those students who have completed 12 credits of Visual Art courses with a grade point average of 3.0 or better and with at least a 3.0 grade point average in all other courses. Members must also produce outstanding artwork.

Sigma Tau Epsilon music honorary promotes participation and appreciation of music by encouraging attendance at recitals, sponsoring field trips to concerts, and providing an opportunity for students of music to meet and exchange ideas. This society also encourages participation in College musical groups and solo recitals while upholding high standards of musical performance. Qualifications for membership include active participation in College musical organizations.

World Languages and Cultures

Delta Phi Alpha aims to promote the study of German language, literature and civilization. Students are eligible for membership with a minimum of two years of college German, a high scholastic standing and an indication of continued interest in the study of German language and literature.

Sigma Delta Pi is an honor society for those who attain excellence in the study of the Spanish language and the literature and culture of the Spanish peoples. Students who are at least second semester sophomores, who have a high scholastic index, and who have completed at least one advanced course in Spanish literature are eligible for membership.

Awards

All-College

Oreon E. Scott Award is presented to the graduating senior who has achieved the highest academic standing over a four-year period of study. The donor of this award was a long-time Bethany trustee and a graduate of the class of 1892.

Francis O. Carfer Prize is given to the senior who, in the judgment of the Honors Committee, has made the most outstanding contribution to the College. Mr. Carfer, a trustee of Bethany College for 29 years, was a graduate of the class of 1909. Recipients of the award must display sound academic accomplishments and characteristics of loyalty, service, and devotion to Bethany.

The John R. Taylor Memorial Award in Liberal Arts is presented annually to a student who demonstrates: exceptional scholastic achievement; service to the College in terms of cross-disciplinary extracurricular activity; and a deep understanding of, and abiding commitment to, the core liberal arts values expressed in the Mission documents of Bethany College. That is, in the words of its founder, Alexander Campbell, “to liberate the individual from ignorance, superstition, vulgar prejudice, and the tyranny of others.” Preference is given to students who have benefited from immersion in an international experience.

Initiated in 2011, the award is named in memory of John R. Taylor, '44, Professor of English Emeritus, a legendary teacher who modeled in life Bethany's finest liberal arts tradition and served Alma Mater well as director of a distinctive, semester-long experience for Bethany students at Oxford University.

Aleece C. Gresham Award, announced each spring at the Darline Nicholson Spring Breakfast honoring senior women, was initiated in 1987 and is presented to a senior woman who has attended Bethany for at least five semesters. To be eligible for selection, senior women must have a grade-point average of at least 2.75, must have participated in and displayed leadership in a variety of co-curricular activities, and must have shown dedication and commitment to Bethany College.

Bethany 2000 Prize recognizes the member of the senior class who has best demonstrated loyalty and commitment to Bethany College through involvement in a wide variety of activities. The recipient must maintain at least a 3.0 grade-point average and demonstrate the characteristics of enthusiasm, dependability, and dedication.

The Pittsburgh Bethany College Club Award is presented to the outstanding woman in the junior class. The award is based on the qualities of leadership, character, conduct, and scholarship. The Club, comprising the Bethany alumnae of Pittsburgh, has placed a plaque in Phillips Hall on which the names of winners are engraved. In addition, an individual gift is made to the recipient. W. F. Kennedy Prize is given to the outstanding man in the junior class. This prize, established by Mr. Kennedy of Wheeling, West Virginia, is awarded on the basis of the student's contribution to the College community life through leadership in activities, in personal character, and in scholarship.

Richard B. Kenney First-Year Leadership Award is granted to a first-year student who has demonstrated outstanding scholarship, leadership, and character at Bethany, who has become actively involved in Bethany, and who has contributed service and devotion to the College community. The student must achieve at least a 3.50 grade-point average during the first year at Bethany. The award honors the late Dr. Kenney, T.W. Phillips Professor of Old Testament Literature, who taught at Bethany from 1964-1986. The award was established by the Freshman Activities Council of 1986-1987.

Research Awards

Gans Fund Awards are presented to juniors, seniors, and graduates of the College who are engaged in approved study and research in some specific field of the sciences at Bethany College or elsewhere. The direct charge is “for the encouragement of research and discovery in the various fields of science.” These awards were established by Wickliffe Campbell Gans of the class of 1870 and Emmet W. Gans in memory of their father and mother, Daniel L. and Margaret Gordon Gans.

Social Groups

Anna Ruth Bourne Award stimulates scholarship among the women's social groups. A silver cup, provided by an anonymous donor in honor of the former distinguished chair of the English Department, is awarded to the recognized women's group whose active membership earns the highest scholarship standing each semester. The group winning the cup for four semesters is presented with a smaller replica as a permanent trophy.

W. Kirk Woolery Award encourages scholarship among the men's social groups. A silver cup, donated by friends of the late Dr. Woolery, a former Dean and Provost of the College, is held by the recognized men's social group or housing organization whose membership (active membership only in the case of fraternities) earns the highest scholarship standing each semester. Any group winning the cup for four semesters is presented with a smaller replica as a permanent trophy.

Travel Awards

Bettie Blanck Travel Award is made to the student whose proposal for international travel best promises to augment study in English literature. The award was established by Thomas A. Hopper, class of 1967, in honor of his mother, a member of the class of 1944.

Vira I. Heinz Awards are granted to up to three sophomore women who have distinguished themselves by leadership, character, and scholarship and whose proposals for international travel most significantly supplement their educational objectives. These awards for summer travel are provided by the fund of the late Vira I. Heinz, recipient of the honorary Doctor of Religious Education degree from Bethany in 1969.

Benjamin Chandler Shaw Travel Award is granted to the junior man who has distinguished himself by leadership, character, conduct, and scholarship and whose proposal for international travel most significantly supplements his educational objectives. The award is funded by the late Dr. Carl Lincoln Schweinfurth in recognition of the late Dr. Shaw, Bethany's George T. Oliver Distinguished Professor of History and Political Science. Dr. Shaw joined the Bethany faculty in 1935, served from 1945 to 1966 as Chair of the Department of History and Political Science, and continued part-time as a faculty member until 1975.

Library Awards

Recipients of the award must have a minimum GPA of 3.0 in the major and overall, maintain active participation in the Social Awareness Club, serve in a leadership capacity in at least one campus organization, and demonstrate dedication to helping peers.

Visual and Performing Arts

Rush Carter Prize in music is presented to a member of the senior class in recognition of outstanding achievement in music. The prize honors the memory of the late Professor Carter, who was a member of the Bethany faculty from 1934 to 1945.

George K. Hauptfuehrer Award in music is sponsored by Sigma Tau Epsilon in honor of the late Professor Hauptfuehrer, Professor of Music and Chair of the Department of Music. The award is presented to a Bethany student who has demonstrated musical excellence and has participated actively in campus musical organizations. Preference is given to seniors.

Charles H. Manion Award is presented to the outstanding senior in Fine Arts who has an emphasis in one of the art areas. The award memorializes Mr. Manion, long-time trustee of Bethany College, who was associated with the steel industry in the Ohio Valley and who enjoyed painting. The award is provided by his daughter, Mrs. Leonard Yurko of Weirton, W.Va.

A. Kenneth Stevenson Theatre Award is presented each year to the outstanding Bethany junior or senior of any discipline who has contributed most significantly to the Bethany College Theatre activity. The award also provides for guest artists to enhance the program in Theatre. Mr. Stevenson, of Washington, Pa., was a long-time supporter of the Bethany College Theatre program until his death in 1979.

Jane Judy Phillips Memorial Award in Theatre is presented to a Bethany student for an outstanding debut season in the Bethany Theatre. Selection of the recipient is made by the faculty of the Department of Visual and Performing Arts. The award honors the late Jane Judy Phillips, who was a volunteer assistant theatre director to her brother, Jennie Steindorf Renner Professor of Fine Arts David J. Judy.

David Judy Prize, an endowed prize, is awarded each year at Honors Day to the senior who has achieved outstanding academic success as a major in Fine Arts at Bethany. The award honors the late David Jones Judy, Jennie Steindorf Renner Professor of Fine Arts. Professor Judy taught at Bethany from 1967 until his retirement in 1993 and served as Chair of the Department of Fine Arts and Director of the Bethany Theatre.

Wes Wagner Award is presented to a Visual Art major who has demonstrated academic accomplishment, outstanding artistic ability, and exceptional creativity. This award was established by Mrs. Ruth Wagner through the Community Foundation for the Ohio Valley, Inc., in memory of her husband, an outstanding artist, teacher, mentor and friend of Bethany from 1967 until his retirement in 1988. Mr. Wagner continued to have a profound impact on the arts community of Wheeling until his death in 2006, and his artistic spirit lives on in art students, artists, and art lovers in the Upper Ohio Valley and beyond.

World Languages and Cultures

Pearl Mahaffey Prize is awarded to the outstanding senior majoring in World Languages and Cultures. The award was established by Mrs. Walter M. Haushalter and other former students of Bethany's Emeritus Professor of Foreign Languages. The prize honors Professor Mahaffey, a faculty member from 1908 until 1949 and a trustee of the College at the time of her death in 1971.

Leonora Balla Cayard Prize is awarded to an outstanding German student. This prize honors Dr. Leonora Balla Cayard who was Professor of German and Chair of the Department of Foreign Languages until her retirement in 1986.

Theodore R. Kimpton Prize is awarded to an outstanding French student. This prize, which is restricted to those students whose native language is other than French, was established by the late Professor Kimpton, Assistant Professor of Foreign Languages at Bethany prior to his retirement from full-time teaching in 1975.

Shirley Morris Memorial Award was established by Theta Chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha in memory of Shirley Morris, a member and past president of the chapter. The award is given to an outstanding student in the field of modern languages. Selection is made by the World Languages and Cultures program.

Margaret R. Woods Prize, sponsored by the Kappa Xi Chapter of Sigma Delta Pi, is awarded to an outstanding Spanish major. The prize honors Professor Woods who was a faculty member from 1943 until her retirement in 1965.

Student Life

Education at Bethany is an experience in integrated living and learning. The College community offers a wide variety of activities, and students are encouraged to participate in those which best complement their educational experiences. Many opportunities for leadership are available.

Bethany encourages mature and responsible citizenship by its students. The Bethany College Policy Manual, Vol. VII, Student Life Policies provides information that depicts the campus climate through statements of the College's mission, goals, and objectives. The Bethany College Policy Manual, Vol. VII, Student Life Policies also explains policies, procedures, and community expectations.

Athletics and Recreation

Bethany College is a member of Division III of the National Collegiate Athletic Association and the Eastern College Athletic Conference. Varsity women's and men's teams participate in the Presidents' Athletic Conference. Members of the Conference, in addition to Bethany, are Chatham, Geneva, Grove City, St. Vincent, Thiel, Thomas More, Washington & Jefferson, Waynesburg, and Westminster. Carnegie Mellon and Case Western Reserve are associate members of the PAC. Men's teams compete in baseball, basketball, cross country, football, golf, lacrosse, soccer, swimming, tennis, and indoor and outdoor track. Women's teams compete in basketball, golf, soccer, softball, tennis, volleyball, cross country, field hockey, swimming, and indoor and outdoor track.

Equestrian is offered as a co-educational club sport.

Each year, club sports provide Bethany students with opportunities to compete as well. Past clubs have included Soccer, Lacrosse, Volleyball, and Softball. Bethany's popular Outdoors Club provides opportunities for hiking, skiing, whitewater rafting, and skydiving for both men and women.

A wide variety of sports is offered to the entire student body through Bethany's intramural program. Facilities for numerous individual or group athletic, health, and recreation activities are located on or nearby the campus.

The Thomas Phillips Johnson Recreation Center provides facilities for excellent recreational activities, including a large gymnasium, fitness arena, a swimming pool, courts for racquet sports, a weight room, and an exercise area. A fitness center in Cummins Community Center allows students 24-hour access to state-of-the-art training equipment.

Career Counseling and Placement

The Office of Career Counseling and Placement (OCCP) assists students and alumni in developing, evaluating, and initiating and implementing their career paths. Career counseling is provided and workshops are offered on such topics as developing resumes, writing cover letters, and preparing for interviews. The OCCP maintains a Career Resource Center which includes career planning literature, job announcements, material on internships, information about graduate and professional schools and graduate program pre-admission, registration, and informational bulletins. The office coordinates a graduate school fair each fall and a job fair each spring. Credential service is available without charge to all students and alumni who register with the OCCP.

Counseling Services

Bethany College provides free on-campus counseling for students who experience non-serious emotional and psychological problems while at college, such as difficult adjustment to college life, relationship issues, stress, depressed mood, substance abuse, and grief. The College Counselor can also provide on-campus support and assistance as needed and in coordination with a student's primary counselor or therapist. Counseling is provided either individually or in a group format.

Students needing non-immediate extensive counseling or counseling for problems beyond the purview of the College Counselor are referred to appropriate off-campus counseling services which are at student expense. Students experiencing a serious emotional or psychological crisis in which they might become a danger to themselves or others should immediately call Campus Security for immediate transportation to a nearby hospital emergency room and its associated mental health services for treatment.

Counseling is kept confidential, and confidentiality will be broken only, as required by law, to prevent harm to the student or others and in cases of ongoing child abuse. Close coordination is maintained between the College Counselor and the college Health Services personnel, as well as with the McCann Learning Center, to ensure optimum support to Bethany students.

Outdoor Opportunities

Bethany offers a wide variety of outdoor experiences. The Bethany Trail System includes four miles of hiking trails spread through the woods surrounding the campus. On College property adjoining the campus are ten miles of mountain biking/hiking trails. An extensive network of hilly back roads offers hundreds of miles of peaceful and challenging bicycling. Bethany Outdoors Club is a student organization which supports adventure initiatives. Examples of recent activities coordinated by Bethany Outdoors Club are skydiving, caving, whitewater rafting, camping, and sailing.

Religious Life

Many diverse religious backgrounds are represented in the student body and faculty. Although participation is voluntary, there are many opportunities for religious activity on campus.

Many students find Bethany Memorial Church an opportunity for expression of their religious faith. The minister of this church, who is also a College Chaplain, is available to students for counseling and advice on personal and religious matters. The Bishop of the Wheeling-Charleston Diocese of the Roman Catholic Church provides a chaplain and chapel for Catholic students. A Priest celebrates Mass each Sunday and on holy days and is available daily for counseling. Jewish congregations in Steubenville and Wheeling sponsor fellowship meetings and entertain Jewish students for the high holidays.

Many students are involved in outreach programs that are coordinated through the Chaplain's office. Habitat for Humanity, Big Brothers Big Sisters, and other local charities benefit from volunteers of the Bethany community.

Residence Life

Residence halls help to shape the experiences of residents and the campus. To foster camaraderie and a sense of community, students are encouraged to become engaged in the activities of their residence halls, as well as of the campus.

Bethany's residence life program offers a variety of living and learning environments. These options include traditional style residence halls, suite style, and apartment living. The apartments provide an opportunity for students to have a private bedroom while sharing a living room, small efficiency kitchen, and a full bath with only three other roommates.

Dining and food options are provided for students, faculty and staff by Bethany College Dining Services, contracted with Chartwells, a division of Compass Group. All students not commuting are required to select one of the variety of meal plans offered. Dining options include the cafeteria, Boomer's, and the Bethany Beanery, as well as catering for special events.

Social Life

The Director of Student Activities is responsible for coordinating College programs. The student-run Student Activities Council is responsible for providing a wide range of activities on campus. These include cultural events, concerts, dances, comedians, and a variety of other activities.

Student clubs and organizations are registered with and funded by the Student Government Association (SGA). Club officers are responsible for budget planning and management. Clubs are available for students with varying interests. Equestrian Club, Outdoor Club, International Relations Club, Foreign Language clubs, Circle K, International Student Association, Math and Computer Science Club, major and departmental clubs are examples of the more than 40 active clubs. Students are encouraged to form new clubs when there is sufficient interest.

Fraternities, sororities, and independent house associations constitute important social groups for upperclass men and women on campus. There are five fraternities and three sororities that are nationally affiliated. Their membership constitutes approximately 40% of the student body. Representatives from each serve on agencies which coordinate fraternal affairs and activities.

Fraternities represented are Alpha Sigma Phi, Beta Theta Pi, Delta Tau Delta, Phi Kappa Tau, and Sigma Nu. Sororities are Alpha Xi Delta, Phi Mu, and Zeta Tau Alpha.

The D. Duane and Suzi Cummins Community Center, a student-managed activity center on campus, provides a place for students, faculty, and staff to go for a workout in the 24-hour fitness facility or to gather for conversation and relaxation.

In the past few years, Bethany programs centering on international business, American business, and American politics, have brought an array of distinguished speakers and visitors to the campus to meet with students and faculty.

Other activities on campus that are well supported by student participation include theatre, a variety of musical groups, intercollegiate and intramural sports, and student-run clubs. The campus media (an online campus newspaper, a yearbook, a magazine, a literary magazine, an internet radio station, and a cable TV station) command much student interest and involvement.

Student Government

The Student Government Association, comprised of representatives from all residence groups and recognized student organizations, manages a substantial budget and disburses funds for student activities and clubs. Students are appointed to some College committees.

Student Health Services

The Robert C. Byrd Health and Wellness Center is an on-campus facility which serves students, faculty, staff, and the community. The student health facility is open and staffed by a nurse on a regular basis. In addition, a doctor is at the health center to see students at specified hours each week.

The college health services are maintained by student fees and all students are entitled to health services at no additional cost. These services include access to nurses and a physician. A charge may be assessed to the student for diagnostics, medical durables, or some medications. These charges may be paid directly by the student or billed to the student's account.

Bethany provides medical, surgical, and hospitalization insurance. All students are automatically included in the coverage from August 10 to August 9 and are charged accordingly unless the appropriate waiver is forwarded to the Business Office.

Expenses for outside consultation and treatment are the responsibility of the student in all cases when not covered by insurance.

All students are required to submit a completed physical and medical history, including immunization dates, before matriculation.

Bethany College strives to educate and provide services for its students on alcohol and other substance use and abuse issues. These efforts are continually refined and improved based on national research, trends, and current information. These efforts are under the leadership of the Dean of Students in coordination with the Health and Wellness Services Staff, Counseling Staff and off-campus certified Alcohol and Substance Abuse Counselors. Efforts include community-wide educational workshops, support groups, and intervention for those in jeopardy.

Student Regulations

The Bethany College Policy Manual, Vol. VII, Student Life Policies contains a complete description of the regulations pertaining to housing, dining facilities, health services, motor vehicles, use of alcoholic beverages, eligibility requirements, and other areas of student life. However, applicants for admission should know the following in advance:

- The College expects and enforces lawful behavior in all matters. Particular emphasis is placed upon respect for the rights of others and upon other principles of good citizenship.
- Bethany College is a residential college and, as such, all students are required to live in College owned housing or for members of Beta Theta Pi and Sigma Nu, in their privately owned fraternity houses. Residential students are expected to be on a board plan. Exceptions may be made if one or more of the following conditions apply:
 - * The student commutes from the address of parents or legal guardians.
 - * The student is a ninth semester senior.
 - * The student is participating in student teaching (only during the applicable semester).
 - * The student is 23 years of age or older.
 - * The student is married or has a dependent child or children.
 - * The student has a serious medical condition necessitating alternative dining conditions (validated by the Director of Health Services).
 - * The student is registered on a part time basis (under 12 credit hours).
- All students (except commuters) are required to board in the College dining hall unless excused by the Department of Student Life. There are three meal plan options to accommodate the diversity of students' tastes. No refunds are granted for missed meals.
- Students are permitted to bring automobiles to campus, provided they submit the appropriate registration documents and fees to the Bethany College Security Office and follow all parking regulations.
- Violations of Bethany College policies and the expectations of conduct stated in the Code of Student Conduct are handled by the Dean of Students in accordance with the Due Process procedures outlined in the Code of Student Conduct. The Code of Student Conduct may be found in the Bethany College Policy Manual, Vol. VII, Student Life Policies.
- A Special Withdrawal Policy exists to allow Bethany College to take action if a student experiences serious physical or emotional problems that may be potentially dangerous and/or life threatening. In order to protect the student and the Bethany community, the College reserves the right to take appropriate action under such circumstances.

Graduate Program

Master of Arts in Teaching

This program is designed for in-service teachers with baccalaureate degrees in Education who already have initial certification. This program will provide those individuals who enroll in the program with a means to obtain a Master's degree and fulfill requirements for continuing professional development. The program also provides a non-certification pathway for individuals whose objective is to utilize their undergraduate degree and previous work experiences in an administrative or support position.

Details of the program, including Program Goals, Admission Criteria, and Requirements for Degree may be found in the Master of Arts in Teaching section of this Catalogue.

Bethany College also participates in Dual Degree Masters Programs with Carnegie Mellon University and Duquesne University for additional information see the section on the Dual Degree Programs in this Catalogue.

Application for Graduate Program

An applicant for admission to the Bethany College MAT graduate program must possess a baccalaureate degree from an American college or university accredited by one of the recognized regional accrediting associations, or the equivalent from an international college or university.

The ordinary standard for regular admission to the MAT program is an undergraduate GPA of at least 2.75 (on a 4.0 scale). Students falling below this level may submit other evidence of their ability to successfully complete a graduate program.

Applicants may be admitted to the Bethany College MAT graduate program in one of the following categories:

Regular Admission: Applicants are admitted under this category when they have satisfied the admissions criteria detailed above.

Conditional Admission: Applicants are admitted under this category when they have a marginal undergraduate record. Applicants will be permitted to take a maximum of six graduate credits in this admission category. Upon completion of six graduate credits, a conditionally admitted student will either be admitted or denied admission into the MAT program based on his/her performance.

Provisional Admission: Applicants who do not meet all of the criteria for Regular Admission, but show reasonable promise for success in the MAT program, may be admitted provisionally. Students will be permitted to begin graduate studies while completing admissions deficiencies.

Graduate Program Expenses, Aid

Charges and fees stated on the following pages apply only to 2012-2013 academic year.

Schedule of Charges 2012-2013

Full-Time Students:	Per Year
Tuition	$450/credit
Technology	$25/credit
Deposits (New students only):
Registration Deposit	$150
Miscellaneous Fees/Fines:
Transcript Fees (official and student issued)	$10
Returned check fee	$25
Teaching Internship Placement fee	$100
Health Insurance	$260
Early Withdraw Fee	$150
Continuous Enrollment Fee	$250
Class Fees (applicable class fees are listed in the College Catalogue)
Parking Fines (applicable fines are listed in the Bethany College Policy Manual, Vol. VII, Student Life Policies)

Billing Information and Dates

Students are expected to register at the times and places announced. Registration is not considered complete until all charges have been paid or arrangements for payments have been made.

Billing/Payment Dates

- Fall Semester 2012 invoices will be issued July 9, 2012 and are due by August 13, 2012.
- Spring 2013 invoices will be issued December 3, 2012 and are due by January 7, 2013.
- A $250 late fee will be imposed if Fall Semester payment (or alternative) is not received by August 13, 2012 and Spring Semester payment by January 7, 2013. The College reserves the right to cancel a student's registration for lack of payment.

Refund Policies

Any notification of withdrawal or cancellation and request for refund must be in writing. A withdrawal form must be completed and all necessary signatures obtained. Oral requests for refunds will not be acted upon.

- Tuition — One hundred percent of the tuition charges, less special course fees, will be refunded if written notification of cancellation is made before the first day of classes. Other refunds of tuition will be made upon receipt of written notification of withdrawal or cancellation according to the following schedule:

Fall and Spring Terms

- * 75% in the first week of the academic period
- * 50% in the second week of the academic period
- * 25% in the third week of the academic period
- * No refund will be made following the third week of the academic period.

The academic period referred to above is the graduate program semester of the College. If a student is enrolled in an academic period of different duration, the refund periods stated above will be adjusted proportionally (in an academic period of one half the length of a normal semester the refund periods above would be one half as long). Refund checks will be issued within thirty days if all financial aid has cleared.

- Discipline — In case of dismissal for breach of college disciplinary rules, no refund will be given.
- Deposits — Any refundable deposit (for example, a key deposit) will first be applied against the student's outstanding balance. If the student's outstanding balance exceeds the refundable deposit, the student will not be entitled to the refund of such deposit.
- Appeals — Students or parents who feel that unusual circumstances warrant exception from published refund policy should submit a written explanation of these circumstances to the Executive Vice President.
- Title IV Federal Financial Aid Recipients — The Refund/Replacement Policy governs the return of Title IV funds when a student withdraws before completing more than 60% of the semester. Funds must be returned to the following sources in specific order until the total amount of the school's responsibility has been satisfied:
 - * Subsidized Direct Stafford Loans
 - * Unsubsidized Direct Stafford Loans

Full Time Status

A graduate student's status as full- or part-time is determined by the number of graduate credits the student carries in a semester. Nine graduate credits per semester is the minimum number of credits a graduate student may carry to be considered a full-time graduate student. Please consult the Office of Business/Finance for costs associated with full-time status.

Unpaid Accounts

Any fees, fines or miscellaneous payments not received by due dates may result in the student being administratively withdrawn from the College. Future registrations will not be allowed, nor grades, diploma, certificates or transcripts provided until balance is cleared. Re-instatement to the College will require payment of amounts due and compliance with the usual re-admission procedures. The student is responsible for all collection agency fees, attorney fees, court costs and other costs necessary for the collection of amounts not paid by the due date. Students whose accounts are assigned to collections may have their credit adversely affected and may have difficulty in obtaining credit in the future.

College Facilities

Buildings

Nearly 40 academic, administrative, and residential buildings are located on the 1,300-acre campus. The principal structures are listed below.

Robert C. Byrd Health and Wellness Center (2001) is a collaborative partnership of Bethany College and the Brooke County Health Department. It offers medical services, public health information and services, and wellness activities for the College and the community.

Campbell Mansion (1793-1818-1840) is the restored home of Bethany's founder and first president, Alexander Campbell. Located 1/2 mile east of the campus, the mansion was designated a National Historic Landmark by the Department of the Interior in 1994. It is open daily for tours from April 1 to October 30, and at other times by appointment through the Office of Historic Bethany.

Campbell Village (2000) is a four-building complex, housing 380 students. Campbell Village was completed in the 2000-2001 academic year.

Centenostone (2002), often identified as one of the most interesting and overlooked historic places on campus, is located in front of Old Main. It was erected in 1941 to mark the one hundredth anniversary of Bethany's first college classes under the direction of Alexander Campbell, the College's founder and first president. In 2002, a brick walkway and decorative chain barrier were constructed around the area and plaques were installed identifying and explaining it and the smaller stones near it, which have been gathered from places of significance in the history of the College and the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ).

Christman Manor at Pendleton Heights (1841) was built during the College's first year by W.K. Pendleton, a member of the first faculty and second president of the College. Pendleton Heights is listed in the National Register of Historic Places. In the fall of 2008, the residence was christened Christman Manor at Pendleton Heights.

Percy B. Cochran Hall (1910, 2010) was named in memory of the son of M.M. Cochran, a longtime benefactor and trustee of the college. From its opening until 1971, it served as a dormitory for male students. Converted to faculty offices in 1974-75, it was again closed in 2001. Completely remodeled in 2009-10, it again serves as a dormitory with suite-style living for 72 students.

Commencement Hall (1872) provides the setting for convocations, concerts, lectures, dramatic presentations, and numerous summer weddings. During 1983-1984, the Hall was restored to its original state.

Cramblet Hall (1905) was constructed through a gift from Andrew Carnegie. Originally the library, it was remodeled in 1961 to house administrative offices. Named in honor of two presidents of the College, Thomas E. Cramblet and his son, Wilbur Haverfield Cramblet, it is now the home of the McCann Learning Center.

Erickson Alumni Center (1992) houses Bethany's Alumni Relations Office, Development Office, Church Relations Office, and Public Information and Publications Office, as well as an Alumni Council Room, the Wilkin Parlor, and the Martin Guest Rooms. Originally part of the McLean-McEachern residence complex, it was completely reconstructed as the result of the gift of Charles O. Erickson, a West Virginia philanthropist whose generosity made possible the creation of alumni centers at colleges and universities throughout West Virginia.

Gresham Inn at Mountainside (1972) is a full-service hotel with 40 guest rooms. Each room has Ethernet and phone line data ports. The Inn is named for Dr. Perry Gresham, Bethany's twelfth president, and his wife, Aleece.

Harder Hall Dining Room (1981) is the conference center dining facility. It adjoins Gresham Inn, the guest facility. Besides serving meals to conference attendees, it is the site of wedding receptions, and anniversary, graduation, and birthday parties. It honors Delmar C. Harder, a pioneer in automation in the American auto industry.

The Hibernia - Renner House (1836), located on Main Street across from the Old Meeting House, was built by Alexander Campbell. Hibernia, Latin for Ireland, is the name of the ship on which Campbell and other members of his family sailed for America from Ireland in 1808. Campbell used the basement of this house as a printing shop. Later, the house served as an inn for the growing town. For many years, students lived in The Hibernia. Additionally, it has served as the home to two Presidents and Vice-presidents of Bethany College.

Hummel Field House (1990) provides physical education facilities for men and women. It is also used for concerts. Formerly Alumni Field House (1948), the building was extensively renovated during 1989-1990. Adjacent to the field house are football, soccer, and softball fields, and a quarter-mile track. A new floor and bleachers were added in the Nutting Gymnasium in 2002.

Judith R. Hurl Education Center (2008), formerly the Bethany Public School (1924). The Center opened in the fall semester of 2008, The Judith R. Hurl Education Center houses state-of-the-art classrooms and Education Department offices.

Grace Phillips Johnson Visual Arts Center (1984) offers facilities for computer graphics, television, painting, sculpture, and design. The Sandra Weiss Berkman Studio for Ceramic Arts is attached to the Center. The building was formerly Irvin Gymnasium (1919). Complete renovation accomplished during 1983-1984 makes this an outstanding facility for instruction in the visual arts.

Thomas Phillips Johnson Recreation Center (1994) includes the John J. Knight Natatorium, Sandwen Arena, racquetball courts, body building facilities, locker rooms, an indoor track, and a general purpose floor that accommodates a number of sports, including basketball, volleyball, and tennis. This building was designed to support general recreation and intramural athletics.

Thomas P. Johnson Jr. College Center (2011) encompasses:

Benedum Commons (1969) is the dining facility for all Bethany students. In addition to the main dining room, the Ogden Room, the building houses Boomer's, lounge facilities, the book store, and several small dining rooms, including The Berkman Room (The Bethany Club), and the Agostino Room for special student and faculty events.

Bethany House (1948) houses the Office of Student Life, Center for Enrollment, Department of Communications and Media Arts, and the Renner Art Gallery. The alumni joined in 1969 with the R.R. Renner family of Cleveland, Ohio, to remodel this facility.

Kirkpatrick Hall of Life Sciences (1999), formerly Oglebay Hall (1912), accommodates laboratories and classrooms for the Biology and Psychology departments. The building, a gift of Earl W. Oglebay of the class of 1869, was renovated and restored in 1998-1999 and renamed the Kirkpatrick Hall of Life Sciences, honoring Forrest H. Kirkpatrick of the class of 1927, long-time professor and dean of the College.

Mountainside Conference Center (1972) is a newly renovated meeting facility with offices, seminar rooms, exhibition areas, and a 100-seat circular conference room. All rooms are equipped with internet connections. Each year the Center hosts conferences, seminars, and workshops. The center is accredited by the International Association of Conference Centers (IACC).

Oglebay Stables (2012) is located ten miles from the campus and serves as the home for the equine studies program and Equestrian Club. The Center is operated under a cooperative contract arrangement.

Old Main (1858) is the centerpiece of Bethany's academic buildings. Its tower dominates the campus and is the chief architectural feature noted as one approaches the College. Old Main is listed in the National Register of Historic Places. The building is one of the earliest examples of collegiate Gothic architecture in the United States. Old Main was designated a National Historic Landmark in 1990. The Aleece Gresham Gardens were placed in front of Old Main in the summer of 1998.

Parkinson Farm (1909) is approximately 800 acres of fields and wooded lands used for educational and recreational purposes.

T. W. Phillips Memorial Library (1959) is the primary center for information technology including library services and resources, campus technology services, and Archives and Special Collections.

Renner Visitors' Center (2002), located adjacent to the Campbell Mansion, is an information and hospitality center which houses the offices of Historic Bethany.

Richardson Hall of Science (1964) provides facilities for the chemistry, physics, and mathematics departments and two computer labs. It is named for Robert Richardson, Bethany's first science professor.

David and Irene Steinman Fine Arts Center (1969) provides facilities for music and theatre. A fully equipped theatre occupies the central portion of the building. Teaching studios, studio-classrooms, rehearsal rooms, costume construction facilities, a general rehearsal room for the larger vocal and instrumental groups, and individual practice rooms support instruction in music and theatre.

Dr. Fred Tilock Amphitheatre (2010) is located on the Pennington Quadrangle (2012) adjacent to Old Main. The facility is used for a variety of events, including Commencement, and was made possible through a gift from the Psi Chapter of Beta Theta Pi fraternity. The Pennington Quadrangle was made possible through a gift from the Pennington family.

Biology

Program Goals for Biology

The Biology program at Bethany College is designed to achieve the following goals for its students:

- To improve and develop writing, oral, and reading skills in scientific communication.
- To experience, develop, and demonstrate an understanding of the scientific method as an approach to problem solving.
- To prepare students for professional and graduate schools and for employment in science related fields.
- To help students see their place in the evolution of living things and to understand the taxonomy and ecology of living things and the student's place in the world of living organisms.
- To provide students with the opportunity to learn basic knowledge from the broad field of Biology.

Requirements for Major in Biology

All students majoring in Biology must complete a minimum of 44 credits in courses in Biology including BIOL 100, 108, 180, 290, 308, 378, 379, 477, 478, 490, and those listed below. All students majoring in Biology must also complete PHYS 201, 202; CHEM 101, 102, 211, and 212; and one of the three following tracks:

Biology Track: BIOL 326; two courses from BIOL 341, 343, 351, 425; one course from BIOL 338, 440, or 442.

Biochemistry Track: BIOL 320, 341 or 343, 351, 352; 8 credits of calculus.

Biology Education Grades 9-12 Track: BIOL 168, 169, 221, 310, 326, 341, 343; GENS 480. The following courses must be completed prior to student teaching: BIOL 100, 110, 168, 169, 180, 290, 308; GENS 480. In addition, one of the following courses must be taken to fulfill the Liberal Arts Core requirement in Mathematics: MATH 105, 201, 202, 281. Only Biology majors who have completed all courses in the track and the courses in the Professional Education Requirements described in the Education section of this Catalogue and on the department's website or in the resource area in the College's courseware solution will be recommended for certification to teach Biology in secondary school.

A semester of calculus is highly recommended. Statistics is recommended for students preparing for graduate work. Students with a special interest in botany should elect BIOL 338 as the course from BIOL 338, 440 and BIOL 442; BIOL 102, 228, and 326 are strongly recommended.

Requirements for Interdisciplinary Major in Environmental Science

The department administers the faculty-initiated interdisciplinary major in Environmental Science. Requirements for the major appear in the listings of the Interdisciplinary Studies section of this Catalogue.

Requirements for Minors in Biology

Botany: BIOL 100, 108 or 110, plus eight credits from BIOL 102, 228, 326, 338.

Environmental Biology: BIOL 100, 108, either 221 or 326, 228, 231.

Zoology: BIOL 100, 180, 308, and four credits from 425, 440, or 442.

Biology Courses

BIOL 100 Modern Concepts in Life Science

4 credits

This course is an introduction to modern concepts of cell biology, metabolism, photosynthesis, nutrition, reproduction, heredity, evolution, behavior, and ecology, emphasizing the process of acquiring biological knowledge. Consideration is given to social and ethical implications of biological issues.

- BIOL 102 Horticultural Science 3 credits
This course is an examination of the scientific concepts on which horticulture is based. Emphasis is placed on the study of the plant, the basis of all horticulture activities. The subject of hydroponics is considered, and plants are grown hydroponically in the green house.
- BIOL 107 Human Biology 4 credits
The study of Human Biology including elements of cell biology, genetics, anatomy, and physiology, disease, immunity, evolution, ecology, and the impact of humans on the environment. (Not open to Biology majors.)
- BIOL 108 Botany 4 credits
This course provides a comprehensive overview of plants, including diversity, evolution, anatomy, physiology, and ecology with an emphasis on experimentation and scientific writing.
- BIOL 110 Plants, People, and Environment 4 credits
This course is a study of plant life, including the evolution of the various groups of plants, and an introduction to the morphology and anatomy of vascular plants, plant genetics, and the functional life processes of plants. Some economic and ecological problems such as world climate change are also examined.
- BIOL 168 Introduction to Mammalian Anatomy and Physiology I 3 credits
This course is a study of mammalian anatomy as exemplified in the cat. Included are discussion and study of the following: the functioning of cells and the integumentary, skeletal, muscular, nervous, sensory, and endocrine systems; lab study of the anatomy of the cat; human physiology. (This course may be taken for credit as PHED 168.) Not open to Biology majors.
- BIOL 169 Introduction to Mammalian Anatomy and Physiology II 3 credits
This course is a study of mammalian anatomy as exemplified in the cat. Included are discussion and study of the following: the functioning of the cardiovascular, lymphatic, respiratory, digestive, urinary, and reproductive systems; lab study of the anatomy of the cat; human physiology. (This course may be taken for credit as PHED 169.) Not open to Biology majors.
- BIOL 180 Invertebrate Zoology 4 credits
This course is a structural, functional, and evolutionary study of the major invertebrate phyla.
- BIOL 205 Emergency Medical Training 3 credits
This course studies medical, communication, and transportation records and report instructions as required for certification by the West Virginia Department of Health for emergency medical technicians. (Red Cross advanced first aid certificates may be earned by those passing the examination.)
- BIOL 221 Introduction to Environmental Science 3 credits
This course is a study of processes of the lithosphere, hydrosphere, biosphere, and atmosphere, and of the human impact on the environment. Included are the consideration of ethical problems related to the environment and a review of environmental laws and government agencies. Prerequisites: CHEM 101, 102.
- BIOL 228 Field Botany 2 credits
This course is an introduction to the taxonomy of vascular plants, with emphasis on the local flora and on the techniques of herbarium science.
- BIOL 231 Ornithology 3 credits
This course is a study of the anatomy, behavior, and identification of birds.
- BIOL 250 Biological Rhythms 2 credits
This course is a study of circadian and other rhythms in living organisms including humans. Emphasized are the physiological and behavioral aspects of rhythms.
- BIOL 251 Endocrinology 3 credits
This course is a study of various endocrine glands and their hormonal regulations of diverse physiological functions in health and disease.
- BIOL 280 Animal Nutrition 3 credits
This course is a study of the nutritional and feeding requirements of domesticated species. Topics discussed include comparative physiology of the digestive systems of domesticated animals, nutrient categories, basic ration formulation, including uses of concentrates, nutrient supplementation, and forages.
- BIOL 290 General Genetics 4 credits
This course is a synthesis of basic genetic principles and modern molecular theory.
- BIOL 291 Animal Genetics and Breeding 3 credits
This course is a study of the application of genetic and breeding principles to production of domesticated species. Genetic and environmental bases of variation and methods in quantitative genetics are discussed. Emphasis is placed on the utilization of selection and mating systems and planned breeding programs.
- BIOL 308 Comparative Vertebrate Anatomy 4 credits
This course compares the anatomy of representative forms of vertebrates and includes laboratory study of the comparative anatomy of the shark, other lower vertebrates, and the cat.

BIOL 310	Evolution	2 credits
This course is an examination of evidence for the theories of evolution with special attention to the modern synthesis of genetic and ecological factors. Also considered are the implications of evolution for religious thought. Prerequisite: An elementary course in Biology or permission of the instructor.
BIOL 320	Physical Chemistry I with Biological Applications	4 credits
This course is an introduction to the nature of thermodynamics including equilibrium processes. Applications of physical concepts to systems of biochemical and biological interest are included. Studies of chemical and phase equilibria complete the course. (This course may be taken for credit as CHEM 320.) Prerequisites: CHEM 212 and MATH 202 or permission of the instructor.
BIOL 326	Ecology	3 credits
This course is a study of the general principles of ecology of microorganisms, plants, and animals. Special emphasis is on field study of several communities.
BIOL 338	Plant Anatomy and Physiology	3 credits
This course is an examination of morphology and anatomy of the vascular plants and a study of the fundamental life processes of plants: growth; reproduction; irritability; metabolism; and hormonal control.
BIOL 341	Cell Biology	3 credits
This course is an introduction to the structure and physiology of the eukaryotic cell.
BIOL 343	Microbiology	4 credits
This course is a study of morphology and physiology of microorganisms, principles of lab technique, and cultural characteristics and environmental influences on microbial growth.
BIOL 351	Molecular Biology and Biochemistry I	4 credits
This course is an introduction to the structural organization and chemical composition of cells and to fundamental chemical processes carried on inside organelles. Included are enzymatic action, transport across biological membranes, and basic metabolic pathways as they relate to cell structure. The laboratory focuses on current techniques for the isolation and analysis of basic biomolecules and on some practical applications of enzymology. (This course may be taken for credit as CHEM 351.) Prerequisites: CHEM 211, 212.
BIOL 352	Molecular Biology and Biochemistry II	4 credits
This course is an introduction to the biosynthesis of biomolecules, gene expression and control, and recombinant DNA technology. The laboratory focuses on current techniques for probing biochemical reactions and for isolating and engineering DNA. (This course may be taken for credit as CHEM 352.) Prerequisites: BIOL 351 or CHEM 351.
BIOL 378	Junior Seminar I	1 credit
This course studies theory and practice of selected methods in biological instrumentation, research, and evaluation of data. Special emphasis is on those methods not covered in other courses in the department and on methods helpful for the completion of the senior project.
BIOL 379	Junior Seminar II	1 credit
Students prepare and present a writing portfolio and a proposal for senior project research.
BIOL 425	Animal Physiology	4 credits
This course is a study of the structure and functions of the human body and of the mechanism of bodily movements, responses, reactions, and various physiological states.
BIOL 440	Histology	4 credits
This course is a study of animal tissues.
BIOL 442	Embryology	4 credits
This course is a study of the ontogenetic development of selected embryos. Primary emphasis is on the vertebrates.
BIOL 477	Senior Seminar I	1 credit
This course is an introduction to the literature of the biological sciences, including both research papers and review articles, and to the basics of scientific writing.
BIOL 478	Senior Seminar II	1 credit
This course emphasizes polishing the skills useful to the student who is in the process of finishing the written portion of the senior project. When possible, the student makes an oral presentation of the senior project and completes a paper or reviews an article for publication.
BIOL 487-488	Independent Study	2-4 credits
BIOL 490	Senior Project	2-3 credits
The senior project is begun in the second semester of the junior year and completed in the spring semester of the senior year. It generally is a research project developed with a faculty member.

Registration for this course initiates a graduation audit process to verify that all requirements for graduation are scheduled to be met by the anticipated degree completion date.

Equine Studies

Program Goals for Equine Studies

The Equine Studies program at Bethany College is designed to achieve the following goals for its students:

- To provide students with a strong base of knowledge needed to support the wide variety of careers within the equine industry
- To experience alternative methods, techniques, and management philosophies in the care of equines
- To improve and develop necessary communication skills (writing, oral, and reading) in support of professional development
- To prepare students for entry into the equine industry

Requirements for the Major in Equine Management

EQUI 100, 101, 200, 201, 202, 300, 301, 302, 400, 401, 490; 4 credits from EQUI 103, 203, 204, 205, 303, 306, 403; 6 credits from BIOL 280, 291, EQUI 304, 305; BIOL 168, 169; ECON 163, 222, 280, 287, 290; ACCT 202; MATH 281, 282.

Requirements for the Major in Pre-Veterinary Medicine

EQUI 100, 101, 202, 302 or 401, 490 ; BIOL 100, 108 or 180, 168, 169, 280, 290, 343; CHEM 101, 102, 211, 212, 351, 352; MATH 201, 281; PHYS 201, 202

Requirements for Minor

EQUI 100, 101, 200, 201, 202 (BIOL 168 and 169 are prerequisites for EQUI 202); one riding course

Requirements for the Equine-Facilitated Therapy Certificate Program

NOTE: This option is only available to those students with a major in Social Work. The Equine-Facilitated Therapy Certificate program is designed for those students interested in the use of horses to work with a variety of at-risk populations, including those with Autism, cerebral palsy, and other behavioral or physical challenges. The course work provides the foundation content for the Professional Association of Therapeutic Horsemanship (PATH) certification.

Students must complete all courses listed under Requirement for Social Work Major in the Social Work section of this Catalogue, plus: EQUI 100, 101, 200, 202, 304; 2 credits from EQUI 103, 203, 204, 205, 303, 306, 403; BIOL 168, 169. Students are encouraged to choose from the following courses to supplement their preparation for the PATH certification: PSYC 205; SPED 212, 312; and EQUI 201.

Equine Studies Courses

EQUI 100 Introduction to Horse Management 3 credits

This course is an introduction to the basic skills necessary for daily care and maintenance of the horse. Topics include safety, stall care, feeding and basic nutrition, handling and restraint, vices, common cause and treatment of lameness, equine emergencies and first aid, bandaging, basic medications, and trailer safety. Preventative health care, deworming and vaccination programs, and dental and farrier care are introduced. This course includes a weekly three-hour lab. Some weekend participation is expected. This course is a pre-requisite for students who wish to participate in equine-related work-study assignments.

EQUI 101 Introduction to Equine Studies 3 credits

This course is an introduction to horses and the horse industry. Topics include equine evolution and history, breeds, breed evolution and modern breed usage, colors and markings, basic genetic concepts, conformation an animal judging, introduction to major equestrian disciplines, and publications of the equine industry. Common equine diseases, physiology of vaccines, parasites, and alterative health care options are introduced; contemporary issues including equine welfare are discussed. This course includes a weekly three-hour lab session. Prerequisite: EQUI 100.

EQUI 103 Introduction to Riding 1 credit

This course is an introduction to basic hunt seat and western riding. The course includes mounted activity and basic theories of riding requiring unmounted work.

EQUI 200 Horse Production and Management Techniques 3 credits

This course explores the preparation and use of the horse in multiple equestrian disciplines. Topics include selection for competition and evaluation for purchase, equestrian disciplines, sanctioning bodies of equestrian sports and associated transport and competition regulations, organization and management of horse shows, tack, bits, equipment and proper fitting, preparation of equines for show including grooming, clipping, braiding, and bandaging, equine insurance. Nutrition for performance and conditioning programs will be explored. This course includes a weekly three-hour lab. Prerequisite: EQUI 101.

EQUI 201 Equestrian Facility Design and Operation 3 credits

This course focuses on the design and construction of various types of private and commercial equine facilities. Topics include property layout, construction options, equipment, hay production and pasture management, water and waste management, zoning requirements, environmental impact of stables, legal obligations, contracts and liability, and economics and business management of facilities. Prerequisite: EQUI 200.

- EQUI 202 Equine Anatomy, Physiology, and Health 4 credits
 This course is a systems approach to the anatomical and physiological systems of the horse as related to common equine health concerns. Topics include diseases, epidemiology, vaccine and parasitology protocols, traditional and modern options for veterinary care, veterinary diagnostics, and considerations of preventative health care of the horse. This course includes a weekly three-hour lab. Prerequisites: BIOL 168, 169; EQUI 101. Students seeking a minor in Equine Studies may substitute BIOL 308 for BIOL 168 and 169.
- EQUI 203 Hunt Seat 1 credit
 This course is instruction in the theory and practice of hunt seat riding. The course includes both mounted instruction and classroom instruction as it applies to hunt seat, jumping, and showing in hunt seat and related disciplines. (This course may be repeated once for credit by Equine Majors.) Prerequisite: EQUI 103, tape, or test.
- EQUI 204 Stock Seat 1 credit
 This course is instruction in the theory and practice of western riding. The course includes both mounted instruction and classroom instruction as it applies to stock seat, reining, and related disciplines of western riding. (This course may be repeated once for credit by Equine Majors.) Prerequisite: EQUI 103, tape, or test.
- EQUI 205 Driving 1 credit
 This course is instruction in the theory and practice of equine driving. The course includes both driving instruction and classroom instruction as it applies to the variety of disciplines of driving. (This course may be repeated once for credit by Equine Majors.) Prerequisite: EQUI 103, tape, or test.
- EQUI 301 Equine Sales Preparation and Marketing 1 credit
 This laboratory course introduces working with young horses. Topics include handling, leading, physical and behavioral development of weanlings, pedigree analysis, and preparation of weanlings and yearlings for sales and marketing. Prerequisite: EQUI 201.
- EQUI 302 Equine Sports Medicine and Lameness 4 credits
 This course provides the student with basic insight into lameness and athletic injuries associated with various equine sports disciplines. Topics include gain abnormalities, lameness evaluation and pre-purchase exams, conformation and its effect on performance, disorders of joints, tendons, and muscles, veterinary diagnostics, mediations, methods of therapy, and corrective shoeing applications. The roles of conditioning and cardiopulmonary disorders as factors in poor athletic performance and injuries are also examined. This course includes a weekly three-hour lab. Prerequisite: EQUI 201.
- EQUI 303 Dressage 1 credit
 This course is instruction in the theory and practice of dressage. The course includes both mounted and classroom instruction as it applies to dressage and related disciplines. Topics include the fundamentals of dressage, such as dressage seat position and effectiveness of the rider's aids, the German training pyramid, the basics of centered riding, and knowledge of basic school figures. (This course may be repeated once for credit for Equine Majors.) Prerequisite: EQUI 203, tape, or test.
- EQUI 304 Riding Instructor I 1 credit
 This course provides instruction in American Riding Instructors Association (ARIA) principles of teaching riding, including the teaching philosophy and preparation for certification. Students in the course spend two to four hours per week developing skills as a riding instructor by working with student-learners monitored by a coach. The course includes preparation for ARIA certification. Prerequisites: Four previous credits of mounted coursework.
- EQUI 305 Horseback Riding Instructor II: Community Outreach 2 credits
 This course emphasizes outreach to community organizations, physical therapy and its application to the disabled ride, and preparation for certification as a riding instructor. Students in the course spend one to three hours per week observing and participating in instructing therapeutic riding classes and classes for community organizations. Prerequisite: EQUI 304.
- EQUI 306 Riding in the Open 1 credit
 This course provides a foundation for a safe approach to riding outside of enclosed arenas. Topics include theory of working the horse in an open area, flat work on various surfaces, riding hills, crossing streams and roadways, and proper conditioning for various disciplines of long-distance riding. Equestrian disciplines that include cross-country jumping (eventing, foxhunting, steeplechase) and trail riding (competitive trail, endurance riding) and extensive conditioning (polo) are introduced. Prerequisites: EQUI 201, 203, tape, or test.
- EQUI 377 Junior Seminar 1 credit
 This course studies the various employment opportunities and areas of further study for Equine Studies majors. Topics also include resume and portfolio development, professionalism in the equine industry, and developing the senior project.
- EQUI 401 Equine Reproduction 3 credits
 This course is an examination of the aspects of breeding farm production, both private and commercial. Topics include mare and stallion reproductive anatomy and endocrinology, mare and stallion handling, natural and artificial breeding methods, embryo transfer, breeding problems, teasing, record keeping, pregnancy management, normal and abnormal foaling, mare management, neonatal foal care, and recognition of foal disorders. Prerequisite: EQUI 202.

- EQUI 403 Introduction to Eventing 1 credit
 This course is instruction in the theory and practice of combined training. The course includes both mounted and classroom instruction as it applies to three-day eventing. (This course may be repeated once for credit by Equine Majors.) Prerequisite: EQUI 303, tape, or test.
- EQUI 470 Internship in Equine Studies 2 credits
 This experience is a professionally supervised internship with an off-campus equestrian facility or professional. (Repeatable for credit.)
- EQUI 477 Senior Seminar 1 credit
 This course is an introduction to writing methods, equestrian publications, and scientific literature in support of completing and presenting the senior project. Students complete a paper and make an oral presentation of the senior project.
- EQUI 490 Senior Project 2-3 credits
 The senior project is begun in the junior year and completed in the spring semester of the senior year.
- EQUI 495 Graduation Audit Non-credit
 Registration for this course initiates a graduation audit process to verify that all requirements for graduation are scheduled to be met by the anticipated degree completion date.

Communications and Media Arts

Faculty

M.E. Yancosek Gamble. Assistant Professor of Communications and Media Arts; Chair, Advisor to Tower Promotions, Public Relations, Student Society of Advertisers
 Jay A. Libby. Assistant Professor of Communications and Media Arts
 Scott D. Miller. President of the College, Professor of Leadership Studies, Advisor to The Society for Collegiate Journalists
 Patrick J. Sutherland. Professor of Communications and Media Arts; Advisor to WVBC
 Jason K. Smith. Assistant Professor of Communications and Media Arts, Advisor to the Tower

Program Goals

The Communications and Media Arts program at Bethany College is designed to achieve the following goals for its students:

- Demonstrate knowledge and understanding of mass media and human communication principles, processes, and practices.
- Be able to develop, conduct, report, and evaluate communication research.
- Demonstrate a proficiency in invention, construction, and delivery of oral and written communication.
- Apply communication theory and critical thinking in a variety of communication settings.
- Interpret the role of media and other communication technologies in a fast-changing global environment.
- Analyze legal and ethical responsibilities of communicators in a culturally diverse world.
- Value the roles and functions of effective and creative communication in one's personal, social, and work life.

Requirements for Major

Communications and Media Arts majors are expected to complete 48 credits of departmental course study. All students majoring in the department are required to complete the following courses: COMM 101, 201, 306, 311; three courses from 390-395; 403, 420, and 490.

In addition, all majors must complete 6 credits in courses offered by the English program in addition to ENGL 111, and one of the following courses offered by the Economics and Business Department: ECON 163, ECON 290, or ACCT 202.

Integrated Media & Marketing: COMM 202, 203, 206, 412, 413.

Digital Media and Production: COMM 104, 200, 218, 310, 440.

Graphics: COMM 104, 205, 315, two quarters at the Art Institute of Pittsburgh.

Sports Communication: COMM 206, COMM 250, COMM 300 OR COMM 335, COMM 338; PHED 243 or PHED 244. Recommended: PHED 300, PHED 335, PHED 337, PHED 355.

Requirements for Minor

COMM 101, 201 and 15 additional credits. At least 6 of those credits must be 300 or 400 level courses. Courses available to minors as electives are: 104, 130, 140, 160, 200, 203, 205, 206, 218, 250, 303, 306, 310, 311, 314, 330, 335, 344, 345, 346, 370, 380, 409, 430, 480.

Communications Courses

COMM 101 Introduction to Communication

3 credits

This course examines the foundations of communication, including communication between individuals, language, and non-verbal codes and also mass media history and theory, including newspapers, radio, television, and digital media.

COMM 104 Visual Communication

3 credits

This course promotes understanding of the aesthetic, ethical, and creative principles inherent in visual communication. Films, animation, TV productions, printed and computer graphics, and photography are the sources for the analysis of perception and meaning in the visual image.

COMM 110 Digital Audio Production for Music

3 credits

This course focuses on hands-on experience in multi-track recording of musical instruments using a digital audio workstation. It also sets the stage for additional work in digital editing, mixing, and mastering techniques. (This course may be taken for credit as MUSI 110.)

COMM 130 Interpersonal Communication

3 credits

This course examines the various theoretical approaches to the study of interpersonal communication and the role of interpersonal communication in the development and maintenance of human relationships.

COMM 140 Small Group Communication

3 credits

This course offers a study of the principles and practices that govern small-group communication in business, government, and the wider community. Topics include team building, group roles in decision-making, leadership, and conflict resolution. Analysis covers communicating online and face-to-face with group members.

COMM 160 Introduction to Film

3 credits

This is an introduction to the study of film as a cultural and technical artifact and as a form of art. The class teaches students the basic principles of film aesthetics and production to provide the skills necessary to “read” the film as art. The course also places a strong emphasis on the social context of film and the place movies hold in our culture, and introduces the general areas of study within film scholarship. (This course may be taken for credit as ENGL 160.)

COMM 200 Digital Media and Digital Culture

3 credits

This course provides the student with the history, structures, processes, and practices of digital media and examines the effects of technology on American and global culture. Key concepts that are integral to understanding the digital age are examined, as well as the effect of new content distribution venues like iTunes and YouTube. Various areas of digital culture are examined including the Internet, the World Wide Web, virtual community and virtual identity, social networking sites, gaming culture, and mobile technology.

COMM 201 Media Writing

3 credits

Media Writing is an intensive course in the study and practice of writing for the various media, including print, electronic, public relations, graphic design, and advertising. Students explore the ethical and legal concerns of media writing; learn basic writing, editing, and copy formats; learn to select and structure copy; develop information-gathering skills; and examine contemporary issues and concerns facing the media.

COMM 202 Digital Document Design

3 credits

This course provides students with practical experience using a variety of computer programs designed to create documents for various channels, including both digital and print publication. Students will develop and produce publications, presentations and digital documents that integrate text, art, and various graphic elements. Prerequisite: COMM 201.

COMM 203 Principles of Advertising and Public Relations

3 credits

This course covers the history and principles of advertising and public relations and discusses the different fields of marketing including industry and non-profit work. Advertising and public relations’ relative places in integrated media and marketing plans are also discussed. (This course may be taken for credit as BUSA 203.)

COMM 205 Principles of Graphic Design

3 credits

This course introduces basic graphic design principles and their applications. Visual perception, visual illusion, and communication impact are explored through examples and practical exercises.

COMM 206 Public Speaking and Announcing

3 credits

This course is an introduction to the dynamics of speaking in front of large audiences and also through electronic technologies. The course covers basics of vocal qualities, signals, language, argumentation and elocution for broadcasting of various types.

COMM 208 Principles of Broadcasting and New Media

3 credits

This course provides the student with basic knowledge of broadcasting and new media’s histories, structures, processes, and practices and the effects on both individuals and society. Included is an overview of seminal theories such as cultivation, diffusion of innovations, and uses and gratifications. The course also provides an overview of sales and advertising aspects of the media business, including ratings and promotional activities, governmental controls and self-regulation, ethical considerations, global characteristics, and technological advances.

- COMM 210 Editing Mixing, and Mastering Digital Audio for Music 3 credits
 This course is the second in a series that addresses the processes of digital audio production for music. It is designed to focus on the processes of editing, mixing, and mastering digital audio for music. (This course may be taken for credit as MUSI 210.) Prerequisite: COMM/MUSI 110
- COMM 211 The Documentary Tradition 3 credits
 This course examines the documentary film tradition of Europe and North America, including works of Robert Flaherty, Leni Riefenstahl, Pare Lorentz, Alain Resnais, Richard Leacock, Robert Gardner, Frederick Wiseman, Peter Davis, and Michael Moore. Students study, analyze, and write about essential theories and issues related to the documentary, including objectivity, audience, social activism, and characteristics distinguishing the documentary from photography, journalism, and history.
- COMM 218 Digital Production and Performance 3 credits
 This course provides the student with basic concepts and practical instruction in digital media production strategies and techniques. Intensive instruction is provided in basic digital audio and video editing with an emphasis on the student achieving an introductory level proficiency. Students are provided a primer on other digital software used for print and radio mediums, which includes limited study of speech personality variables, as well as practice in basic announcing, interviewing, microphone, and camera performance techniques.
- COMM 221 Acting for the Camera 2 credits
 This course investigates the basics of on-camera work, including terminology and strategies for enhancing appearance on camera. Students perform scenes and improvisational exercises and may prepare work for telecasting on the Bethany TV station. (This course may be taken for credit as THEA 221.)
- COMM 250 Multimedia Sports Production 3 credits
 This course introduces the student to the techniques of production of various sporting events for radio, television, pod-casting, and other converged media platforms. Results of students' work are broadcast, cablecast, or internet streamed for consumption by the Bethany community and beyond.
- COMM 265 Producing Commercials 3 credits
 Advertising theory, audience research, and strategic message development come together in producing commercials. This course explores the development and production of commercials for radio, television and the web. Prerequisite: COMM 203
- COMM 275 Producing the News Magazine 3 credits
 An elective for production students or journalism students interested in working in news media. Students in this class will produce half-hour news magazine programs involving multiple individual pieces of 4-7 minute packages joined together by an anchor. Prerequisite: COMM 201
- COMM 303 Organizational Communication 3 credits
 This course is an examination of the principles of communication in an information society, especially in the context of business, service, and media organizations. Major organizational theories are explored from a communication perspective and examined in the context of the roles and skills needed by individuals within organizations. Examples are drawn mainly from media organizations, but the principles are applicable to all types of organizations and individuals.
- COMM 305 Feature Writing 3 credits
 This course encourages excellence in journalism writing by examining award-winning writing, writing newspaper and magazine features, and critiquing articles. Prerequisite: COMM 201.
- COMM 306 Communication Theory and Research 3 credits
 This course examines the relationship between communication theories and the research methods used to test them. Emphasis is on understanding theoretical tenets, their connection to the communication process and to modern media, thesis development, and research design. An examination of current communication research is conducted. Prerequisite: Junior or Senior status or permission of the instructor.
- COMM 310 Digital Reporting 3 credits
 This is a lecture-laboratory course focusing on the complexities and practices of gathering news for traditional media that have or are converting to digital delivery and also emerging digital media. Students are required to gather and report news/features using the digital technology across multiple platforms of distribution (i.e., radio, television, internet, telephony, etc.). Prerequisite: COMM 201
- COMM 311 Communication Law and Ethics 3 credits
 This course is a study of law and ethics as they pertain to emerging and traditional mass media and to related communication enterprises such as advertising and public relations. Legal topics emphasized include the First Amendment, libel and slander, privacy, and prior restraint. Ethics topics include examination and application of ethics theories and practices within the framework of each student becoming an independent moral agent.
- COMM 314 Public Opinion 3 credits
 This course explores the complexity of issues of concern to individuals or groups which influence our daily lives and how information sources, styles, and channels help formulate public opinion on those issues. The influence of mass media and social relationships on how opinions change is also explored. Prerequisite: Junior or Senior status or permission of the instructor.

- COMM 315 Design Application 3 credits
This course emphasizes problem-solving as related to developing and producing visual content for various media, including cross-platform distribution of content. Design and integration for multiple media channels including video, web and multimedia will be covered. Problem solving and preparation are emphasized. Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor.
- COMM 318 Telemedia Programming and Management 3 credits
This course prepares students for a leadership career in the telemedia, including radio and television broadcasting, cable, corporate communications, computer applications, and the Internet. Topics include technological change, economics and ownership issues, programming and marketing strategies, organization and management, industry self-governance, government regulation, and ethics. Students undertake a project related to individual professional interests. Prerequisite: COMM 208.
- COMM 330 Screenwriting 3 credits

Economics and Business

The Department of Economics and Business includes programs in Economics, Accounting, and Business.

Faculty

Wilfrid W. Csaplár, Jr. The John F. and Evelyn Casey Steen Professor in Economics; Chair

Anju Ramjee. Professor of Business

Virgil G. Thompson. Associate Professor of Accounting

David Youngberg, Assistant Professor of Economics

Economics

Economics Program Goals

For the three tracks in the Economics major the goal of the department is to enhance one's ability and competence in relating business and economic concepts, functions, and policies to each other at increasingly abstract levels in order to solve problems and analyze policies. Students will become proficient at:

- Enhancing students' understanding of marginal concepts.
- Enhancing students' understanding of the interrelationships of implicit and explicit elements of economics and business.
- Enhance students' ability to analyze and solve problems.

Requirements for Major in Economics

All majors in the department are required to complete the following courses: ECON 162, 163; ACCT 202, 203; and MATH 281, 282. Students considering a major in the Department should complete all of the 200-level courses listed above by the end of the sophomore year.

In addition to the courses required of all departmental majors, students majoring in Economics are required to complete one of three tracks:

Managerial Economics: ACCT/BUSA/ECON 222; either BUSA 205 or MATH 201; ECON 280, 290, 301, 302, 304, 312, 332, 350, 477; ACCT/BUSA/ECON 482; PSYC/ECON/BUSA 287 or ECON/ACCT/BUSA 311; and a Senior Project in Economics.

International Economics: ACCT/BUSA/ECON 222; either BUSA 205 or MATH 201; ECON 260, 270, 301, 302, 304, 350, 360, 371, 477; ACCT/BUSA/ECON 482; POLS 243, 351 or 352; and a Senior Project in Economics.

Financial Economics: ACCT/BUSA/ECON 222; either BUSA 205 or MATH 201; ECON 301, 302, 304, 312, 316, 325, 350, 371, 477; ACCT/BUSA/ECON 482; ACCT 425; and a Senior Project in Economics.

Requirements for Dual Major in Economics and Mathematics

This major is designed for students who would like to strengthen their degrees in either mathematics or economics by demonstrating skills in the other discipline. For example, students wishing to attend graduate school in economics or in applied mathematics, but because of any of a number of potential reasons would not be able to complete a double major. Majors will have two advisors, one in each department.

Bachelor of Science Degree: ACCT 202; CPSC 151; ECON 162, 163, 222, 301, 302, 304, 311, 350, 477, 482; MATH 106, 201, 202, 203, 210, 220, 354, 373, 383, 384, 390, 477; PSYC 287; and a three-credit senior project.

Requirements for Minor

Economics: ACCT/BUSA/ECON 222; ECON 162, 163, 301, 302; either BUSA 205 or MATH 201; MATH 281, 282. (MATH 281 is a Prerequisite for ACCT/BUSA/ECON 222.)

Program Goals

As reflective practitioners within the realms of a liberal arts education and professional studies program our graduates will be able to:

- Apply in their vocational setting, current research based pedagogical techniques and practices
- Evaluate formative and summative assessments as a means to differentiate instruction in order to meet the needs of a diverse population of learners
- Develop a unique and relevant personal and professional philosophy of education
- Take their places as 21st Century instructional leaders who guide learners to the highest possible levels of critical thinking, ethical, and moral development
- Become active members of national or international professional organizations and support cultural and community enriching endeavors
- Be global citizens who benefit from and appreciate multi-cultural experiences
- Exhibit exemplary professional behavior as well as to demonstrate a high degree of self-efficacy

The Teacher Preparation Program provides certification candidates with professional preparation in education using as its conceptual framework “Teacher as Reflective Practitioner.” Candidates integrate a liberal arts background, content preparation, and educational principles to prepare for careers in teaching at the elementary, middle, and secondary school levels or in an interdisciplinary synthesis of Psychology and Education. Candidates can choose content specializations in Art, Biology, Chemistry, English, Language Arts, Mathematics, Physical Education, Social Studies, or Spanish. Candidates completing a major in Elementary Education or a minor in Secondary Education can minor in Special Education. The Teacher Preparation Program is accredited by the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE). Note: Course work often requires field experiences; participants must arrange their own transportation in order to complete these courses, and candidates must arrange their own transportation in order to complete the Program overall.

Requirements for Majors in Education

Elementary Education (K-6): EDUC 203, 242, 282, 295, 346, 348, 351, 352, 353, 445, 470, 471, 472, 473, 490; FINA 125, MATH 103 (or higher), MATH 250, MATH 252; RDNG 215, 347; SOCI 210; SPED 207, 208; PSYC 100 or 315.

In addition, only those students who have completed the following courses are eligible for Elementary K-6 Certification: BIOL100 (or higher); CHEM 100 (or higher) or PHYS 103 (or higher); GENS 202; HIST 201 or 202, 225; POLS 225.

Note: Successful completion of PPST-PRAXIS 1 (Reading, Writing, and Math) with passing West Virginia scores must occur before enrolling in any 300-level or higher course in Education, Special Education, or Reading.

Note: Elementary K-6 candidates interested in grades 5-9 certification must complete the Middle Childhood Education 5-9 program in one field selected from English, General Science, Mathematics, Physical Education, Social Studies, or Spanish.

Note: Additional courses are required to complete a Minor in Multi-categorical Special Education, as well as Endorsement in Autism and/or Reading. A Content Portfolio and a Professional Portfolio are also required as part of the Education program.

Middle Childhood Education (5-9): EDUC 203, 242, 282, 295, 348, 351, 352, 426, 427, 445, 470, 471, 472, 473, 490; RDNG 376; SOCI 210; SPED 207, 208; PSYC 100.

Note: Candidates interested in grades 5-9 certification only must complete the Middle Childhood Education 5-9 program in two fields selected from English, General Science, Mathematics, Physical Education, Social Studies, or Spanish.

Requirements for Interdisciplinary Majors in Social Studies and in Psychology and Education

The Department cooperates with the Psychology Department in administering the faculty-initiated interdisciplinary major in Psychology and Education. Requirements for this major appear in the listings of the Interdisciplinary Studies Department in this Catalogue.

Requirements for Minors in Education

Multi-categorical Special Education K-6 or 5-Adult: Learning Disabilities, Mental Impairments, and Behavior Disorders: SPED 207, 208, 320, 330, 450, 470 or 471; PSYC 315. As a minor, Special Education may be completed by Secondary Education candidates, but the Special Education multi-categorical certification may only be added to English, Mathematics, Science, or Social Studies certification. Elementary Education candidates may also complete a sequence of courses in English, Mathematics, Science, or Social Studies for Restricted Content Special Education Certification in 5-Adult.

Secondary Education: EDUC 203, 242, 282, 295, 348, 426, 427, 445, 470, 471, 472, 473, 480 (or cross-listed 480 course); SPED 207 208; RDNG 376; PSYC 100; SOCI 210. Secondary Education Teaching fields include Art, Biology, Chemistry, English, Mathematics, Physical Education, Social Studies and Spanish. Students preparing to teach in secondary schools are expected to follow the sequence of required education courses listed in the Professional Education sequence. Liberal Arts Core requirements, other requirements for graduation and requirements for the student's major must be added. The required education courses cannot be taken on a credit/no-credit basis.

Requirements For Admission to the Teacher Education Program

Typically, Human Development (EDUC 203) is taken during the first semester of the freshmen year. Candidates must earn a B- or higher in this course to advance to Professional Principles (EDUC 242) course. Education majors must be successfully admitted to the Teacher Education Program before registering for any 300-level or higher courses.

Application forms are available in the Department Office and on the Education Department website. Admission to the program occurs after the following criteria are met:

- Grade point average 2.50 overall and in Education courses
- Two positive letters of recommendation from faculty of Bethany College outside the Education Program
- Successful completion of PRAXIS I-PPST (Reading, Writing and Math) with passing West Virginia scores
- Positive review of Professional Dispositions conducted by Education faculty in Human Development (EDUC 203) and Professional Principles (EDUC 242)
- West Virginia Criminal Background Check results submitted to Department

A candidate may be granted full admission or denied admission.

Note: All transfer students or students who change their major are required to meet the same criteria, including admission to the program.

Continuation in Education Program beyond EDUC 242: A candidate must maintain a 2.50 GPA overall and in EDUC courses and successfully complete Classroom Discipline and Instruction (EDUC 348) to remain in the Teacher Education Program and advance to the Student Teaching Semester.

Field Experiences and Student Teaching Semester: Beginning in Professional Principles (EDUC 242), typically taken during the freshmen year, candidates complete a sequence of structured field experiences in area schools. As per West Virginia Policy 5100, candidates complete 125 hours of field experiences and work with children and adolescents prior to student teaching. Candidates are responsible for transportation for all field experiences and student teaching assignments. When possible, candidates are grouped together in schools.

Student teaching is conducted for the entire first or second semester of the senior year in area schools or off-campus centers. All required elements for student teaching are due to the Department by the end of the semester prior to student teaching. Related course work is integrated with student teaching to provide direct application to field experiences. Candidates complete two seven-week placements in two different schools. Candidates are not permitted to schedule courses in conflict with the Student Teaching Block or to participate in extra-curricular activities that interfere with the requirements imposed by the Block.

Application for West Virginia Certification: After completing student teaching and near the completion of the entire program, each candidate should initiate application procedures for certification. The following criteria must be met for certification in West Virginia:

- cumulative grade-point average of 2.50, in education courses as well, and in the area(s) of certification.
- successful completion of the PRAXIS I-PPST and PRAXIS II-Content subject Area Test and PRAXIS II-Principles of Learning and Teaching
- West Virginia criminal background check
- successful completion of the Senior Comprehensive Examination
- successful completion of student teaching and all required course work
- recommendations from the Education Department and from the candidate's area of certification
- general requirements for a Bethany College degree

Note: A degree from Bethany College does not guarantee certification in the state of West Virginia. The candidate must meet the criteria for certification as determined by the College and by the West Virginia Board of Education. A candidate who fails to meet criteria may be denied recommendation.

Certification levels are under the authority of the West Virginia State Department of Education and are subject to change based on policy implementation by the State Department. Bethany College must follow the guidelines and policy implementation established by the State Department. The policy set by the West Virginia Department of Education takes priority over any policy set forth by the Bethany College Teacher Preparation Program.

Out-of-State Certification: Bethany College is fully accredited by the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE), and its teacher education programs are approved by the West Virginia State Board of Education for the issuance of appropriate professional certificates for service in the public schools. This accreditation and approval makes those who complete the teacher education programs outlined in this catalogue eligible for reciprocal certification in most states. [Additional coursework or testing may be required for certification in some states.] Currently, the state of West Virginia participates in the National Association of State Directors of Teacher Education and Certification (NASDTEC) Interstate Agreement. As of August 2006, 46 states, the District of Columbia, and the Department of Defense Education Activity participate in the NASDTEC Interstate Agreement for 2010-2015. The NASDTEC Interstate Agreement facilitates the movement of educators among the states and other jurisdictions that are members of NASDTEC and have signed the Agreement. Although there may be conditions applicable to individual jurisdictions, the Agreement makes it possible for an educator who completed an approved program and/or who holds a certificate or license in one jurisdiction to earn a certificate or license in another state or jurisdiction. For example, a teacher who completed an approved teacher preparation program in Alabama generally will be able to earn a certificate in Georgia. Receiving states may impose certain special requirements which must be met in a reasonable period of time.

Education Courses

EDUC 203 Human Development

3 credits

This course is a study of human development from infancy through death. The course applies learning theory to life-span development to promote self-understanding and to provide preparation for working with individuals, families, groups, and communities. Must receive a grade of B- or better in order to take EDUC 242.

EDUC 242 Professional Principles

3 credits

This course explores the goals of education and their implementation, the role of the teacher, and the concerns of professional educators and applies the concepts of human development to student learning outcomes. A history of education component is included. A field experience is required. Prerequisite: EDUC 203, with a grade of B- or better.

EDUC 282 Instructional Technology

3 credits

This course examines the role of technology instruction, specifically addressing education technology standards for teachers. The course prepares pre-service teachers to integrate technology into instruction in a meaningful manner.

EDUC 295 Multicultural Field Experience

Non-Credit

Candidates for certification complete a 20-hour early field experience in a school setting that is multiculturally different from the schools they have attended. This experience is selected and arranged by the candidates themselves, pending department approval. Specified documentation of the experience by the candidates is evaluated by department faculty to ensure that candidates demonstrate the capacity to interact with students from differing ethnic, racial, gender, socioeconomic, language, and religious groups. The experiences help prepare candidates to confront issues of diversity that affect teaching and student learning and to develop strategies for improving student learning and promoting the candidates' effectiveness as teachers.

- EDUC 300-309 Issues in Education 3 credits
 These courses examine special topics in Education for majors and non-majors.
- EDUC 300 Juveniles, Law, and School 3 credits

 This course is a study of the methods and materials necessary for teaching English as a second language and provides instruction and practice in planning lessons and extracurricular activities. (This course may be taken for credit as WLAC 484 or ENGL 484.)
- EDUC 487-488 Independent Study 1-4 credits
- EDUC 490 Senior Project 2-4 credits
- EDUC 495 Graduation Audit Non-credit
 Registration for this course initiates a graduation audit process to verify that all requirements for graduation are scheduled to be met by the anticipated degree completion date.

Special Education Courses

- SPED 207 Exceptionalities and Diversities 3 credits
 This course introduces students to the various exceptionalities and diversities found in general and special education classrooms. Students examine characteristics of exceptional learners, appropriate accommodations and modifications, assistive technology, the continuum of services, and the consultation and collaborative models of instruction. Special emphasis is given to a cultural perspective on learning within the general classroom environment. A 10-hour field placement is required.
- SPED 208 The Special Education Process 3 credits
 This course examines the history of special education and the resulting special education process. Students actively participate in the referral process for special education, creating individualized education and transition plans through a variety of class activities and simulations. Special emphasis is on the role of the family system in the special education process, due process rights and responsibilities, theories in special education, and current legislation and litigation. Students are also introduced to specialized curriculum options in special education. A 20-hour field placement is required. Prerequisite: SPED 207.
- SPED 212 Autism I: Characteristics and Instruction 3 credits
 This course provides an intensive look at the characteristics, identification, and instructional service delivery systems available for students with autism, Asperger's Syndrome, and other developmental delays. Specific instructional program features and the various origins and interventions of autism are emphasized.
- SPED 312 Autism II: Teaching Internship and Advanced Research 3 credits
 This course provides an opportunity for students to work in the field with students with autism. Special emphasis is on the implementation of research-validated teaching strategies, community-based instruction, home planning, and data collection and analysis. Current and controversial research in the field of autism is also examined and debated. A 30-hour field placement is required. Prerequisites: SPED 207 and SPED 212; a passing score on PPST-PRAXIS I; admission to teacher education program.
- SPED 320 Assessment and Methods in Special Education I 3 credits
 This course is the first of two on assessments and methods in special education. Students are introduced to a variety of types of formal and informal assessments related to reading, spelling, and written language. Students gain proficiency in administering, scoring, and interpreting standardized tests used in the identification and evaluation of students in special education. Students create written assessment reports with interventions and various forms of curriculum-based assessments. Special emphasis is on the practice and creation of materials appropriate for the areas of fluency, reading comprehension, decoding, strategy instruction, spelling, and written language. A 10-hour field placement is required. Prerequisites: SPED 207; a passing score on PPST-PRAXIS I; admission to teacher education program.

- SPED 330 Assessment and Methods in Special Education II 3 credits
 This course is a continuation of Assessments and Methods in Special Education I. Students conduct formal and informal assessments in the areas of mathematics, social skills, and behavior. Functional behavior assessments and behavior intervention plans are created and specific curricula are examined and practiced. Special emphasis is on the functional life skills curriculum and on school-to-work initiatives. A 20-hour field placement is required. Prerequisite: SPED 207; SPED 320; a passing score on PPST-PRAXIS I; admission to teacher education program.
- SPED 450 Current Issues and Trends in Special Education 2 credits
 This course is an examination of the current issues and trends in the field of special education. A variety of legal, ethical, social, and vocational issues are reviewed, analyzed, and discussed. - SPED 470 Clinical Practice and Student Teaching: Special Education I 4 credits
 This course is a directed half-semester observation and student teaching experience in schools, with partial assignments in appropriate areas of special education. Students must have applied for student teaching prior to registering for this course. Other courses or activities which might interfere with student teaching are not permitted. This course may be taken only on a credit/no credit basis.
- SPED 471 Clinical Practice and Student Teaching: Special Education II 4 credits
 This course is the directed and supervised second placement of a two-placement semester long student teaching experience in schools with partial assignments at appropriate grade levels. Candidates must make application for student teaching prior to advance registration. Other courses and activities which might interfere with student teaching are not permitted. Success in this experience is required for continuing in the education program; failure results in removal from the education program. (CR/NCR only). Corequisite: concurrent enrollment with EDUC 472.
- SPED 475 Professional Internship 4 credits
 This course provides for participation in an educational program appropriate to the student's area of study and potential employment. Students apply the skills and knowledge gained in the designated program to the selected internship experience.
- SPED 487-488 Independent Study 1-4 credits

Reading Courses

- RDNG 215 Adolescent and Children's Literature 3 credits
 This course focuses on extensive reading of diverse genres of literature written for children and adolescents and use of literature across the K-12 curriculum. Students will use a variety of methods to reflect on and respond to literature, learn about prominent authors and illustrators, and consider the historical aspects of children's literature in society and cultures. A major focus will be on learning how to encourage children to become motivated and engaged readers.
- RDNG 347 Reading Assessment and Instruction 3 credits
 During this course, students conduct a comprehensive examination of research-based reading assessment tools. Students use both informal and formal reading assessments to plan and implement data-based instruction and plan for reading interventions. Scientifically-based reading intervention and effective reading program components will be modeled and practiced. A 10-hour field placement is required. Prerequisite: EDUC 346; a passing score on PPST-PRAXIS I; admission to teacher education program.
- RDNG 376 Content Area Literacy 3 credits
 This course explores the use of research based literacy activities in all areas of study. Because of the diverse nature of this class, students create their own portfolio of literacy resources and activities relevant to their particular subject area and grade level. A 10-hour field placement is required. Prerequisites: A passing score on PPST-PRAXIS I; admission to teacher education program.
- RDNG 422 Reading Clinic 4 credits
 This is a laboratory course which focuses on methods that can be used by classroom teachers, reading specialists, and other special teachers of reading and language arts. The major emphasis of this course is an extensive and supervised tutoring internship with children who have reading difficulties. A 30-hour field placement is required. Prerequisites: EDUC 346; RDNG 347; a passing score on PPST-PRAXIS I; admission to teacher education program.

First-Year Experience

Program Goals

The First-Year Experience is designed to meet the following goals:

- Provide a small seminar of students with a faculty mentor/advisor who will help them to improve writing and thinking skills and familiarize them with the academic life of the College, while they study a specialized subject area
- Provide a bridge between the high school experience and the Bethany experience designed to enable students to engage actively and successfully as they grow and learn inside the classroom and out
- Provide students with an intense, single-class, topic driven learning experience designed to enhance college level reading, writing and research skills

All students who meet one of the following conditions are required to complete successfully the First Year Experience, including FSEM 111, FSEM 112, and FSEM 113.

- The student has graduated from high school but never attended college, even if she or he has completed college credits while in high school
- The student has enrolled in another college and is transferring fewer than 13 credits to Bethany

FSEM 111

3 credits

These seminars introduce students to the study of a specialized subject area, help students improve writing and thinking skills, and familiarize students with the academic life of the College. The faculty member who leads a student's seminar will serve as that student's academic advisor and mentor.

AA. Career = Degree x Experience

You can find the path to your perfect career! Selecting a major is but one part of the process. Your liberal arts degree can be greatly enhanced by internships, volunteer service activities, and more. Making “smart” choices from your very first semester will help to ensure success in your chosen career. Develop the essential skills needed to survive and succeed in today's job market. Make the Bethany curriculum and graduation requirements work in your favor by selecting courses and core requirements that develop specific job skills that employers seek. Discover how joining clubs and organizations on campus can help you develop lifelong friendships while building a winning resume. (Kathy Furbee, Professor of Social Work, Program Director and Chair of the Social Work Department)

BB. Being a “Super Cool” You

This seminar is an introduction to the process of identity formation. According to Erik Erikson, late adolescence and early adulthood is the period of identity confusion and a time of self discovery. Past experiences and future goals help guide us to become the person we are. Through selected readings, interpersonal interactions, and self-exploratory activities and writing, students will gain a better understanding of the qualities that make them unique and what affiliates them with others. Existential questions, such as Who Am I? and What is the meaning of my life? will be explored. (Kelly Schuller, Assistant Professor of Psychology)

CC. From Atom Girl to the X-Men: Superhero Science

Will a human ever “leap tall buildings in a single bound?” Can a human ever have Wolverine's adamantine claws? Have you ever wondered how Mystique shape-shifts? Would a lab accident turn you into the Hulk or give you “spidey-sense?” What is the superhero or supervillain's power that you would like to have? This seminar will discuss the science or lack of science behind many of the most famous superheroes and supervillians. Since science and technology is constantly advancing, the seminar will predict what kind of characters and powers will be imagined in the future. (Lisa Reilly, Assistant Professor of Chemistry)

DD. Heroes and Villains

The course will study the archetype of the Hero, Heroine, and Villain as represented through ancient history till today. We will read excerpts of literature and drama, examine the visual representations of Heroes and Villains in fine art, and watch films that represent the same concepts. The students will complete research projects as they develop their ideas and definitions of the perfect Hero and perfect Villain. (Tracie Duncan, Associate Professor of Theatre and Director of Technical Theatre)

EE. Human Struggle through Sports

Through the mediums of Literature and films, this seminar explores the way in which men and women struggle through sports. Topics such as aging athletes, ethical decisions making, competition, success, and even death will be explored through the eyes of the athlete, fans, and the general sports enthusiast. (Jan Forsty; Assistant Professor of Physical Education, Associate Director of Intercollegiate Athletics and Recreation, Head Softball Coach and Head Women's Tennis Coach)

FF. Leadership: A Journey, not a Destination

The aim of this course is to examine leadership styles and practical application skill development within a variety of organizations. The class format will include individual, small group and class assignments. (Matthew Payment; Visiting Assistant Professor in Physical Education)

GG. Psychology of Fairy Tales

This course will explore a variety of psychological themes present in fairy tales. Students will read a selection of fairy tales from around the world, view movie adaptations of fairy tales, and write their own fairy tale. Themes to be explored include morality, pro-social and anti-social behavior, romantic love, and archetypes. (Katrina Cooper; Associate Professor of Psychology and Director of First Year Studies)

HH. Happiness 101: Philosophies of Happiness

This seminar is an attempt to identify, describe and implement habits of body and mind that can lead to increased happiness. Using Tal Ben-Sharar's Happier as a starting point, students will identify through critical thought, reading, and writing, a personal practice of eudemonia. Student will also read Barry Schwarz's The Paradox of Choice in addition to researching the topic of happiness from the standpoint of eminent thinkers of the student's choosing. (Luke Hardt, Associate Professor of Theatre, Director of the Bethany College Theatre, and Chair of the Department of Visual and Performing Arts)

II. Who Owns You: Ethical Issues in Bio-Medical Research

Henrietta Lacks, who was a poor black farmer, had cancer cells taken without her knowledge in 1951. Those cells went on to become one of the most important tools in modern medical research, leading to the development of the polio vaccine, advancements in chemotherapy, cloning and in vitro fertilization. Despite their importance and the launching a multimillion dollar industry, Henrietta Lacks' contribution to science was unknown for more than 20 years, her family lived in poverty and Lacks herself was buried in an unmarked grave. In this course, students will explore the complication ethical issues surrounding biomedical research, including issues of informed consent, the use of embryonic stem cells in biomedical research, tissue ownership, and concerns related to genetic testing using the New York Times best seller book "The Immortal Life of Henrietta Lacks" by Rebecca Skloot as a platform for discussion. Students will also explore issues of poverty and racism in biomedical research and explore major historic events that brought to light key ethical principles that should underlie research endeavors, including: the Nuremberg War Crime Trials following WWII and the Tuskegee Syphilis Studies of the 1950-1970's. (Jennifer Franko; Assistant Professor of Biology)

JJ. Science and Pseudoscience

This seminar is an exploration of the wide variety phenomena that are at the borderline of mainstream science and the sometimes outrageous claims of the popular and tabloid press. In the seminar, students learn to decide for themselves which claims merit further study and which are too ridiculous to believe. Phrenology, homeopathic medicine, spirits, UFOs, water dowsing, psychokinesis, fortune telling, big foot, sea serpents, astrology, and spontaneous human combustion are the kinds of subjects investigated. Readings and videos provide the basis for discussions, essays and an oral report. (John Burns, Professor of Biology)

KK. Stress, Coping and Health

This seminar is intended to teach freshmen about the link between stress and mental as well as physical health. Initial discussions will focus on the effects of stress on anxiety, depression, cardiovascular function, and susceptibility to disease. After that, discussion will focus on ways to cope with stress. Coping techniques for everyday stresses will include humor, social support, exercise, and developing a positive self image. The seminar will also emphasize coping styles specific for the college experience including time management, open communication, conflict resolution, using on-campus resources, and developing effective studying techniques to deal with such issues as adjusting to college-level academics, dealing with separation from home and adjusting to a new environment. Students will be graded on attendance, seminar participation, and weekly self-reflection papers. Any student is welcome to take this seminar, but the anxious student may benefit the most. (Mark Affeltranger, Assistant Professor of Psychology and Chair of the Department of Psychology)

LL. The Beatles and Their Times

This seminar engages the student in a study of music, popular culture, and history through the phenomenon of the Beatles. Our examination involves listening to music, viewing DVDs, research, writing, discussion, and special projects tailored to student interests. An objective of this course is to understand and appreciate the dramatic paradigm shift in popular culture during the 1960s and its ramifications, both musically and sociologically for its own time and beyond. (Pandel Collaros, Assistant Professor of Music and Director of Jazz-Rock Ensemble)

MM. Sports Information and Broadcasting

This is a First Year Seminar course for those who show an interest in sports and sports broadcasting. The course will integrate writing, copying, and production skills with varsity sports at Bethany College. We will use historical research, written and oral exercises; actual game day broadcasts on radio/TV or web will be communicative outcomes of this seminar. (Jay Libby; Assistant Professor of Communications)

FSEM 112 Connections: A Personalized College Experience1 credit

Success in college and beyond depends on a successful adjustment in many areas of one's life. For each student, this will mean different things. As such, this course allows for an exploration of skills needed for success. Students will develop their own, personalized plan to develop socially, personally, and as an engaged member of the campus and community. Each student will develop a co-curricular portfolio of their experiences demonstrating such growth.

FSEM 113 The First-Year J-Term Experience3 credits

Students enroll in a small topic driven seminar (generally students remain in their seminar group from first semester and continue to study with their seminar professor, although they may explore a new topic). The seminar allows students to learn deeply, rather than broadly, since this seminar will be the only course they take during January Term. Topics vary, but all seminars are designed to enhance college-level reading, writing and research skills.

Note on Completions: Students who do not successfully complete their first year seminar in the fall term will be required to make up this course during the Spring term of their first year. Additionally, students who do not successfully complete FSEM 112 (Connections: A Personalized College Experience) in the Fall term of their first year will be required to register for, and successfully complete, the course in the Fall term of their sophomore year. Students who do not successfully complete FSEM 113 (First Year JTerm Experience) will be required to register for, and successfully complete, the course in the May term of their first year, at additional expense. If these courses are not successfully completed, students will not be eligible for graduation.

Fundamental Studies

This is a group of courses designed to introduce new students to basic logic and entry level processes for the successful college experience.

Fundamental Studies courses may be included in the 128 credits required for a Bethany College degree, but no more than 4 credits earned in Fundamental Studies courses may be applied to the 128 hours.

These courses may be a condition of admission for first-year and/or transfer students. Students are given the opportunity to test out of FDST 096 (Reading), 097 (Mathematics), and/or 098 (Writing). Continued enrollment in Bethany College will be contingent upon the successful completion of courses during the first two semesters of admission.

Fundamental Studies courses count in the total number of hours a student carries to maintain College eligibility during the semester taken. For each course, the student will receive a letter grade that will be included only in the calculation of the semester grade point average. Courses with a course number below 100 will not be included in the overall GPA or be eligible for honors.

FDST 086 Fundamentals of Reading (Summer Bridge) 2 credits
This course provides instruction in a variety of reading strategies used in college content areas. The course includes instruction to improve vocabulary development, comprehension, reading speed, and textbook study.

FDST 087 Fundamentals of Mathematics (Summer Bridge) 2 credits
This course provides basic mathematics instruction for college students. Emphasis is placed upon conceptual understanding of mathematics with corresponding computational skill development.

FDST 088 Fundamentals of Writing (Summer Bridge) 2 credits
This course provides instruction and practice in basic writing skills. These skills include idea development and organization, sentence structure, and proofreading.

FDST 089 Strategies for College Success (Summer Bridge) 2 credits
This course provides instruction in the general study skills necessary for college success. The focus of the course is developing learning strategies that will result in effective study habits. Topics for the course include setting goals, managing time, taking notes, improving memory, taking tests, using campus resources, and reducing anxiety.

FDST 096 Fundamentals of Reading 2 credits
This course provides instruction in a variety of reading strategies used in college content areas. The course includes instruction to improve vocabulary development, comprehension, reading speed, and textbook study.

FDST 097 Fundamentals of Mathematics 2 credits

FDST 098 Fundamentals of Writing 2 credits
This course provides instruction and practice in basic writing skills. These skills include idea development and organization, sentence structure, and proofreading.

FDST 099 Strategies for College Success 2 credits
This course provides instruction in the general study skills necessary for college success. The focus of the course is developing learning strategies that will result in effective study habits. Topics for the course include setting goals, managing time, taking notes, improving memory, taking tests, using campus resources, and reducing anxiety.

FDST 120 Extended Orientation for International Students 1 credit
This course provides an introduction to the American college experience for international students. Emphasis is on orienting students to American culture and to the Bethany College campus, academic program, student services, and social life. (Activity course: CR/NCR only. Required for all new international students.)

General Science

General Science is a grouping of courses only. It is not a department and does not offer a major. It provides a number of courses, many of which are interdisciplinary in nature, designed primarily for non-science majors. Some of the courses, however, such as History and Philosophy of Science, and Science, Technology, and Society supplement the programs of science majors. In addition, special courses are offered for those interested in teaching science in public and private schools.

Requirements for Teaching Certification

Only students who have completed the following courses or their equivalents will be recommended for state certification to teach General Science in middle and junior high schools: BIOL 100; CHEM 100 or 112; GENS 151, 202; PHYS 103 or 201; the Professional Education Requirements described in the Education section of this Catalogue and on the department's website or in the resource area in the College's courseware solution.

Courses

- GENS 100 Consumer Chemistry 4 credits
This course emphasizes an understanding of chemical concepts relevant to our everyday lives. At the end of this course, a student should be able to analyze and discuss magazine and newspaper articles dealing with the subjects related to chemistry. The course is designed for non-science students. (This course may be taken for credit as CHEM 100.)
- GENS 103 Everyday Physics 4 credits
The course is a study from non-technical and non-mathematical viewpoints of the aims, methods (experimental and theoretical), and achievements in the attempts to understand the basic principles governing the physical world. It begins with commonplace observations and concrete examples and then proceeds to generalizations and hypotheses which unify them. This course is designed for non-science majors. (This course may be taken for credit as PHYS 103.)
- GENS 151 Astronomy 4 credits
This course is designed to introduce the non-science major to the field of astronomy. Topics include the history of astronomy, light, and spectra, the solar system, stars and stellar evolution, galaxies, and the past and future history of the universe. Although the course is primarily descriptive, physical principles underlying astronomical phenomena are studied. The course includes three hours of lecture and two hours of laboratory each week. Laboratories include evening observation sessions and a field trip. An additional course fee is required. (This course may be taken for credit as PHYS 151.)
- GENS 200 Laboratory Safety for the Use of Hazardous Materials 1 credit
The course is a comprehensive review of laboratory safety practices. Students review the Chemical Hygiene Plan and its application, hazards of chemicals in the laboratory and protective measures available, use of Material Safety Data Sheets, detection of hazardous chemicals, permissible or recommended exposure limits for hazardous chemicals, proper labeling of hazardous chemicals, and safe disposal of chemicals. (Activity course: CR/NCR only.) Prerequisite: CHEM 101.
- GENS 202 Physical and Cultural Geography 3 credits
The course is a study of the interactions between environments and human activities over the earth's surface, land, sea, and air. A complementary aspect of the course is the study of place-name geography.
- GENS 204 Introduction to Geographic Information Systems 3 credits
In an introduction to Geographic Information Systems (GIS), the software mapping package (ArcGIS) is used to make maps and analyze spatial relationships on maps. Practical applications of GIS are emphasized including examples from ecology (the relationship of roads and invasive species), business (determining numbers of potential customers in an area), and government (designing efficient road systems).
- GENS 210 Science, Technology, and Society 3 credits
The course is an historical examination of the effects of scientific and technological innovations upon various societies, with emphasis being placed upon technology and science of the western world since 1850.
- GENS 220 Geology 4 credits
The course is a study of earth materials, earth structures, and the physical processes that shape the earth, including weathering, sedimentation, hydrology, diastrophism, volcanism, glaciation, and the features to which they give rise. A laboratory supplements the lecture and includes mineral and rock identification and topographic map interpretation.
- GENS 225 Environmental Geology 3 credits
The course is an application of the principles, practice, and case histories of earth science to environmental problems. Topics include water quality, landslides, subsidence, waste disposal, and geological aspects of land-use planning.
- GENS 353 History and Philosophy of Science 3 credits
The course is a study of some of the major ideas conceived by western thinkers in attempting to comprehend and describe the natural world. (This course may be taken for credit as PHIL 353.)

GENS 480 Methods and Materials in Teaching Physical and Life Sciences 3 credits

The course is a study of the aims and methods of teaching the physical and life sciences in the secondary schools. Special attention is given to teaching general laboratory procedures and techniques of teaching. Each of the departments in the physical and life sciences participates in the program. Prerequisite: 16 credits in one of the physical or life sciences or permission of the instructor; EDUC 242; a passing score on PPST-PRAXIS I; admission to the teacher education program.

History & Political Science

The Department of History and Political Science offers two majors: History and Political Science. Both are based in the liberal arts and emphasize the origin and development of institutions and ideas, the traditions that mold thought and action, and the cultural values and structures that shape politics and government, foreign policy, and international relations, and the making of public policies. Department offerings also prepare students for graduate and professional study and for careers in education, public service, or the private sector.

History

History Program Goals

The History program at Bethany College is designed to achieve the following goals for its students:

- Students will learn how to locate and evaluate primary and secondary historical sources and use them as evidence in support of a clearly stated, defensible thesis, in a style appropriate to the conventions of the historical discipline.
- Students will be able to identify and discuss some of the key themes and major issues of broad periods in U.S., European and World history and demonstrate an understanding of social change over time.
- Students will be able to distinguish between various approaches to the study of history discuss their major practitioners.

Requirements for Major in History

Twelve credits in European history, including HIST 101, 102; twelve credits in American history, including HIST 201, 202; six credits in African, Asian, or Latin American history; HIST 376, 377; a Senior Project. Also required are three credits in Political Science and INTD 251, 252, or 253, the others being strongly recommended. Students planning to attend graduate or professional schools should anticipate possible requirements in the areas of world languages, statistics, accounting, and computer technology.

Requirements for Minor in History

HIST 101, 102, 201, 202; and nine credits from 300 or 400-level offerings.

Requirements for Teaching Certification

Only students who have completed the following courses will be recommended for state certification to teach Social Studies in the secondary schools: HIST 101, 102, 201, 202, 225; SOCI 150; ECON 162 or 163; GENS 202; POLS 225; SOSC 480; the requirements for certification for Social Studies Middle Childhood Education 5-8; the courses in the Professional Education Requirements described in the Education section of this Catalogue. SOSC 480 is prerequisite to student teaching.

History Courses

HIST 101-102 World Civilizations I & II 3 credits each

These courses are a survey of world civilizations and the interactions between the different centers of civilization from the ancient world to the present. Particular emphasis is given to non-Western cultures in Asia, Africa, and the Americas. First semester covers the period from the ancient world to about AD 1400. Second semester carries through to the present.

HIST 201-202 U.S. History I & II 3 credits each

These courses survey the political, economic, and social growth of America. The first semester covers the period of exploration to 1865, and the second semester from 1865 to the present.

HIST 225 West Virginia History, Government, Geography 2 credits

ENGL 111 College Writing

This course provides instruction and practice in the process of writing effective essays from the discovery and planning stages through final revision and polishing. Emphasis is on writing correct, coherent, and fluent prose. Writing assignments focus on the effective use of traditional rhetorical modes commonly employed in academic writing and applying the writing process in responding to essay examination questions.

3 credits

ENGL 150 Honors Freshman English

This is a course for freshmen of superior ability and accomplishment. It focuses on the close reading of novels and emphasizes critical and creative writing in relation to them. This course is an alternative to ENGL 111. Usually offered Fall semester. Enrollment is by invitation only.

3 credits

- ENGL 155 Writing from Sources 3 credits
This course is a continuation of College Writing which includes additional instruction and practice in the writing process; continued emphasis on writing correct, coherent, and fluent prose; and additional practice in the use of rhetorical modes. Writing assignments focus on analyzing, evaluating, and responding to published writings and on developing resource-based essays.
- ENGL 156 Introduction to Literary Studies 3 credits
This course is dedicated to studying poetry, fiction, and drama by international authors from diverse cultures. Primary emphasis is on the process of applying students' knowledge of genre and relevant terminology to the close reading of literary texts. Students are introduced to various critical approaches to reading, researching, and writing about literature including Feminist Theory, Marxist Theory, Reader Response Criticism, and New Historicism.
- ENGL 160 Introduction to Film 3 credits
This course is an introduction to the study of film as a cultural and technical artifact and as a form of art. Students learn basic principles of film aesthetics and production to provide the skills necessary to "read" the film as art. The course also places a strong emphasis on the social context of film and the place movies hold in our culture, and introduces the general areas of study within film scholarship.
- ENGL 200 Literature and Literary Diversity 3 credits
This course is an introduction to the study of poetry, drama, and fiction and an exploration of the diversity of literary expression. Students study the elements of each of the primary genres and examine their interrelationships and functioning in particular works. In the course a wide range of writings are studied, including those by women and men, those representative of diverse literary traditions (including British, American, European, and non-Western), and those reflecting a variety of American ethnic and racial backgrounds. (Enrollment is limited to 16 students with preference to those preparing to teach in elementary, middle, or secondary school.)
- ENGL 212 Writing for College and Community 3 credits
This course focuses on primary research and writing skills as tools to explore the value of "service" within various subcultures. Students participate in service projects that meet actual community needs and reflect on the projects by thinking, talking, and writing about their experiences. Students increase knowledge of real life situations in the community and consider the effectiveness of state and nationally sponsored service organizations while examining various approaches to civic responsibility.
- ENGL 220 Writing for Business and Industry 3 credits
This course is an introduction to writing for the business world. Subjects covered include employment documents (applications, cover letters, resumes, job descriptions); business letters; summaries; informal reports (trip reports, occurrence reports, investigative reports); procedural instructions; process descriptions; and various types of memoranda, including electronic.
- ENGL 223 Technical Writing 3 credits
This is a workshop for training and practice in the written communication of specialized information to audiences with varying levels of knowledge. Emphasis is on the analysis of audience and purpose, the selection and organization of information, the creation of informative graphics, and the uses of conventional formats. Students learn to develop summaries and abstracts, instruction sets, proposals, progress and completion reports, and other types of written documents often required of professionals. Students make use of the College's computer facilities for word processing and for generating graphs, tables, charts, illustrations, and other visuals. Offered Fall semester in odd-numbered years.
- ENGL 230 Writing from Nature 3 credits
This is an intermediate-level essay-writing course focusing on the development of such skills as observing, reflecting, making connections, classifying, and integrating. Essay assignments emphasize seeing the natural world from the broader perspective of understanding the interaction of nature with civilization, the symbiotic relationships inherent in nature, and the life cycles of nature. Preparation for writing assignments includes field trips and other activities both on and off the Bethany campus.
- ENGL 240 Creative Writing 3 credits
This is an intensive course in imaginative writing. Students write sketches, short fiction, poems, and dramatic scenes. Students use the College's computer facilities for independent writing, specific course assignments, in-class writing, electronic intra-class communication, small-group conferences, and submission of some assignments. (This course is required for students preparing to teach secondary school English. Enrollment is limited to 15 students with preference given to juniors and seniors.)
- ENGL 245-246 British Literature I & II 3 credits each
These courses examine the development of British literature from the beginning through the 20th century. First Semester: from Beowulf through Milton. Second Semester: from the Restoration to the present.
- ENGL 250 American Literature 3 credits
This course examines the development of American literature from the Colonial Period to the present.
- ENGL 264 Masterpieces of Drama 3 credits
This course is a study of the development of Western drama. Emphasis is on the evolution of dramatic types and forms, on techniques for reading and understanding plays, and on the analysis and evaluation of dramatic works.
- ENGL 266 Masterpieces of European Literature 3 credits
This course is an examination of major literary works by European writers in the 17th, 18th, and 19th centuries. Writings are studied by such authors as Voltaire, Molière, Rousseau, Stendhal, the brothers Grimm, Goethe, Flaubert, Tolstoy, Dostoyevski, Chekhov, Ibsen, and Strindberg.

- ENGL 267 Masterpieces of World Literature 3 credits
 This course is a study of literary works representing a cross-section of the world's cultural traditions. Readings range from the ancient (such as the Sumerian Epic of Gilgamesh) to the contemporary (such as the novels of the Nigerian Chinua Achebe), from the East (such as the Japanese Noh and Kabuki plays) to the West (such as the magical realism of the Columbian Gabriel Garcia Márquez), and from the traditional (such as the Japanese haikus of Matsuo Basho) to the westernized (such as the modern Chinese poetry of Wen I-to); however, emphasis is on writing from more recent eras. The relationship of particular literary works to other aspects of the cultures in which they were produced (especially music and the visual arts) is examined. (Enrollment is limited to 16 students with preference to those preparing to teach in middle or secondary school.)
- ENGL 268 Modern World Literature 3 credits
 This is a study of the work of 20th century writers representing the diverse cultural traditions of the modern world. In addition to writings representing the western tradition, works are studied representing such traditions as the Eastern European, the Middle Eastern, the African, the Latin American, and the Asian.
- ENGL 270 Shakespeare 3 credits
 Major plays of William Shakespeare are studied in this course. Both the texts of the plays and the cultural context that produced them are examined.
- ENGL 275 American Short Stories 3 credits

Emphasis is on the analysis of specific novels and their relationships to the development of American literature. Usually offered Fall semester in odd-numbered years. Prerequisites: ENGL 255, 256, or one of these courses and concurrent enrollment in the other.

- ENGL 366 Regional American Literature 3 credits
This course allows students to focus on a distinct region of the United States by investigating how factors such as culture, history, and geography influence the region's literature. Students are encouraged to contact the instructor before registering in order to learn which region will serve as the focus of the semester's study.
- ENGL 370 Introduction to Linguistics 3 credits
This course introduces the basic concepts and terminology of linguistics. It incorporates the study of the acquisition and development of language from the earliest babbling to mature language patterns, including the examination of typical language abilities of children at various ages. (This course may be taken for credit as WLAC 370.)
- ENGL 379 Systems of English Grammar and the Development of Modern English 3 credits
This course is a study of the history of the English language and an investigation of systems of English grammar such as traditional grammar, structural grammar, transformational grammar, and the grammars of minorities. Offered only in Spring semester of odd-numbered years.
- ENGL 383 African American Novel 3 credits
This course traces the evolution of the novel from the slave narrative through Reconstruction, the Harlem Renaissance, and the Black Arts Movement, to the neo-slave narrative and contemporary African American literature. While the novel is the focus of the course, special attention is paid to African American history and culture, as well as relevant scholarship and critical theory.
- ENGL 385 Women and Literature: The American Experience 3 credits
This course centers around writings by American women about their experiences as they have imagined, theorized, and otherwise rendered them. Because the course focuses heavily on the act of reading and analyzing literary texts, historical background, literary theory, and students' critical thinking and writing figure prominently into the course.

These seminars provide students with the opportunity to study an author, period, movement, or tradition in British literature. (Enrollment in each course limited to 12 students. Topics change regularly.) Prerequisite: previous study of the author, period, movement, or tradition in a survey course.
- ENGL 430 Chaucer 3 credits
This course is a study of major works by Geoffrey Chaucer, with special attention given to his language, life, and times.
- ENGL 431 British Modernism 3 credits
This course examines British modernism from its immediate antecedents in W.B. Yeats and Joseph Conrad through authors such as Joyce, Eliot, and Woolf. In addition to these writers, the course examines early 20th-century art, music, and history as contexts that helped shape this literary period. The course seeks to develop a sense of the key characteristics of British modernism while complicating that definition through critical engagement with the readings.
- ENGL 433 The Restoration 3 credits
This course examines the literature of the Restoration period of English History. With the restoration of the Stuarts, England authorized women on the stage and in the literary marketplace, and nourished the development of the early novel and experimental science. The literature strains to balance political liberty and personal libertinism with censorship and restraint, grapples with gender roles and sexual morality, and gives rise to one of the greatest periods of English comedy. Writers examined include Milton, Congreve, Wycherly, Ethridge, Behn, Centlivre, Bunyan, Pepys, Dryden, Waller, and Rochester.
- ENGL 434 Jane Austen and Virginia Woolf 3 credits
This course is a study of the works of Jane Austen and Virginia Woolf. - ENGL 443 Seventeenth Century British Literature 3 credits
 This is a study of plays, poetry, and criticism of Ben Jonson; the Cavalier poets (Herrick, Lovelace, Suckling, and Waller); the Metaphysical poets (Donne, Herbert, Vaughn); the work of Samuel Pepys; and plays and criticism by Dryden.
- ENGL 444 Elizabethan Drama 3 credits
 This course is a close reading of plays written by Shakespeare's contemporaries. Emphasized is the work of Ben Jonson and Christopher Marlowe.
- ENGL 445 Victorian Writers 3 credits
 This is an investigation of major poems by Tennyson and Browning, poems and criticism by Arnold, and novels by Dickens, Thackeray, and George Eliot.
- ENGL 446 Milton 3 credits
 This is a study of Paradise Lost, Paradise Regained, and Samson Agonistes, with some attention to the sonnets, other minor poems, and the Areopagitica. Emphasis is on Milton's theological ideas, architectonics, and relationships with the literature and political developments of his age.
- ENGL 447 Eighteenth Century British Literature 3 credits
 This is a study of eighteenth century British writing. The first half emphasizes the neo-classical satirists, including Dryden, Pope, Swift, and Addison and Steele. The second half emphasizes the Johnson circle, including Samuel Johnson, Boswell, and Goldsmith. Pre-Romantic writers such as Gray, Thomson, and Burns are also considered.
- ENGL 449 British Romanticism 3 credits
 This is a study of major British authors of the Romantic Period and the influences upon them. The course investigates works in various imaginative genres and the biographical and philosophical works of the period. Emphasis is on writers such as Blake, Mary Shelley, Percy Bysshe Shelley, William and Dorothy Wordsworth, Coleridge, Byron, and Keats.
- ENGL 450-459 Seminar in American Literature 3 credits each
 These seminars provide students with the opportunity to study an author, period, movement, or tradition in American literature. (Enrollment in each course limited to 12 students. Topics change regularly.) Prerequisite: previous study of the author, period, movement, or tradition in a survey course.

- ENGL 454 Hemingway 3 credits
 This is a study of Hemingway's fiction from In Our Time through The Garden of Eden. Emphasis is on the evolution of Hemingway's themes and style, on his revision process, and on the relation of his life to his work.
- ENGL 462 Films of Alfred Hitchcock 3 credits
 This is a critical examination of cinematic technique and thematic concerns in major films by Alfred Hitchcock, such as The Lodger, Blackmail, Shadow of a Doubt, Notorious, Vertigo, Rear Window, North by Northwest, and Psycho. Prerequisite: ENGL 160.
- ENGL 477 Senior Seminar 3 credits
 This course is a reading and research seminar designed to assist students to review, organize, and synthesize their knowledge of literature. (The course is open to qualified juniors intending to take comprehensive examinations in January.) Prerequisites: ENGL 156, 245, 246, 255, 256, or permission of the instructor.

ENGL 480 Methods of Teaching English3 credits

This course is a study of materials and methods used in teaching middle and secondary school English. The course focuses on theories and contemporary practices. Particular emphasis is on examining important works of literature about or of special interest to adolescents, developing an understanding of and appreciation for adolescent literature, and learning and applying strategies and techniques for presenting the works to students. Also emphasized are learning and applying strategies for assessing and improving the reading skills of students. (This course may be taken for credit as EDUC 480.) Offered only in Spring semester of odd-numbered years. Prerequisites: EDUC 242; a passing score on PPST-PRAXIS I; admission to the teacher education program.

ENGL 481 The Practice of Tutorial Writing1 credit

This is an activity course providing instruction and practice in peer tutoring. Students enrolled in the course gain practical experience by serving as tutors in First-Year Seminars and/or the Writing Center. (CR/NCR only.) Open only to students selected by the Course Instructor.

ENGL 483 Teaching Composition and Language3 credits

This course examines historical and current theories of composition as a conceptual background for both teaching and writing, with emphasis on the writing process. Students practice both writing and teaching writing and learn and apply strategies for teaching grammar and integrating instruction in grammar with instruction in composition. Offered only in Spring semester of odd-numbered years.

ENGL 484 Methods of Teaching English as a World Language: Selected Methodological Issues 3 credits

This course introduces methods and materials necessary for teaching English as a second language and provides instruction and practice in planning lessons and extracurricular activities. (This course may be taken for credit as WLAC 484 or EDUC 484.)

ENGL 487-488 Independent Study1-4 credits

The Department provides an opportunity for study in any area of English for which the student is qualified. Independent study is intended to supplement regular course offerings. Prerequisite: Adequate preparation to undertake the study as determined by the instructor.

ENGL 489 Internship2-6 credits

The Department provides an opportunity for students to receive credit for an internship in any area of English for which the student is qualified. Prerequisite: Adequate preparation to undertake the internship as determined by the Department.

ENGL 490 Senior Project2-4 credits

The senior project generally consists of a major critical paper on a topic developed from at least one of the student's elective courses in the department. Sometimes projects may take other forms. Reading, research, and writing are completed during the student's senior year, although the student is expected to consult with the chair of the Department and to begin preliminary work in the junior year.

ENGL 495 Graduation AuditNon-credit

Registration for this course initiates a graduation audit process to verify that all requirements for graduation are scheduled to be met by the anticipated degree completion date.

Requirements for Major in Religious Studies

The following courses are required for all students: RELS 220, 224, 301, 311, 321, 326, 417, 490; PHIL 355. In addition each student must complete two additional Religious Studies courses at the 200 or 300 level. At least one of the two should be in a non-western tradition or topic.

Requirements for Minors

Religious Studies: The Religious Studies minor requires a minimum of 15 credits in the department exclusive of the college Religious Studies requirement. The following courses are required: RELS 220, 301, and 311. At least one of the two additional courses must be a 200, 300, or 400 level course.

Philosophy: Phil 100, 123, 124, and three upper level (200 or above) Philosophy courses.

Religious Studies Courses

RELS 100 Introduction to Religion: Texts, Contexts, Practices

3 credits

This course introduces students to the critical study of religions and to the character of religious traditions as living, dynamic communities of interpretation with textual, ritual, moral, philosophical and practical dimensions. The course considers three different religious traditions through the lens of a topic or problem with which religions are concerned or through which they can be usefully analyzed. The topic and the traditions vary with the expertise and interest of the professor teaching the course, but one eastern tradition and one biblical tradition are always included. Attention is given to the nature and definition of religion and to methodologies in the critical study of religion.

RELS 101-110 Biblical Literature Seminars

3 credits each

Each of the seminars below undertakes a critical study of a selection of Biblical texts which seeks (a) to locate and understand them in their original historical, cultural, and social contexts and (b) to recognize how they have functioned and continue to function in the construction of Western culture.

RELS 101 Women and the Bible

Women and the Bible examines the role(s) of women in the Bible, the ways in which such roles were constructed and reinforced in the Western tradition, and the contemporary viability of this tradition. The course critically examines the polarity of "mother" and "fallen woman" as the prototypical models of "appropriate" female behavior and social acceptance, and the ways in which "salvation" is construed for each type.

RELS 102 Satan and the Existence of Evil

Satan and the Existence of Evil undertakes a historical analysis of the evolution of the character of "the Satan" and "the Devil" in the Bible, in the character of Lucifer in the Western tradition, and in contemporary discourse concerning evil. The course critically examines the personification of evil in women, non-Christian religions, Christian minorities, and related "marginal" groups.

RELS 104 The Exodus, Liberation, and Hope

The Exodus, Liberation, and Hope examines the nature of the Biblical story of the exodus as an historical account of an actual event and as a theological construct for the Jewish and Christian religions. The course critically examines the use of exodus images in the early civil rights movement in America, especially in the writings of Martin Luther King, Jr., and in a variety of liberation theologies in an effort to understand the relationship between religious images and social change.

RELS 106 Food, Sacrifice, and Communion

Food, Sacrifice, and Communion examines a variety of Biblical understandings of food and sacrifice in relation to sacred space, divine presence, and the divine law, reviews the status of food as a religious symbol in the lives of several medieval Christian women, and addresses issues and problems associated with “food” in contemporary American culture.

RELS 107 History, Violence, and the Will of God

History, Violence, and the Will of God examines the role of violence in a variety of Biblical texts (violence undertaken as the will of God, violence as an act of God, and violence as a human response to real-life experiences) in an effort to understand the relationship between violence and history, reviews various moments in the history of the church in which violence was used to generate or maintain power, and critically examines the role of violence in contemporary American culture—in films, on television, in music, and in the streets.

RELS 108 Death and the Afterlife

Death and the Afterlife is a critical examination of a selection of Biblical texts which deal with death, dying, and the “next life,” an exploration of ways Western culture has attempted to address and understand these issues, and a comparative analysis of similar themes in a variety of non-Western traditions. The course examines ways in which various constructions of “heaven” and “hell” reflect social structures, social values, and notions of justice.

RELS 220 Introduction to World Religions3 credits

Introduction to World Religions is a thematic introduction to the study of religion and examines the multiplicity of ways in which humans throughout the world find and create meaning and value in their lives. Primary religious traditions of both the East and West, including ancient indigenous cultures and their contemporary expressions, are studied.

RELS 223 Hinduism and Buddhism3 credits

This course considers two of the world’s religious traditions with roots in the Indian sub-continent. The focus of the course is on the development of non-dualism as a religious philosophy in contrast with western forms of dualism and monotheism; and on the rituals, forms of meditation, and social activities that constitute Hindu and Buddhist practice. Some attention will be paid to the construction of these traditions through western ideas of “religion” and on the place of Hindu and Buddhist forms of life in contemporary social and political contexts.

RELS 224 Religion and Culture3 credits

Religion and Culture explores the relationship between religion and culture and the variety of ways in which they are mutually interactive in the construction of, for example, meaning, values, worldviews, practices, institutions, and artifacts. As part of that exploration, the course undertakes a critical analysis of the theoretical and methodological concerns associated with the academic study of religion.

RELS 228 Buddhism3 credits

An introduction to the phenomenon known as ‘Buddhism,’ a term covering the pan-Asian tradition of discourse and practice centered around the significance of an Indian prince and ascetic who lived roughly 2500 years ago. Students consider the life and teachings of the Buddha in their historical and cultural context; Buddhist rituals and practices; and the development of Buddhism in its migration both east and west. Special attention is given to the encounter of Buddhism with western philosophy, theism, and culture, and to the American preoccupation with the Buddhism of Japan and Tibet.

RELS 229 Christianity3 credits

This course begins with a brief examination of Jesus and the birth of the Christian movement; then focuses on the major institutional, theological and ritual developments that occurred in Christianity over the period in which Roman rule gave way to the Byzantine Empire. The second part of the course narrows its scope to Christianity in the west through a selective analysis of key periods and issues...[including] intellectual ferment and Christian interaction with Jews and Muslims in the Middle Ages; the 16th century Reformation; colonial expansion and inter-religious encounter; and Christianity and modernity.

RELS 231 Judaism3 credits

This course will explore the origins of an ancient faith through a close examination of the early traditions and laws presented in the Hebrew Bible as well as the various cultural contexts of the ancient Near East that influenced them. The course utilizes the Hebrew Bible, portions of the Babylonian Talmud, and the Zohar to trace the development of these ancient traditions and practices into the various branches of modern Judaism and the foremost concerns and challenges faced by the modern Jewish communities.

RELS 233 Faces of Jesus in Theology, Art, and Literature3 credits

This course is embedded in the realization that Christianity is not a single, unified system but a family of related traditions centered on the religious significance of Jesus of Nazareth. Jesus himself is depicted in diverse ways throughout history. This course takes a selective journey through western and eastern Christian theologies, considering their relationship with artistic and literary depictions of Jesus. Included in the scope of exploration are 1st century biblical texts and non-canonical gospels; classical theology and the Byzantine tradition; the medieval period; and contemporary Latin American and Asian Christian traditions. Some attention will be given to sacred architecture as theology in bricks and mortar. The course concludes with a reading of Shusaku Endo’s Silence as students consider the relationship between religious belief and visual representations of the divine.

- RELS 235 Sex, the Body, and Religion 3 credits
 This course examines the origins of attitudes and beliefs in the Judeo-Christian traditions concerning human sexuality and the human body. Focus is on the contribution of such beliefs in the evolving relationship between the individual and society. The course begins with an exploration of Levantine fertility cults and traces their influence on early Judaism. Moving toward the emergence and eventual spread of Christianity, discussion centers on the continued influence of Near Eastern fertility traditions on gender differentiation, the “fall” of humanity, and procreation. Topics such as marriage and divorce, birth control and abortion, asceticism and celibacy, and death and resurrection of the body will be discussed within the context of Judeo-Christian tests and traditions.
- RELS 259 Special Topics in Religious Studies 3 credits
 From time to time, topics will be offered under this designation to address issues of particular currency, pursue topics of interest to students, or to make faculty research projects available for student learning.
- RELS 270 Introduction to Biblical Hebrew 3 credits
 This course provides the student with a working knowledge of Biblical Hebrew. With successful completion of this course, the student will be able to read selected passages of narrative in the Hebrew Bible with the aid of a lexicon. The course will begin with an introduction of the Hebrew writing system. The students learn to read and write consonants and vowel points in both block and cursive script. Following the students’ successful mastery of the writing system, the course undertakes Hebrew grammar and basic syntax, as well as Hebrew vocabulary. This course also introduces elementary conversational elements of modern Israeli Hebrew, such as basic greetings, introductions, and inquiries, thus this course emphasizes both written and oral skills.
- RELS 271 Biblical Hebrew II 3 credits
 The purpose of this course is to strengthen students’ comprehension of basic Biblical Hebrew. With the successful completion of this course, students will build a strong knowledge base in Hebrew vocabulary, verb paradigms, and grammar essentials. This course enables students to utilize and navigate a Hebrew-English lexicon to translate biblical passages successfully. Minor emphasis is placed on Modern Hebrew conversational skills and vocabulary.
- RELS 301 Poetry, Prophecy, and (Poly)theism: A Critical Analysis of the Hebrew Bible 3 credits
 This course is an historical-critical analysis of the books of the Hebrew Bible that emphasizes the historical, social, and ideological dynamics of various authorial traditions within this corpus. Additionally, these texts are analyzed within modern interpretive frameworks in order to recognize the ways in which themes from the Hebrew Bible continue to play a role in the construction of Western thought and culture.
- RELS 303 Job: Story and Theology 3 credits
 Job: Story and Theology is an exegetical study of the book of Job which explores the ways in which story gives rise to theology. Central to the discussion is analysis of the relationship between the creator (God) and the creature (Job). In addition, several modern works of fiction are read which address questions concerning the relationship between creator and creature, the loss of comfortable worldviews, and the nature of human struggle.
- RELS 305 Introduction to Biblical Archaeology 3 credits
 This course is an introduction to the archaeology of the ancient Near East as it pertains to the Hebrew Bible. The initial phase of this course will explore basic archaeological field methods, terminology, and chronologies, and will offer a brief history of “biblical archaeology.” The second phase of the course examines a variety of major excavations throughout the Middle East and presents an overview of the archaeological data from these sites, ranging (in most cases) from the Late Bronze Age through Iron Age II.
- RELS 311 Studies in the Gospels 3 credits
 Studies in the Gospels is an introduction to methods of critical analysis in New Testament interpretation, highlighting the messages presented by the writers of the synoptic gospels. Students explore the ways in which both traditional and contemporary methods of exegetical analysis contribute to the discussion of the “historical” Jesus of Nazareth.
- RELS 321 Myth, Symbol, and Ritual 3 credits
 This course explores the relationship between ritual practices, symbols deployed in ritual actions, and the narrative and metaphysical elements of religious belief. Classical and contemporary formulations of this relationship will be considered. The course constitutes a critique of the popular reduction of religions to “belief systems” and gives special attention to the importance of ritual and the practices of the body in the construction of a religious worldview.
- RELS 326 The World of Late Antiquity 3 credits
 The World of Late Antiquity surveys the many different and competing elements of religious views found in ancient Greco-Roman culture through the first five centuries of the common era. Particular attention is given to the philosophical, sociological, theological, and political environment of ancient Mediterranean culture in an effort to understand the influence these views had on the Western tradition.
- RELS 337 Religion and Philosophy in the Middle Ages 3 credits
 The focus of this course is the development of religious and philosophical thought in the European Middle Ages, understood as the period from about the fourth to the fifteenth century. It addresses the roots of Medieval thought, the varieties of Medieval thought within and across the three European religions of the Middle Ages (Judaism, Christianity, and Islam), and of course Medieval religious practice, both authorized and otherwise. The course will explore the nature of intellectual and practical creativity, autonomy and authority during the period; key religious imagery (e.g. Jesus as mother); key philosophical trends and concerns (e.g. the problem of universals, mind and the active intellect, semiotics, the development of universities, etc.); and the inter-religious dialogue, tolerance, and violence. (This course may be taken for credit as PHIL 337.)

- RELS 352 Islamic Civilization 3 credits
 This course is a survey of the emergence of Islam during late Roman antiquity and the middle ages, highlighting the life of the prophet Mohammed and the development of Islamic religion, philosophy, and literature in the early Islamic empires. Also considered is the development of Islamic fundamentalism in the modern world and institutional, operational, and environmental factors which demonstrate differences between the Islamic and the Western worlds.
- RELS 417 A History of Biblical Interpretation 3 credits
 A History of Biblical Interpretation undertakes a detailed analysis of the socio-cultural, historical, political, ideological, philosophical, methodological, and theological dynamics involved in the interpretation of the Bible in Western culture with particular emphasis on the modern period. Topics include the nature and role of authority, epistemology, science and religion, institutions and power, the development and rise of the historical-critical method, and the role of the church in the interpretation of the Bible.
- RELS 487-488 Independent Study 3 credits
- RELS 490 Senior Project 2-4 credits
- RELS 495 Graduation Audit Non-credit
 Registration for this course initiates a graduation audit process to verify that all requirements for graduation are scheduled to be met by the anticipated degree completion date.

Philosophy Courses

- PHIL 100 Introduction to Philosophy 3 credits
 This course is an introductory-level exploration of the major sub-divisions of the field of philosophy. Topics include such areas as logic, responsibility, ethics, virtue, political philosophy, metaphysics, epistemology, philosophy of religion, philosophy of science, personhood, and “the nature of philosophy.”
- PHIL 123 Introduction to Logic 3 credits
 This course is intended for those who are beginning the study of logic. Distinctions are drawn between deductive and inductive procedures; informal and formal fallacies are studied; formal argument structures are noted; and methods of distinguishing between valid and invalid argument forms are introduced (including Venn Diagrams, Rule Sets, Truth Tables, and Rules of Inference).
- PHIL 124 Introduction to Ethics 3 credits
 A major goal of this course is to provide students with the opportunity to acquire basic knowledge of the fundamental principles and beliefs upon which individuals and groups have built or thought they built a system of morals or “ethics.” A variety of ethical stances are studied, with attention given to when they arose, the basis of their apparent appeal, and the consequences of acting in accord with those stances.
- PHIL 250-259 Special Topics in Philosophy 3 credits each
- PHIL 252 Philosophy of Mysticism 3 credits
 Major emphasis in this study is given to trying to understand the basic claims that mystics make, assessing the kinds of certainty, truth, and insight claimed, and exploring the place of “the mystical” in human experience. Students examine what is involved in the experience and claims of several mystical groups or representatives from ancient to contemporary times.
- PHIL 254 Contemporary Ethical Issues 3 credits
 The focus of this course is “applied philosophy.” Typical of such endeavors, Phase One is considered an “informed” background through a sweeping survey of the major strengths and weaknesses of the most popular and most tenable “ethical” stances. Then Phase Two is undertaken, involving a critical exploration of several ethical issues in the context of “morality and social policy,” e.g. euthanasia, the death penalty, hate speech, sexism, racism, oppression, economic justice, and welfare.
- PHIL 333 History of Philosophy: Ancient through Modern 3 credits
 Emphasis is placed on the dialogue-like journey of ideas through the minds of men and women through history and the consequences of changed interpretations of persons and institutions through different historical eras. In this study process students discover and evaluate common Twentieth Century assumptions. Through tracing development and change of Western philosophy from the Pre-Socratic through the Modern eras, study focuses upon such topics as Metaphysics, Epistemology and Methods/Models, Ethics, Political Philosophy, and Philosophy of Religions.
- PHIL 334 Existential Philosophy 3 credits
 This course involves a study of works of certain predecessors of existentialism, the influences of Kierkegaard and Nietzsche, and themes and issues portrayed in selected works of Sartre, Camus, and others that may be taken as typical of that amorphous movement in the history of philosophy known as Existentialism.
- PHIL 336 Twentieth-Century Philosophy 3 credits
 The focus of this course is on selected works of several Continental and Anglo-American thinkers who have stimulated the “intellectuals” of the 20th century. Some have achieved a status equivalent to the “canonical” in philosophy; others have not as yet, but may be on their way.

PHIL 337 Religion and Philosophy in the Middle Ages 3 credits
The focus of this course is the development of religious and philosophical thought in the European Middle Ages, understood as the period from about the fourth to the fifteenth century. It addresses the roots of Medieval thought, the varieties of Medieval thought within and across the three European religions of the Middle Ages (Judaism, Christianity, and Islam), and of course Medieval religious practice, both authorized and otherwise. The course will explore the nature of intellectual and practical creativity, autonomy and authority during the period; key religious imagery (e.g. Jesus as mother); key philosophical trends and concerns (e.g. the problem of universals, mind and the active intellect, semiotics, the development of universities, etc.); and the inter-religious dialogue, tolerance, and violence. (This course may be taken for credit as RELS 337).

PHIL 350-359 Advanced Topics in Philosophy 3 credits each

PHIL 353 History and Philosophy of Science 3 credits
This course is a study of the major ideas conceived by western thinkers in attempting to comprehend and describe the natural world. (This course may be taken for credit as GENS 353).

PHIL 355 Philosophy of Religion 3 credits
The major aspects of religion are examined from a philosophical perspective. Topics studied are the religious experience, the meaning and significance of faith, belief and criteria, knowledge, proof, evidence, and certainty, the concept of deity, and the impact of religion on human life.

PHIL 358 Aesthetics, the Arts, and Philosophy 3 credits
This study is an examination of the nature of aesthetic experience, its relation to other kinds of experience, and its place in art production, appreciation, and creativity; the notion of a work of art; language used in description, interpretation, and evaluation of art; and differing interpretations of aesthetics. Opportunities are provided for giving special attention to particular art areas as well as to "the Arts."

PHIL 361 Ancient and Medieval Political Thought 3 credits
This course provides an introduction to ancient and medieval political thought. Fundamental questions examined include: What is the relationship between ethics and politics?; What is a good regime?; What is a good citizen?; What is the relationship between law and ethics?; What is the relationship between theology and political thought? Students are guided in a close reading of important political works, including Plato's Apology and Republic, Aristotle's Nicomachean Ethics and Politics, and Augustine's City of God. (This course can be taken as POLS 361.)

PHIL 362 Modern Political Thought 3 credits
As an introduction to modern and post-modern political thought, students examine the writings of important political thinkers of the past 500 years, including Machiavelli, Hobbes, Locke, Marx, Nietzsche, Dostoyevsky, and Camus. Emphasis is on the development of liberal democratic thought and its many recent critiques, including Marxism, feminism, and communitarianism. (This course can be taken as POLS 362.)

PHIL 451 Advanced Ethical Theory 3 credits
This course is a study of one or more modern ethical theorists and their challenges to (or defenses or reformulations of) classical ethical thinking. The course may be taught in a variety of ways, including focusing on a single theoretical issue and its practical ramifications or a single practical problem and its theoretical responses, a single philosopher or even single work. A major research project and presentation are required components.

PHIL 487-488 Independent Study 2-4 credits

World Languages and Cultures Program Goals

The World Languages and Cultures program is designed to achieve the following goals for their students:

- Communication: Communicate in Languages Other Than English
 - * Students engage in conversations, provide and obtain information, express feelings and emotions, and exchange opinions
 - * Students understand and interpret written and spoken language on a variety of topics
 - * Students present information, concepts, and ideas to an audience of listeners or readers on a variety of topics
- Cultures: Gain Knowledge and Understanding of Other Cultures
 - * Students demonstrate an understanding of the relationship between the practices and perspectives of the cultures studied
 - * Students demonstrate an understanding of the relationship between the products and perspectives of the culture studied
- Connections: Connect with Other Disciplines and Acquire Information
 - * Students reinforce and further their knowledge of other disciplines through the foreign language
 - * Students acquire information and recognize the distinctive viewpoints that are only available through the foreign language and its cultures
- Comparisons: Develop Insight into the Nature of Language and Culture
 - * Students demonstrate understanding of the nature of language comparisons of the language studied to their own
 - * Students demonstrate understanding of the concept of culture through comparisons of the cultures studied and their own
- Communities: Participate in Multilingual Communities at Home and Around the World
 - * Students use the language both within and beyond the school setting
 - * Students show evidence of becoming life-long learners by using the language for personal enjoyment and enrichment.

Requirements for a Major in Spanish

A minimum of 30 credits in Spanish beyond SPAN 130, including SPAN 210, 220, 221, 320, 321, 330, 420, 421, 422, 423; WLAC or ENGL 370; SPAN 490. Additional requirements include EITHER one course from INTD 251, 252, and 253; and one course from HIST 311, 312, 313, VISA 100, 101; OR two courses from INTD 251, 252, and 253. Students in the Spanish major are strongly encouraged to consider a semester study abroad or one/two short term study abroad experiences in a country where Spanish is spoken. This experience will enhance the student's proficiency in the Spanish language and Hispanic cultures. Bethany College maintains a program at the University of Navarra in Pamplona, Spain. Additionally, the major advisor will work closely with students who plan to study abroad to ensure transfer equivalencies for courses taken at other institutions.

Requirements for Teaching Certification

Spanish: Only students who have completed the following courses will be recommended for state certification to teach Spanish: SPAN 110, 120, 130, 220, 221, 320, 321, 330, 420, 421, 422, 423; WLAC or ENGL 370; WLAC or EDUC 480; WLAC 481; the courses in the Professional Education Requirements described in the Education section of this Catalogue. The following are prerequisites for student teaching: WLAC or EDUC 480; WLAC 481; and a minimum level of Advanced Low on the ACTFL Oral Proficiency Interview.

Requirements for Minors in World Languages & Cultures

For each of the minors in World Languages & Cultures, a minimum of 12 credits above the 130 level are required as follows:

French: FREN 220, 221, either 320 or 321, either 420 or 421. (Study abroad may replace either FREN 220 or 221.)

German: GRMN 220, 221, either 320 or 321, either 420 or 421. (Study abroad may replace either GRMN 220 or 221.)

Spanish: Four courses beyond SPAN 130, chosen from the following groups: one course from SPAN 220, 221; one course from SPAN 320, 321; one course from SPAN 420, 421, 422, 423, and one course from SPAN 210, 220, 221, or 330. Students taking SPAN 220 or 221 to satisfy the requirement for the first group must take a different course to satisfy the requirement in the last group. (Study abroad may replace either SPAN 220 or 221.)

Courses in French Language & Cultures

FREN 110 French Language & Cultures I

Interdisciplinary Studies

Faculty

Elizabeth M. Hull. Professor of English in the Dr. Robert L. Martin Chair in English Literature, Director

Program Goals

The Interdisciplinary Studies program at Bethany College is designed to achieve the following goals:

- Create a broader array of educational opportunities, including minors and majors, at Bethany College.
- Assist students to design, propose, and complete a coherent, individualized and interdisciplinary degree program that is not currently available at Bethany. Assist faculty to design, propose, and, for three years, administer interdisciplinary degree programs.
- Provide students in interdisciplinary majors with senior capstone experiences through interdisciplinary senior projects and comprehensive examinations.
- Foster the design and provision of interdisciplinary courses at Bethany College.

Requirements for Major

The Interdisciplinary Studies Department coordinates faculty-sponsored and student-initiated programs of study that cross departmental lines. The originator of an interdisciplinary major is responsible for establishing and justifying its goals and curriculum. The program must include at least 36 credits (excluding the Senior Project), but may not exceed 72 credits. No more than 48 credits in any one department can be counted toward fulfilling Bethany's degree requirements. The major must be approved by the Faculty Committee on Interdisciplinary Studies.

Student-Initiated Interdisciplinary Majors

To initiate a major in Interdisciplinary Studies, a student must submit a formal proposal to the Director of Interdisciplinary Studies prior to the last day of classes before mid-term of the second semester of the sophomore year. (A later proposal may be considered if the student has already completed a significant part of the curriculum of the program or is willing to take more than the usual four years to complete degree requirements.) The proposal must follow guidelines established by the Faculty Committee on Interdisciplinary Studies and be prepared with the guidance of the Director of Interdisciplinary Studies.

The proposal must be approved by the Faculty Committee on Interdisciplinary Studies. A proposal is normally approved only from a student who has an overall grade-point average of 3.00 at the time the proposal is made. To continue in the program the student must maintain the 3.00 grade-point average during the semester in which the proposal is approved and during the following semester. (In special circumstances the Faculty Committee on Interdisciplinary Studies may waive grade-point requirements to consider a proposal from a student with a lower grade-point average and/or establish a lower grade-point requirement for that student's continuing in the program.)

When a proposal has been approved, it becomes the statement of goals and requirements for the student's major and is filed in the Office of the Registrar. It may not be modified without endorsement by the Director of Interdisciplinary Studies and approval of the Faculty Committee on Interdisciplinary Studies. The Director of Interdisciplinary Studies supervises the student's work in the program and serves as the student's academic advisor.

Program Goals

The Physical Education-Sport Studies program utilizes three academic tracks to provide opportunities for students to develop the theoretical knowledge and practical skills consistent with industry best practices in Sport Management, Sport Communication, and Physical Education Teacher Certification. Coupled with the goals of the General Education program, tracks are designed to meet the standard requirements for preparation for entry level positions in the respective fields. In Sport Management, emphasis is on integrating academic courses in physical education and biology with complementary courses in mathematics, business, economics and accounting. In Sport Communication, emphasis is on integrating academic courses in physical education and biology with complementary courses in communication. In Physical Education Teacher Certification, emphasis is on integrating academic and lab analysis courses in physical education and biology with complementary courses in education. All students are required to meet the College's requirements in the general education.

Through their experiences in the major, students are expected to:

- Demonstrate at least acceptable level competencies in the ability to effectively use critical thinking skills.
- Demonstrate at least acceptable level competencies in the ability to effectively use oral communication skills.
- Demonstrate at least acceptable level competencies in the ability to effectively use writing skills.
- Demonstrate at least acceptable level competencies in the ability to effectively use quantitative reasoning skills.
- Demonstrate at least acceptable level competencies in the ability to effectively use knowledge in the majors' content areas.

PHED 122	Outdoor Activities	PHED 154	Varsity Lacrosse
PHED 123	Dynamic Toning Activities	PHED 155	Varsity Football
PHED 124	Dance for Fitness	PHED 156	Varsity Golf (Men and Women)
	(May be taken for credit as THEA 124)	PHED 157	Varsity Soccer (Men)
PHED 132	Basic Aquatics	PHED 158	Varsity Swimming (Men and Women)
PHED 133	Bowling	PHED 159	Varsity Tennis (Men)
	(An additional course fee is required.)	PHED 160	Varsity Tennis (Women)
PHED 134	Racquetball	PHED 161	Varsity Track (Men and Women)
PHED 135	Tennis	PHED 162	Varsity Volleyball

PHED 137	Aerobic Conditioning	PHED 164	Varsity Soccer (Women)
PHED 138	Strength Conditioning	PHED 165	Field Hockey
PHED 139	Physical Fitness

These courses examine the following: skills in performance; the knowledge of strategies, rules, equipment, and methods; participation in forms of sport. PHED 101-140 may not be repeated for credit. PHED 150-165 may be repeated for credit. (Activity courses: CR/NCR only. Exceptions: When taken in fulfillment of the Activity portion of the Bethany Fitness/Physical Activity Requirement, these courses must be taken for a letter grade; PHED 110 must be taken for a letter grade by students pursuing the Physical Education K-12 certification track.)

PHED 102 Introduction to Lifelong Fitness 1 credit
This course provides experiences in a variety of activities delivered in segments which become incrementally more intense through the semester. Activities include: Tai chi; Yoga; Pilates; Tae Bo; Aerobics; Circuit Training; and various resistance training techniques, including Isometric and Nautilus principles. (Accommodation will be made available for students with document disabilities.)

PHED 103 Introduction to Sports Fitness 1 credit
This course provides experiences in intense physical activities delivered as an integrated program designed to improve sports related fitness. Emphasis is on flexibility, agility, muscular strength, and muscular endurance.

PHED 175 Introduction to Teaching Physical Activities 3 credits
This course examines factors essential to the systematic teaching of physical activities. Course work focuses on writing about key pedagogical issues that impact the teaching and learning environment. A 10-hour field placement is required.

PHED 210 Lab Analysis: Aquatic Activities 2 credits
This course emphasizes psychomotor skill development and cognitive acquisition of the rules, principles, equipment, strategies, and methods appropriate for teaching aquatic activities in the educational environment. This course may lead to certification as an American Red Cross Water Safety Instructor.

PHED 211 Lab Analysis: Football-Basketball 2 credits
This course emphasizes psychomotor skill development and cognitive acquisition of rules, equipment, strategies, and methods appropriate for teaching adolescents football and basketball in the educational environment. Prerequisite: PHED 175.

PHED 212 Lab Analysis: Soccer-Volleyball 2 credits
This course emphasizes psychomotor skill development and cognitive acquisition of rules, equipment, strategies, and methods appropriate for teaching adolescents soccer and volleyball in the educational environment. Prerequisite: PHED 175.

PHED 213 Lab Analysis: Track and Field-Softball-Baseball 2 credits
This course emphasizes psychomotor skill development and cognitive acquisition of rules, equipment, strategies, and methods appropriate for teaching adolescents track and field, softball, and baseball in the educational environment. Prerequisite: PHED 175.

PHED 214 Lab Analysis: Lifetime Sports (Golf & Tennis) 2 credits
This course emphasizes psychomotor skill development and cognitive acquisition of rules, equipment, strategies, and methods appropriate for teaching adolescents golf and tennis in the educational environment. Prerequisite: PHED 175.

PHED 215 Lab Analysis: Lifelong Leisure Activities (Camping & Dance) 2 credits
This course emphasizes psychomotor skill development and cognitive acquisition of rules, equipment, strategies, and methods appropriate for teaching adolescents camping and dance in the educational environment. Prerequisite: PHED 175.

PHED 216 Lab Analysis: Fundamentals and Principles of Movement, Fitness, and Nutrition 2 credits
This course emphasizes psychomotor skill development and cognitive acquisition of the principles, equipment, strategies, and methods appropriate for teaching fundamental movement skills, fitness techniques, and nutritional concepts in the educational environment.

- PHED 226 First Aid as Related to the Principles of Biology 3 credits
 This course emphasizes the biological principles in basic first aid and CPR with AED. American Heart Association Certificates may be earned by those passing the examination. Students wishing CPR and AED certification must complete all course requirements and pay a $3 certification card fee.
- PHED 243 Socio-Psychological Perspective of Physical Activities 3 credits
 This course emphasizes discussions and writings about small sports groups as micro-social systems. The application of group dynamics theory and small group research to the study of sports groups is presented. The influence of group members' characteristics, environmental factors, interpersonal relations, and group structural characteristics on an individual member's adjustment and the effectiveness of the group are investigated. The course is intended to investigate those aspects of psychology which influence performance and the participant in sports. Motives, arousal, aggression, and other socio-psychological variables are discussed. (This course may be taken for credit as PSYC 243.)
- PHED 244 Philosophical-Historical Perspective of Physical Activities 3 credits
 Emphasis is on discussions and writings pertaining to philosophical inquiry into physical education. The general philosophical interpretation of the nature and purpose of physical activities is considered. Investigation of the historical and philosophical changes in American education is emphasized. The developing roles of professional physical educators are considered.
- PHED 300 Officiating of Sports 3 credits
 This course prepares students to officiate particular sports within the school environment. Emphasis is on the philosophies and strategies of officiating competitive athletics. Students select and study independently the officiating of a particular sport. Satisfactory completion of this independent component prepares a student to sit for the certification examination in the selected sport.
- PHED 326 Kinesiology 3 credits
 This course examines anatomy and mechanics as applied in the study of the human body during physical exercise, with a special emphasis on the analysis of motion in specific sports skills and exercise patterns. Prerequisites: BIOL 107.
- PHED 327 Physiology of Muscular Activity 3 credits
 This course examines anatomy and physiology as applied in the study of the human body during physical exercise. Application of physiologic variables in specific sports skills and exercise patterns is emphasized. Prerequisites: BIOL 107.
- PHED 331 Motor Behavior 3 credits
 This course examines current theories of motor behavior and their relationships to the teaching and learning of physical skills. A 20-hour field placement is required. Prerequisite: EDUC 203 or concurrent registration in EDUC 203.
- PHED 333 Adapted and Therapeutic Physical Activities 3 credits
 This course examines motor behavior characteristics of physically challenged students in school and non-school settings. A 20-hour field placement is required. (This course may be taken in lieu of SPED 208.)
- PHED 335 Legal Issues in Sports 3 credits
 This course examines the law and its implications relative to sports and physical activity. The emphasis will be on legal aspects and responsibilities of the administrator, coach, and educator.
- PHED 336 Athletic Facility Management and Planning 3 credits
 This course provides an in-depth study of sports facilities to include development, site selection, design, planning, and specialized equipment considerations. Special attention focuses on facility management concepts, evaluation, budgeting, and selection of support personnel.
- PHED 337 Organization and Administration of Physical Activities 3 credits
 The emphasis of this course is on the underlying philosophy for the organization, structure, administrative policies and procedures, legal aspects, and facility management of physical education, intramurals, and competitive athletics programs.
- PHED 338 Sport Marketing 3 credits
 This course is a study of the concepts and specialized strategies used in marketing sport and raising funds within sport organizations. Special emphasis is on public relations.
- PHED 340 Prevention and Care of Injuries 3 credits
 This course provides the student with basic insight into prevention and treatment strategies of athletic injury. The student is expected to participate in lab activities that include taping, bandaging, bracing, wound care, therapeutic modality usage, etc. Students learn healthcare administration, legal concerns in sports medicine, environmental hazard identification, rehabilitation techniques, skin disorder recognition, gait training, basic sports pharmacology, psychosocial aspects of sports medicine, emergency procedures, and tissue response to injury. Prerequisite: PHED 226 or permission of the instructor.
- PHED 341 Principles of Physical Therapy and Orthopedic Evaluation 3 credits
 This course prepares the student for graduate study in allied health fields, such as Athletic Training, Chiropractic, Medicine, Nursing, and Physician Assistant, as well as specifically for Physical Therapy. The course covers topics including orthopedic evaluations, therapeutic modalities, goniometry, medical terminology, medical abbreviations, manual muscle testing, privacy laws (HIPAA and FERPA), medical documentation, and record keeping. Prerequisites: BIOL 100, 107; PHED 226, 326, 327, 340; PSYC 100.

- PHED 350 Curriculum and Assessment of Physical Activities 3 credits
 This course focuses on the design of K-12 physical education curricula and the assessment of learners. Topics including qualitative and quantitative methods of collecting, analyzing, and evaluating data in all domains of learning are presented. Discussions and writings are required concerning various curricular models designed for programming developmentally appropriate activities in the educational environment. Influencing factors considered include program philosophy and objectives and students' needs, interests, and characteristics. A 15-hour field placement is required.
- PHED 355 Coaching Sport 3 credits
 This course examines basic philosophy and principles of athletics as integral parts of physical education and general education. Topics studied include state, local, and national regulations and recommendations related to athletics. Legal considerations are discussed as are the function and organization of leagues and athletic associations. The responsibilities of the coach as a leader and role model are investigated. Other key aspects discussed include public relations; general safety procedures; general principles of budgeting, record-keeping, and purchasing; and facilities.
- PHED 440 Issues in Physical Activities 3 credits
 This course examines current ethical, philosophical, and practical problems facing professionals in the area of physical activities.
- PHED 470 Internship in Sports Communication 2 credits
 This experience is a professionally supervised internship with an off-campus sports communication agency. Prerequisites: A minimum of 160 hours is required with two on-campus media experiences and a professional observation.
- PHED 471 Internship in Sports Administration 2 credits
 This experience is a professionally supervised internship with an off-campus sports administration agency. Prerequisites: A minimum of 160 hours is required with two on-campus sports administrative experiences and a professional observation.
- PHED 487-488 Independent Study 2-4 credits
- PHED 490 Senior Project 2-4 credits
- PHED 495 Graduation Audit Non-credit
 Registration for this course initiates a graduation audit process to verify that all requirements for graduation are scheduled to be met by the anticipated degree completion date.

Health Courses

- HLTH 201 Introduction to Health 3 credits
 This course examines individual health related lifestyles. Students will learn about and understand a variety of issues including: psychosocial health, stress management, cancer, cardiovascular disease, sexually transmitted infections, addictions, nutrition and weight management, environmental health, complementary and alternative medicine, violence and abuse, and consumerism. This course is intended for physical education majors seeking health certification, or students pursuing degrees in other health related fields.
- HLTH 250 Community and Population Health 3 credits
 This course emphasizes important health issues related to the community and a variety of typical populations found in the United States.
- HLTH 251 School Health 3 credits
 This course emphasizes important health issues related to public education systems in the United States.

Physical Science and Mathematics

The Department of Physical Science and Mathematics encompasses a range of programs in Chemistry, Physical Science and Mathematics, including majors in Chemistry, Physical Science, Mathematics, and Computer Science. Each program's goals and requirements are presented in this section of the catalogue along with a listing of the courses offered in each area.

Chemistry Program Goals

Since a superior liberal arts education requires excellence in science education as well as in the humanities and social sciences, and since the Bethany College graduate in chemistry must be able to compete in the marketplace or in graduate and professional schools with students from technical colleges and universities as well as with those from other liberal arts colleges, the Physical Science Department strives to achieve the following:

- educate students in the latest theoretical and applied body of knowledge which constitutes the broad area of chemistry
- enable students to acquire the laboratory skills necessary to perform the variety of analyses and operations which are expected of a BS chemistry graduate, including development of research skills
- motivate students to think critically and to collaborate in exploring new ideas and novel solutions to problems
- help students to become aware of changing career opportunities in both chemistry and as a preparation for health science fields such as medicine, dentistry, veterinary medicine, and pharmacology

The departmental programs of study are consistent with standards of the American Chemical Society.

Requirements for Major in Chemistry

All students majoring in Chemistry are required to complete the following core courses: CHEM 101, 102, 211, 212, 324, 385, 386, either 477 or 478, 490; PHYS 201, 202; MATH 201, 202. In addition, each student must complete one of the following tracks:

Professional Chemistry Track: CHEM 285, 315 or 335, 320, 326, 404; and one course from the following group PHYS 222, 241, 300 MATH 203, 341.

Forensic Chemistry Track: CHEM 108, 285, 320, 351, 420, three courses from the group (255,315,335,345,355); and a course in law.

Biochemistry Track: CHEM 315 or 335, 320, 351, 352.; BIOL 290 and either BIOL 341 or 343. Two additional courses from the following are recommended: BIOL 100, 251, 308, 338, 440, 442, CHEM 255, 285, MATH 281.

Chemistry Education Grades 9-12 Track: CHEM 315 or 335, 320, 326, 351, 404; GENS 200; EDUC or GENS 480. Only Chemistry majors who have completed all courses in this track and the courses in the Professional Education Requirements described in the Education section of this Catalogue and on the department's website or in the resource area in the College's courseware solution will be recommended for certification to teach Chemistry in secondary school.

Entering freshmen interested in chemistry should enroll in CHEM 101 and a mathematics course at the appropriate level. Students who test into College Algebra by the mathematics placement exam must take that course immediately to prepare themselves for the mathematics concepts in CHEM 102. Programs for subsequent semesters must be decided in consultation with the faculty advisors for Chemistry. Students with Advanced Placement (AP) in chemistry should consult immediately with a chemistry faculty member in the department for placement in a course at the appropriate level. Additional courses in mathematics are strongly encouraged.

All courses in chemistry and all required courses in mathematics, biology, psychology, and physics must be taken for a letter grade.

Requirements for Minor

Chemistry: CHEM 101, 102, 211, 212; 6 credits from CHEM 315, 320, 324, 326, 335, 351, 352. (Math 201 and 202 and CHEM 222 are prerequisites for CHEM 320.)

Chemistry Courses

CHEM 100 Consumer Chemistry

4 credits

This course emphasizes an understanding of chemical concepts relevant to our everyday lives. At the end of this course, a student should be able to analyze and discuss magazine and newspaper articles dealing with subjects related to chemistry. The course is designed for non-science students. (Course is not open to students who have credit for CHEM 111 or higher or equivalent. This course may be taken for credit as GENS 100.)

- CHEM 101 General Chemistry I 4 credits
 Theoretical chemistry and descriptive inorganic chemistry are studied in this course. The laboratories provide students with experience in basic laboratory manipulations, problem solving, and testing of hypotheses. Lectures and laboratories meet for 6 hours per week. Prerequisite: Mathematics requirement- placement into MATH 105 or higher or concurrent enrollment in MATH 105, or equivalent transfer.
- CHEM 102 General Chemistry II 4 credits
 This course is a continuation of the lecture portion of CHEM 101 and includes the study of solubility and acid-base phenomena in aqueous systems with appropriate lab work. Lectures and labs meet for 6 hours per week. Prerequisite: CHEM 101; Mathematics requirement- placement into MATH 201, MATH 105 with a grade of C- or higher or concurrent enrollment in MATH 105, or equivalent transfer.
- CHEM 108 Introduction to Forensic Science 4 credits
 The application of chemical and physical methods to the analysis of evidence is the focus of this course. Common methods of evidentiary examination are included as experiential components. Team work on case studies and on the investigation of crime scenes is emphasized. The course meets for 6 hours each week. Prerequisite: High School Chemistry or Physics, or permission of the instructor.
- CHEM 211 Organic Chemistry I 4 credits
 This course is a survey of organic functional groups and the the fundamentals of organic chemistry. The laboratory includes basic laboratory techniques for separation, purification, reaction, and analysis. Prerequisites: CHEM 101 and 102 or permission of the instructor.
- CHEM 212 Organic Chemistry II 4 credits
 This course is a continuation of CHEM 211 and includes more in-depth study of mechanisms, organic synthesis, and analysis. Laboratory work consists largely of organic preparations and identification of unknown compounds. Prerequisite: CHEM 211 or permission of the instructor.
- CHEM 255 Introduction to Pharmacology 3 credits
 Pharmacological properties of some common types of organic compounds are studied along with various issues in medical ethics. The course is taught predominantly in a discussion/seminar format with occasional introductory lectures. Prerequisite: CHEM 212 or concurrent enrollment in CHEM 212.
- CHEM 285 Data Analysis for Physical Science 3 credits
 Data Analysis for Physical Science covers hypothesis testing, principal component analysis, multivariate calibrations, experimental design, and introduction to data mining methods such as support vector machines and neural networks. The focus of the course is on the application of the above topics to practical uses in the fields of the physical sciences through the use of common software packages.
- CHEM 315 Advanced Methods of Analysis: Spectroscopy 2 credits
 This course is a survey of spectroscopic theory and methods. Experiments employ UV-Vis, infra-red, nuclear magnetic, gas chromatography/mass spectrometry, and atomic absorption spectrophotometers. Forensic and environmental problems are emphasized. Students participate in one lecture and one laboratory session each week. Prerequisite: CHEM 211 or permission of the instructor.
- CHEM 320 Physical Chemistry I with Biological Applications 4 credits
 This course is an introduction to the nature of thermodynamics including equilibrium processes. Applications of physical concepts to systems of biochemical and biological interest are included. Studies of chemical and phase equilibria complete the course. (This course may be taken for credit as BIOL 320.) Prerequisites: CHEM 212 and MATH 202 or permission of the instructor.
- CHEM 324 Analytical Chemistry 4 credits
 The study of the principles of acid-base, oxidation-reduction, and solubility phenomena associated with solutions is emphasized. Classical and modern applications of principles to the analysis of unknowns are performed in the laboratory. Prerequisite: CHEM 211.
- CHEM 326 Physical Chemistry II 4 credits
 This course considers the differing energy states of atoms and molecules, statistical principles governing the distribution of particles, and the transitions within these states. It is an introduction to transport processes and rate processes. Prerequisites: CHEM 212, MATH 202.
- CHEM 335 Advanced Methods of Analysis: Chromatography 2 credits
 This course is a survey of chromatographic theory and methods. Experiments employ thin layer chromatography (TLC), gas chromatography (GC), gas chromatography/mass spectrometry (GC/MS), and high performance liquid chromatography (HPLC) as examples of the method. Forensic and environmental problems are emphasized. Students participate in one lecture and one laboratory session each week. Prerequisite: CHEM 211 or permission of the instructor.
- CHEM 345 Advanced Methods of Analysis: Microscopy 2 credits
 This course concentrates on the theory and uses of light microscopy to determine identity and composition of organic, inorganic, and biological materials. Forensic and environmental problems are emphasized. Students participate in one lecture and one laboratory session each week. Prerequisite: CHEM 211.

- CHEM 351 Molecular Biology and Biochemistry I 4 credits
 This course is an introduction to the structural organization and chemical compositions of cells and to fundamental chemical processes carried on inside organelles. Included are enzymatic action, transport across biological membranes, and basic metabolic pathways as they relate to cell structure. The laboratory focuses on current techniques for the isolation and analysis of basic biomolecules and on some practical applications of enzymology. (This course may be taken for credit as BIOL 351.) Prerequisites: CHEM 211, 212.
- CHEM 352 Molecular Biology and Biochemistry II 4 credits
 This course is an introduction to biosynthesis of biomolecules, gene expression and control, and recombinant DNA technology. The laboratory focuses on current techniques for probing biochemical reactions and for isolating and engineering DNA. (This course may be taken for credit as BIOL 352.) Prerequisite: BIOL 351 or CHEM 351.
- CHEM 355 Advanced Methods of Analysis: Biotechnology 2 credits
 This course concentrates on the theory and use of electrophoresis and other techniques of biotechnology, including DNA fingerprinting, polymerase chain reaction, ELISA, and blood typing. Students participate in one lecture and one laboratory session each week. Prerequisite: CHEM 211.
- CHEM 385 Writing for Chemistry I 1 credit
 This course is the first of two which focus on written and oral communication in the styles common to the chemistry and biochemistry fields. Students read and report on current literature of interest, including that presented by invited speakers.
- CHEM 386 Writing for Chemistry II 1 credit
 This course provides further instruction for writing and presenting ideas and proposals in chemistry and biochemistry. Students prepare and present papers based on experimental data. A project proposal, including a budget, is prepared. Prerequisite: CHEM 385.
- CHEM 404 Advanced Inorganic Chemistry 4 credits
 The important phenomena of modern inorganic chemistry are systematically discussed. These include bonding and structure, kinetics, thermodynamics, acid-base theories, and physical methods. Transition metal and organometallic chemistry are examined along with the chemistry of selected representative elements. (Three lectures and three hours of laboratory per week.) Prerequisite or Corequisite: CHEM 326.
- CHEM 414 Advanced Organic Chemistry 3 credits
 Selected advanced topics in organic chemistry are studied. These include reaction mechanisms. Laboratory work is introduced when appropriate which stresses the use of instrumentation. Prerequisite: CHEM 212 or permission of the instructor.
- CHEM 420 Professional Internship 1-3 credits
 This course is a professionally supervised experience with off-campus scientists using modern research and/or analytical techniques. Settings vary from purely academic summer programs to private or public scientific institutions. A minimum of 160 hours in the experience is expected.
- CHEM 430-434 Special Topics 2 credits each
 These are courses devoted to the consideration of advanced topics and areas of special interests.
CHEM 430 Analytical Chemistry
CHEM 431 Inorganic Chemistry
CHEM 432 Organic Chemistry
CHEM 433 Physical Chemistry
CHEM 434 Biochemistry
- CHEM 477-478 Senior Seminar in Chemistry 1 credit each
 The Senior Seminar in Chemistry is a review of current topics. Students participate in reading the chemical literature and presentation of appropriate work in oral and written forms.
- CHEM 480 Methods and Materials in Teaching Physical and Life Sciences 3 credits
 The course is a study of the aims and methods of teaching the physical and life sciences in the secondary schools. Special attention is given to teaching general laboratory procedures and techniques of teaching. Each of the departments in the physical and life sciences participates in this program. (This course may be taken for credit as EDUC 480.) Prerequisites: 16 credits in one of the physical or life sciences or permission of the instructor; EDUC 242; a passing score on PPST-PRAXIS I; admission to the teacher education program.
- CHEM 487-488 Independent Study 2-4 credits
- CHEM 490 Senior Project 2-4 credits
 During the junior year, the chemistry major is introduced to the methods of employing chemical literature, selects a topic for advanced investigation, and makes a literature search of background material as a basis for an in-depth study in this area. Following this preliminary work, an investigation of a significant topic in chemistry is made by each senior under the direction of a faculty member in the department. This work culminates in a written and oral report at the end of the senior year. An additional course fee is required.
- CHEM 495 Graduation Audit Non-credit
 Registration for this course initiates a graduation audit process to verify that all requirements for graduation are scheduled to be met by the anticipated degree completion date.

Physics Program Goals

The Physics program at Bethany College is designed to achieve the following goals for its students:

- Have a well-developed understanding of the fundamental principles in
 - * Classical Mechanics
 - » Kinematics
 - » Newton's Laws of Motion
 - » Variational Principles (e.g. Lagrangian Dynamics)
 - * Electricity and Magnetism
 - » Electrical Forces
 - » Fields
 - » Maxwell's Equations
 - * Quantum Mechanics
 - » Schrodinger Equation
 - * Statistical Mechanics
 - * Thermodynamics
 - » Laws of Thermodynamics
- Be able to apply the fundamental principles to particular situations. This includes:
 - * Developing a theoretical framework to fit a specific situation.
 - * Designing a computational model for intractable considerations and to check analytical results.
 - * Physically interpreting the mathematical statements that are derived.
- Have a well-developed ability to gain insight from theoretical and experimental results (physical insight).
- Be able to use standard software to prepare well-written, scientifically sound reports (both theoretical and experimental).
- Have an understanding of the basic tools and experimental apparatus used in research.
- Have a strong command of the scientific method.
- Be able to design an experiment.
- Write and present scientific works.
- Be able to model nonlinear systems and be fluent in the language used to describe chaotic systems.
- Enjoy learning

Requirements for Pre-Engineering/Physical Science

All students are required to take a minimum of 36 credits within the department: CHEM 101, 102, PHYS 201, 202, 222, 241, 300, either CHEM 385,386 or PHYS 318, and CHEM 490 or PHYS 490. In addition, at least 6 credits from CHEM 211, 212, 285, 320, PHYS 251, 261, 301, 302, 303. Also required are MATH 201, 202, 203, 341, and CPSC 151.

Combined Three-Two plans with Case Western Reserve University and Columbia University are available to students interested in various engineering or industrial management degrees.

As each specific engineering program has other course requirements the student will need to consult closely with the pre-engineering advisor about other course selections. A minimum GPA of 3.00 overall and with Math and Science courses is required to permit Bethany College students to transfer to the engineering school once requirements are met and students are accepted. No guarantee of acceptance by either engineering school is implied by the relationship.

Requirements for Minors

Experimental Physics: PHYS 201, 202, 222, 300, 318.

Theoretical Physics: PHYS 201, 202, and three additional courses selected from PHYS 251, 261, 300, 302, and 304.

Physics Courses

PHYS 100 Physics of Sports

4 credits

This course is an introduction to the fundamental concepts, laws, and theories of physics as they relate to a variety of sports. At the end of the course, students relate these concepts to their sports activities.

- PHYS 103 Everyday Physics 4 credits
 Everyday Physics is a study from non-technical and non-mathematical viewpoints of the aims, methods (experimental and theoretical), and achievements in the attempts to understand the basic principles governing the physical world. The course begins with commonplace observations and concrete examples and then proceeds to generalizations and hypotheses which unify them. This course is designed for non-science majors. The course includes three hours of lecture and two hours of laboratory each week. (This course may be taken for credit as GENS 103.)
- PHYS 151 Astronomy 4 credits
 This course is designed to introduce the non-science major to the field of astronomy. Topics include the history of astronomy, light and spectra, the solar system, stars and stellar evolution, galaxies, and the past and future history of the universe. Although the course is primarily descriptive, physical principles underlying astronomical phenomena are studied. The course includes three hours of lecture and two hours of laboratory each week. Laboratories include evening observation sessions and a field trip. An additional course fee is required. (This course may be taken for credit as GENS 151.)
- PHYS 201-202 General Physics I & II 4 credits each
 General Physics is a two-semester introduction to classical physics for science majors. The first semester focuses on classical mechanics, including kinematics and dynamics in two and three dimensions, momentum, energy, and rotational motion. The second semester covers electricity and magnetism, wave mechanics, and optics. The course includes three hours of lecture and two hours of laboratory each week. Students must have taken or be currently enrolled in MATH 201 or equivalent.
- PHYS 222 Electronics 4 credits
 The student is presented with the fundamentals of digital and analog circuit analysis. Among topics originally specific to analog circuits are DC circuit analysis using Kirchoff's laws, mesh equations, transformations, the use of multimeters and oscilloscopes, AC circuit analysis using complex impedances, capacitors, and inductors, resonance, step function analysis, and transitions. Among the topics originally specific to digital analysis are simple logic gates, IC chips, Boolean algebra, adders, flip-flops, shift registers, and counters. After the fundamentals are covered, the emphasis shifts to circuit analysis involving knowledge of both perspectives. This course includes three hours of lecture and two hours of laboratory each week. (This course may be taken for credit as CPSC 222.) Prerequisite: PHYS 201,202 or equivalent or permission of the Chair of the Department.
- PHYS 241 Mathematical Methods in the Physical Sciences 3 credits
 This course is primarily intended for students with one year of calculus who want to develop, in a short time, a basic competence in each of the many areas of mathematics needed in junior to senior courses in physics and chemistry. Thus, it is intended to be accessible to sophomores (or freshmen with AP calculus from high school). Topics include ordinary and partial differential equations, vector analysis, Fourier series, complex numbers, eigenvalue problems, and orthogonal functions. (This course may be taken for credit as MATH 241.) Prerequisites: MATH 201, 202 or permission of the Instructor.
- PHYS 251 Mechanics 3 credits
 This course is a study of particle mechanics, central force motions, free oscillations, rotations about an axis, moving coordinates systems, conservation theorems, Lagrange's equations, and Hamilton's equations. Prerequisites: PHYS 201-202.
- PHYS 261 Electricity and Magnetism 3 credits
- PHYS 300 Modern Physics 3 credits
 This course uses mathematical and physical reasoning to present the foundations of modern physics. It emphasizes the subjects of special relativity, kinetic theory, atomic theory, and introductory quantum mechanics on the level of the Schrodinger equation. The course is intended for chemistry, mathematics, physics, or pre-engineering majors. Prerequisites: PHYS 201-202 or permission of the Chair of the Department.
- PHYS 301 Nonlinear Dynamics and Chaotic Systems 3 credits
 This course explores the latest developments in the analysis of nonlinear systems using computer enhanced analysis and novel mathematical approaches to these systems. Emphasis is placed on the special case of nonlinear dynamics known as chaotic systems. Prerequisites: PHYS 201, 202; MATH 201, 202.
- PHYS 302 Thermodynamics 3 credits
 This course is a study of the physics of thermodynamic systems. Most of the course is devoted to the macroscopic properties of systems, including the first and second laws of thermodynamics, heat, entropy, imposed and natural constraints, equations of state, and applications. Statistical mechanics is briefly introduced to derive the large scale properties of systems from the microscopic behavior of their elements. Prerequisites: PHYS 201-202 or permission of the Chair of the Department.
- PHYS 303 Plasma Physics 3 credits
 This course examines the properties of plasmas, a collection of charged particles that exhibit collective behavior, and which are much more common than the other phases of matter (solids, liquids, and gases) when the entire known universe is considered, and which are becoming increasingly common in modern technologies. Prerequisites: PHYS 201, 202, 241; MATH 201, 202.

- PHYS 304 Optics 3 credits
 This course is an introduction to the nature of light and its uses. It begins with a study of geometric optics, including reflection, refraction, lenses and mirrors, and then moves to topics in physical optics, such as interference, diffraction, coherence, and polarization. Prerequisites: PHYS 201-202 or permission of the Chair of the Department.
- PHYS 318 Advanced Physics Laboratory 2 credits
 This course is designed to build on students' previous laboratory experience by acquainting them with more advanced experimental equipment and techniques. Students are taught to think like an experimentalist: to analyze and reduce error; to understand statistical inference; to interpret results; to write clear, thorough laboratory reports. Experiments in modern physics, optics, nuclear, and solid state physics are emphasized. Prerequisite: PHYS 300 or permission of the Chair of the Department.
- PHYS 401 Introduction to Quantum Mechanics 3 credits
 This course is a continuation of the study of classical quantum mechanics begun in PHYS 300. Topics include the three-dimensional Schrodinger equation, selection rules, addition of angular momentum, fine structure in hydrogen, exchange symmetry, the Zeeman effect, and stimulated emission. Prerequisite: PHYS 300 or permission of the Chair of the Department.
- PHYS 404 Nuclear and Particle Physics 3 credits
 This course is an introduction to subatomic physics. The course examines the properties and constituents of the nucleus; the strong nuclear force; models of the nucleus; radioactive decay including alpha, beta and gamma decay; and nuclear reactions such as fission and fusion. Particle physics is discussed, including the classes and properties of various subatomic particles, virtual particles, conservation laws, the quark model, the weak force, and parity violation. Prerequisite: PHYS 300 or permission of the Chair of the Department.
- PHYS 477 Seminar in Physics 2 credits
- PHYS 480 Methods and Materials in Teaching Physical and Life Sciences 3 credits
 This course is a study of the aims and methods of teaching the physical and life sciences in the secondary schools. Special attention is given to teaching general laboratory procedures and techniques of teaching. Each of the departments in the physical and life sciences participates in the program. Prerequisite: 16 credits in one of the physical or life sciences or permission of the instructor; EDUC 242; a passing score on PPST-PRAXIS I; admission to the teacher education program.
- PHYS 487-488 Independent Study 2-4 credits
- PHYS 490 Senior Project 2-4 credits
 This course offers seniors independent work on research problems in theoretical or experimental physics. Experimental physics projects are offered in such areas as applied optics, electronics, radio astronomy, electron spin resonance, optical fibers, and various solid state subjects: conductivity measurements in semiconductors, charge-coupled devices, GaAs/GaAlAs quantum wells, and others. Theoretical physics projects are unlimited in scope and often involve computer modeling of physical systems. All projects are arranged through consultation with the student's advisor.
- PHYS 495 Graduation Audit Non-credit
 Registration for this course initiates a graduation audit process to verify that all requirements for graduation are scheduled to be met by the anticipated degree completion date.

Program Goals for Mathematics and Computer Science

In order to provide high caliber instruction in the quantitative element of a liberal arts education, this department offers majors in mathematics and in computer science designed:

- To provide the student with a breadth of knowledge in the disciplines of mathematics or computer science
- To provide the tools to assist the further study of mathematics, computer science, or related disciplines
- To offer a sufficient depth of knowledge in order to prepare students for research in mathematics, computer science, or related disciplines
- To prepare students for careers in education, in business, and in scientific, mathematical, or technical fields
- To provide a learning community supportive of collaboration in academics, social responsibility, and engaged teaching

Mathematics

Requirements for Major in Mathematics

The student is required to take the following core courses: MATH 106, 201, 202, 203, 220, 354, 373, 400, 403, 477, and either MATH 326 or 410; a senior project. In addition, each student must complete one of the following tracks:

Mathematics: CPSC 151; a minimum of 12 credits from the following: MATH 210, 310, 326, 341, 383, 384, 390, 410; CPSC 152.

Mathematics-Economics: MATH 210, 383, 384; ACCT 202; ECON 162, 163, 301, 302; CPSC 151.

Mathematics-Physics: MATH 341; PHYS 201, 202, 251 or 261, 300; CPSC 151.

Mathematics-Computer Science: CPSC 151, 152, 275, 390; MATH or CPSC 210.

Mathematics-Actuarial Science: MATH 210, 341, 383, 384, 390; CPSC 151.

Mathematics Education: MATH 103 or secondary school equivalent, 105 or secondary school equivalent, 210, 252, 326, 383, 430, 480; CPSC 151. To be recommended for certification the student must also complete the courses in the Professional Educational Requirements described in the Education section of this Catalogue and on the department's website or in the resources area in the College's courseware solution. The following courses are prerequisite to student teaching: MATH 252, 480.

Requirements for Dual Major in Economics and Mathematics

This major is designed for students who would like to strengthen their degrees in either mathematics or economics by demonstrating skills in the other discipline. For example, students wishing to attend graduate school in economics or in applied mathematics, but because of any of a number of potential reasons would not be able to complete a double major. Majors will have two advisors, one in each department.

Bachelor of Science Degree: ACCT 202; CPSC 151; ECON 162, 163, 222, 301, 302, 304, 311, 350, 477, 482; MATH 106, 201, 202, 203, 210, 220, 354, 373, 383, 384, 390, 477; PSYC 287; and a three-credit senior project.

Requirements for Minor

MATH 106, 201, 202, 203, 354, plus a minimum of six credits from MATH 210, 281, 326, 341, 383, 400, 403, 410, 430.

Mathematics Courses

MATH 103 College Algebra 3 credits

The course examines sets and operations on sets, numbers systems, algebraic expressions, exponents, solutions to equations, inequalities, and graphing. (Not open to students who have credit for MATH 201 or the equivalent; or to students who have placed into MATH 105 or MATH 201 by the Bethany College Mathematics Placement Examination.)

MATH 105 Precalculus 3 credits

This course examines functions, including linear, quadratic, exponential, logarithmic, and trigonometric functions. (Not open to students who have credit for MATH 201, or the equivalent; or to students who have placed into MATH 201 by the Bethany College Mathematics Placement Examination.) Prerequisites: MATH 103, or the equivalent; proper placement by the Bethany College Mathematics Placement Examination.

MATH 106 Introduction to Mathematica 2 credits

This course introduces the student to the use of the computer program Mathematica. Students majoring in mathematics are expected to take this course in their first year so that Mathematica may be employed in all subsequent courses.

MATH 107-109 Tools of Mathematical Understanding 1 credit each

The following courses provide a focused treatment of three parts of pre-calculus mathematics. These courses are offered online with a proctored final. They may be taken individually to provide in-depth review of an area in which the student feels she or he is deficient, or they may be taken as a block to replace MATH 105 delivered in a classroom setting. Not open to students who have credit for MATH 105, 201, or their equivalents.

MATH 107 Using Functions 1 credit

This course examines the concepts of the function, including domains, ranges, graphing, combinations and compositions, inverse functions, quadratic equations, exponential and logarithmic equations, and their applications to both mathematical and real-life situations.

MATH 108 Using Statistics 1 credit

This course examines the concepts of elementary statistics, including sampling, censuses, measures of central tendency, visual representation of data, and their applications to both mathematical and real-life situations. Not open to students who have credit for MATH 281 or the equivalent.

MATH 109 Using Trigonometry 1 credit

This course examines the concepts of trigonometry, including the unit circle, measuring of angles in radians and degrees, reference triangles and basic trigonometric functions, graphing, inverse trigonometric functions, and their applications to mathematical and real-life situations.

- MATH 120 Foundations of College Mathematics 3 credits
 This course represents the achievement of a 70% proficiency level in pre-collegiate mathematics on the Bethany College Mathematics Placement Examination. Successful completion of MATH 120 bars students from credit for any lower numbered Mathematics course with the exception of MATH 106 (Mathematica)
- MATH 170 Connections in Mathematical Understanding 3 credits
 This course examines the connections between mathematics and other liberal arts disciplines. Topics for discussion include mathematics in language, philosophy, art of symmetry, perspective, mathematics in movies and literature, daily applications of mathematics, the application of statistics, and practical uses of geometry.
- MATH 201 Calculus I 4 credits
 This course is a study of the real number system, equations of a line, functions, limits, and continuity, and of techniques of differentiation and integration applied to maximum and minimum problems and to related rates. (The course includes four hours of class and one laboratory session each week.) Prerequisites: MATH 105, or the equivalent; proper placement by the Bethany College Mathematics Placement Examination; or permission of the instructor.
- MATH 202 Calculus II 4 credits
 This course focuses on integration and differentiation of log, exponential, trig, and inverse functions. Additional topics include methods of integration, integration by parts, partial fractions, trigonometric substitution, L'Hôpital's rule, sequences, and series. Prerequisite: MATH 201 or the equivalent.
- MATH 203 Calculus III 4 credits
 This course is a study of the calculus of functions of several variables and of vector valued functions. Topics include vectors, partial differentiation and integration, multiple integrals, line and surface integrals, and theorems of vector calculus. Prerequisite: MATH 202.
- MATH 210 Discrete Mathematics 3 credits
 This course introduces the student to the fundamental concepts of mathematics involved in computer science. Topics include induction, elementary counting, combinations and permutations, recursions and recurrence relations, graphs and trees, sorting and searching, and Boolean algebra. (This course may be taken for credit as CPSC 210.) Prerequisite: MATH 103, MATH 105 or the equivalent.
- MATH 220 Introduction to Proofs and Abstract Thinking 2 credits
 This course reviews the fundamental concepts of sets, relations, and functions while developing the mathematical writing, reading, and understanding of formal proofs covering topics in mathematics.
- MATH 241 Mathematical Methods in the Physical Sciences 3 credits
 This course is primarily intended for students with one year of calculus who want to develop, in a short time, a basic competence in each of the many areas of mathematics needed in junior to senior courses in physics and chemistry. Thus, it is intended to be accessible to sophomores (or freshmen with AP calculus from high school). Topics include ordinary and partial differential equations, vector analysis, Fourier series, complex numbers, eigenvalue problems, and orthogonal functions. (This course may be taken for credit as PHYS 241.) Prerequisites: MATH 201, 202 or permission of the Instructor.
- MATH 250 Mathematics for Elementary Education 3 credits
 This is a course designed in content and teaching style for elementary pre-service teachers. The course emphasizes active student participation and a field placement component which permits students to develop materials and evaluation instruments and to practice the teaching of mathematics concepts, including the structure of number systems, real number properties and the computation derived from them, problem solving strategies, and geometry and measurement. Prerequisite: permission of the instructor. Not open to Freshmen.
- MATH 252 Mathematics for Teachers: Algebra and Geometry 3 credits
 This is a sophomore or junior level course designed in content and teaching style for pre-service teachers of the middle and secondary grades. The NCTM Mathematics Curriculum and Evaluation Standards are incorporated in all phases of the course. The course emphasizes active student involvement and the use of a variety of software programs. Course content includes topics found in the middle and secondary grades (basic algebra and geometry), as well as the expansion of these topics as they are encountered through the grades. Particular attention is placed on the identification of objectives for each concept and the particular NCTM Standards as they are encountered at specific grade levels. Prerequisite: MATH 250 or permission from the department.
- MATH 278 Mathematics for Standardized Testing 1 credit
 This activity course serves as a problem-solving session for those students interested in sitting for and succeeding on standardized exams with mathematical skill sections.
- MATH 281 Statistical Methods I 3 credits
 This course is an introduction to statistical analysis including frequency distributions and graphic presentation of data, measures of central tendency, measures of dispersion, probability, the normal curve and its applications, confidence intervals, testing hypotheses, correlation, and regression. Not open to students with credit for MATH 383.
- MATH 282 Statistical Methods II 3 credits

- MATH 310 Number Theory 3 credits
 This course examines properties of the integers including prime numbers and their distribution, the Euclidean algorithm, linear and nonlinear Diophantine equations, congruences, multiplicative functions, primitive roots, continued fractions and quadratic residues. Applications of number theory to such areas as computer science, cryptography, and networks are studied. Software technology such as Mathematica, Matlab, or Maple is also used to examine number theoretic properties and their applications.
- MATH 326 Introduction to Modern Geometry 4 credits
 This course is an introduction to Euclidean and non-Euclidean geometries and synthetic projective geometry, the concept of limit and infinity, geometrical constructions, and recent developments and theorems. Prerequisite: MATH 202 or permission of the instructor.
- MATH 341 Differential Equations 3 credits
 This course is a study of the methods of solution of ordinary and partial differential equations and of applications of differential equations. Prerequisite: MATH 202.
- MATH 354 Linear Algebra 3 credits
 This course is a study of geometric vectors, matrices and linear equations, real vector spaces, linear transformations and matrices, and inner product spaces. Prerequisite: MATH 202 or equivalent.
- MATH 373 Writing for Mathematics and Computer Science 2 credits
 This course is designed to introduce the process of presenting solutions to mathematical problems, proofs to mathematical theorems, and preparing and presenting research papers in the mathematical sciences. (This course may also be taken for credit as CPSC 373.)
- MATH 383 Probability & Statistics I 3 credits
 This course is an introduction to probability, basic distribution theory, mathematical expectations, probability densities, and random variables. Prerequisite: MATH 202 or permission of the instructor.
- MATH 384 Probability and Statistics II 3 credits
 This course is a study of sampling distributions, point and interval estimation, tests of hypotheses, regression and correlation, and analysis of variance. Prerequisite: MATH 383.
- MATH 390 Numerical Analysis 3 credits
 This course is a study of numerical methods in evaluating integrals and differential equations, techniques in finding the roots of polynomials, solving systems of linear equations, and matrix manipulation. (This course may be taken for credit as CPSC 390.) Prerequisites: MATH 202 or equivalent; CPSC 151.
- MATH 400 Abstract Algebra 4 credits
 This course is a study of groups, rings, integral domains, fields, and vector spaces. Prerequisite: MATH 220.
- MATH 403 Introduction to Real Analysis 4 credits
 This course concentrates on the careful study of the principles underlying the calculus of real valued functions of real variables. Topics include sets and functions, compactness, connectedness, uniform convergence, differentiation, and integration. Prerequisites: MATH 203, 220.
- MATH 410 Topology 3 credits
 This course is a study of those properties of objects that are preserved when stretching, twisting, bending, or compressing an object without tearing it and without identifying any two of its points. Topics include metric and topological spaces, cardinality, countability properties, separation axioms, continuity, and homeomorphic spaces. Prerequisite: MATH 202, 220.
- MATH 430 History of Mathematics 2 credits
 This course is an exploration of the origins and development of mathematics including the philosophy of the mathematical sciences. Mathematical theories and techniques of each period and their historical evolution are examined.
- MATH 477 Seminar in Mathematics and Computer Science 2 credits
 This course includes topics in mathematics suitable to math majors. The course is open to qualified junior and senior math majors. (This course may be taken for credit as CPSC 477.)
- MATH 479 Mathematics for Competition 1 credit
 This activity course serves as a problem-solving session for those students interested in actively participating in competition-level mathematics.
- MATH 480 Methods and Materials in Teaching Mathematics 3 credits
 This course is a study of the approved methods in teaching mathematics at the middle and secondary level. The emphasis is on the following: class period activities of the teacher; procedures and devices in teaching; organization of materials; testing aims; modern trends. (This course may be taken for credit as EDUC 480.) Prerequisites: EDUC 242; a passing score on PPST-PRAXIS I; admission to the teacher education program.
- MATH 487-488 Independent Study 2-4 credits
- MATH 490 Senior Project 2-4 credits

Registration for this course initiates a graduation audit process to verify that all requirements for graduation are scheduled to be met by the anticipated degree completion date.

Computer Science

Requirements for Majors in Computer Science

Two plans for majoring in Computer Science are offered: one leading to the Bachelor of Arts degree and the other to the Bachelor of Science degree. The Bachelor of Arts plan is designed for those students seeking a career in computer science in a business environment. The Bachelor of Science plan is designed for students seeking a career in computer science in a scientific laboratory or in a software development firm.

Bachelor of Arts Degree: CPSC 151, 152, 205, 210, 275, 277, 370, 380, 477, 490, plus one additional 3-credit course at 300 level or above; MATH 201, 281; ACCT 202, 203; ECON 312. Strongly recommended are ECON 162, 163, 280; ACCT 425. Beginning students are expected to complete CPSC 151 and MATH 201 during the first semester.

Bachelor of Science Degree: CPSC 151, 152, 205, 210, 275, 277, 330, 360, 370, 440, 477, 490, plus two additional 3-credit courses at 300 level or above; MATH 201, 202, 354, 383; PHYS 201, 202. Strongly recommended is CPSC 310. Beginning students are expected to complete CPSC 151 and MATH 201 during the first semester.

Requirements for Dual Major in Computer Science and Accounting

With the increased use of computers in accounting, this major is designed for students who have strength in computer science and interest in the application to accounting.

Bachelor of Arts Degree: CPSC 151, 152, 205, 210, 275, 277, 373, 380, 477; MATH 201, 281, 282; ACCT 202, 203, 222, 313, 314, 332, 350, 361, 425, 435, 480; ECON 163, 312; and a three-credit senior project. Strongly recommended are ACCT 482; CPSC 320; MATH 106, 202, 354; ECON 162.

Requirements for Minor

Computer Science: CPSC 151, 152, 275, 277, 380.

Computer Science Courses

CPSC 103 Presentations and Multimedia Authoring 2 credits

This course is designed to give students an introduction to multimedia. During the first half of the course, students learn how to make presentations using common presentation software in the Macintosh and the Windows environments. During the second half of the semester, students learn how to create hypermedia applications. Throughout the course, students experiment with graphics software, a color scanner, a digital camera, a video camera, and sound tools.

CPSC 104 Programming in Multimedia 3 credits

This course introduces students to the tools and techniques used in developing interactive multimedia programs. During the course, students become familiar with the authoring packages, Apple Media Tool and Director, and learn how to use them to produce multimedia presentations. Special emphasis is on Lingo programming and Director's scripting language.

CPSC 107 Introduction to Computing 3 credits

Students develop a basic proficiency of computer usages in this course. Topics include the history of computing, the principal components of computers systems, and societal issues. Students discuss and use application software including word processors, spreadsheets, presentation software, and the World Wide Web. Students also learn elementary programming.

CPSC 140-150 Programming 3 credits each

The following courses provide an introduction to computers by programming in a high-level language. The emphasis is on programming real-life problems using efficient coding techniques. These courses are for students who want to use the computer as a problem-solving tool or who want to write programs for operating systems, compilers, artificial intelligence, or Internet applications.

CPSC 147 Programming in C++ 3 credits

CPSC 148 Programming in PROLOG 3 credits

CPSC 149 Programming in Java 3 credits

CPSC 151 Computer Science I 4 credits

This courses emphasizes techniques of algorithmic design, structured programming, and debugging. This beginning course for computer science majors may also be taken by others who wish to learn a high-level computer language.

CPSC 152 Computer Science II 4 credits

This course is an introduction to advanced features of a high-level computer language including user-defined data structures. The programming assignments involve the techniques of searching, sorting, and recursion. Prerequisite: CPSC 151 or the equivalent.

- CPSC 205 Web Design 3 credits
 This course introduces students to the tools and techniques used in designing web pages. Students learn HTML, Javascript, and the web authoring software packages Dreamweaver, Fireworks, and Flash. Prerequisite: CPSC 151.
- CPSC 210 Discrete Mathematics 3 credits
 This course introduces fundamental concepts of mathematics involved in computer science including induction, elementary counting, combinations and permutations, recursions and recurrence relations, graphs and trees, sorting and searching, and Boolean algebra. (This course may be taken for credit as MATH 210.) Prerequisites: MATH 103, MATH 105, or the equivalent.
- CPSC 222 Electronics 4 credits
 The student is presented with the fundamentals of digital and analog circuit analysis. Among topics originally specific to analog circuits are DC circuit analysis using Kirchoff's laws, mesh equations, transformations, the use of multimeters and oscilloscopes, AC circuit analysis using complex impedances, capacitors, and inductors, resonance, step function analysis, and transitions. Among the topics originally specific to digital analysis are simple logic gates, IC chips, Boolean algebra, adders, flip-flops, shift registers, and counters. After the fundamentals are covered, the emphasis shifts to circuit analysis involving knowledge of both perspectives. This course includes three hours of lecture and two hours of laboratory each week. (This course may be taken for credit as PHYS 222.) Prerequisite: PHYS 201,202 or equivalent or permission of the Chair of the Department.
- CPSC 275 Data Structures and Algorithms 3 credits
 This course is a study of the theory of and advanced techniques for representation of data, including link-lists, trees, graphs, analysis of algorithms, sorting, searching, and hashing techniques. Prerequisite: CPSC 152 or equivalent.
- CPSC 277 Computer Ethics 1 credit
 This course is a study of the theory and practice of computer ethics. The aim of the course is to learn the basis for ethical decision-making and the methodology for reaching ethical decisions concerning the computer science field. Topics studied in the course are Computers in the Workplace, Computer Crime, Privacy and Anonymity, Intellectual Property, and Professional Responsibility. Methodologies used in the course include lectures by the instructor, lectures by visiting lecturers, in-class discussions, writing assignments, individual class presentations, and case analyses.
- CPSC 310 Artificial Intelligence 3 credits
 This course is an introduction to the principles and programming methods of artificial intelligence. The fundamental issues involve logic and knowledge presentation, search, and learning. The programming language LISP is introduced and used to manipulate symbolic data. Prerequisite: CPSC 275 or familiarity with a high-level computer language.
- CPSC 320 Software Engineering 3 credits
 This course is a general survey of software engineering. Among the topics covered are project planning and management, design techniques, verification and validation, and software maintenance. Prerequisite: CPSC 275.
- CPSC 330 Computer Organization and Assembly Language 4 credits
 This course is a study of applications of Boolean algebra to combinational circuit design problems, organization of simplified computer components, memory organization, architecture, and assembly language programming. Prerequisite: CPSC 152 or the equivalent.
- CPSC 360 Programming Languages 3 credits
 This course is a study of programming language constructs emphasizing the run-time behavior of programs. Topics include formal grammars, parsing, information binding, data storage, global and local variables and parameters, string handling and list processing. Prerequisite: CPSC 275 or the equivalent.
- CPSC 370 Operating Systems 3 credits
 This course is a study of batch processing systems, implementation techniques for parallel processing of input/output and interrupt handling, memory management, system accounting, interprocess communication and interfaces, and deadlocks. Prerequisite: CPSC 275 or the equivalent.
- CPSC 373 Writing for Mathematics and Computer Science 2 credits
 This course is designed to emphasize recognition of clarity and style of presentation in the reading and discussion of computer science related technical writing. (This course may also be taken for credit as MATH 373.)
- CPSC 380 Data Base Design 3 credits
 This course is an intensive study of the design and the implementation of a database. Topics include entity-relationship model, relational model, SQL, relational database design, object-oriented databases and object-relational databases. Prerequisite: CPSC 275.
- CPSC 390 Numerical Analysis 3 credits
 This course is a study of numerical methods of evaluating integrals and differential equations, techniques in finding the roots of polynomials, solving systems of linear equations, and matrix manipulation. (This course may be taken for credit as MATH 390.) Prerequisites: CPSC 151; MATH 202 or equivalent.
- CPSC 400 Computer Graphics 3 credits
 This course focuses on the study of line-drawing algorithms, circle generation, transformation, clipping and windowing, segmented display files, picture structure, graphic input techniques, raster graphics, scan conversion algorithms, three-dimensional transformations, and hidden surfaces. Prerequisite: CPSC 275.

CPSC 430	Compiler Design	3 credits
Techniques of design and implementation of compilers, including lexical analysis, parsing (both LL and LR), syntax-directed translation, and symbol table management are examined. Prerequisites: CPSC 275,330.
CPSC 440	Data Communications and Network Architecture	3 credits
This course is a study of data communications and computer networks from the programmer's point of view. Topics include direct link networks, including Ethernet and wireless networks; packet switching, internetworking, and routing, with an emphasis on the Internet Protocol; end-to-end communications, emphasizing UDP, TCP, and RPC; congestion control; data compression; network security; and applications. Students write programs that use the TCP/IP protocol stack via the UNIX or Java socket interfaces. Prerequisites: CPSC 275,330.
CPSC 477	Seminar in Mathematics and Computer Science	2 credits
This course includes topics in computer science suitable to computer science majors. The course is open to qualified junior and senior computer science majors. (This course may be taken for credit as MATH 477.)
CPSC 487-488	Independent Study	2-4 credits
CPSC 490	Senior Project	2-4 credits
CPSC 495	Graduation Audit	Non-credit
Registration for this course initiates a graduation audit process to verify that all requirements for graduation are scheduled to be met by the anticipated degree completion date.

Psychology

Faculty

Mark A. Affeltranger. Associate Professor of Psychology; Chair
 Katrina L Cooper. Associate Professor of Psychology
 John H. Hull. Professor of Psychology
 Kelly L. Schuller. Assistant Professor of Psychology

Program Goals

- The Psychology Departments objectives are to assist students in the development of the following skills and abilities:
- Familiarity with the major concepts, theoretical perspectives, empirical findings, and historical trends in psychology
 - Understanding and application of basic research methods in psychology, including research design, data analysis, and interpretation
 - Respect for and use of critical and creative thinking, skeptical inquiry, and when possible, the scientific approach to solve problems related to behavior and mental processes
 - Understanding and application of psychological principles to personal, social, and organizational issues
 - Ability to weigh evidence, act ethically, and conduct oneself in a manner reflective of the professionalism of psychology
 - Recognition, understanding, and respect for the complexity of socio-cultural and international diversity
 - Insight into one's own and others' behavior and mental processes and application of effective strategies for self-management and self-improvement

Requirements for Major

Students completing a major in Psychology earn either a Bachelor of Arts degree (Psychology with a Human Services Emphasis) or a Bachelor of Science degree (Psychology with a Scientific Emphasis or Psychology with a Pre-Physical Therapy Emphasis). All students majoring in Psychology must successfully complete the following courses: PSYC 100, 205, 206, 207, 208, 301; either 311, 312, or 313; 415, 477, and 490. In addition each student must complete one of the following tracks:

Psychology with a Human Services Emphasis: A minimum of two additional credits in Psychology. Recommended are additional courses in psychology and courses in biology, history of scientific thought, human development, philosophy, sociology, and social work relevant to the student's particular interests. This track is designed to meet the needs of students who wish to pursue masters-level education in a variety of fields, such as counseling, organizational psychology, and guidance; of students who desire a broad undergraduate education and graduate education in areas outside psychology, such as business, law, and education; and of students who seek a broadly applicable undergraduate degree. Students completing this track earn a Bachelor of Arts degree.

Psychology with a Scientific Emphasis: An additional course from: PSYC 311, 312, 313; six credits in courses in natural science, including at least 2 credits in biology courses emphasizing animal physiology, genetics, or natural selection (BIOL 100 and 108 do not meet this requirement) with the remaining 4 credits in similar biology courses, physics (except Astronomy), or chemistry. Students planning on graduate school in psychology are advised to take at least one course in calculus. It should also be kept in mind that graduate schools may require a reading knowledge of a world language, usually French, German, or Spanish. This track is designed for students most interested in the scientific aspects of psychology, particularly for those who are considering graduate work in experimental or clinical psychology. Most Ph.D. programs in experimental or clinical psychology require the types of undergraduate courses included in this track. Students completing this track earn a Bachelor of Science degree.

Psychology with a Pre-Physical Therapy Emphasis: PSYC 315; BIOL 100, 168, 425; CHEM 101, 102; EDUC 203 or PSYC 230; MATH 201; PHED 326, 327, 340, 341 (four hours of PSYC 470 or BIO 205 may be substituted for PHED 340 and 341; also PSYC 220 may substitute for either PHED 340 or 341); PHYS 201, 202. This track is designed to prepare students to enter a graduate program in Physical Therapy. Students completing this track earn a Bachelor of Science degree.

Requirements for Dual Major in Psychology and Social Work

The dual major in Psychology and Social Work is designed for those students interested in clinical social work or mental health practice. Students completing the dual major must complete all of the Requirements for Psychology Major listed above, plus all of the Requirements for Major in Social Work: SOWO 120, 150, 210, 230, 310, 320, 340, 350, 352, 455, 470, 472, 490.

Requirements for Teaching Certification

Only Psychology majors who have completed the following courses will be recommended for state certification to teach Social Studies in the secondary schools: HIST 101, 102, 201, 202, 225; SOCI 150, 210; ECON 162, 163, GENS 202; POLS 225; PSYC OR EDUC 480; SPED 207; RDNG 376; PSYC 100; the courses in the Professional Education Requirements described in the Education section of this Catalogue. PSYC 480 is prerequisite to student teaching.

Psychology Courses

PSYC 100 General Psychology 4 credits
This course is an introduction to the general field of psychology, including learning, motivation, sensation, perception, cognition, personality, abnormal behavior, testing, physiological psychology, and social psychology.

PSYC 101 Lab Experience 1 credit
This course provides exposure to experimentation and data analysis in the field of psychology. (This course must be taken for a letter grade.) Open only to transfer students who have completed an introductory psychology course not including a laboratory component.

PSYC 102 Introduction to Psychology 4 credits
This course is an introduction to the general field of psychology, including brain and sensory development, learning, cognitive processes, human development, personality, communication and human interaction, abnormality and theories of psychotherapy, testing, research methodology, and statistics. The course includes practical applications of psychological theories.

PSYC 188 Psychology of Death and Dying 3 credits
This course is an examination of various topics in the area of death and dying, including attitudes towards death, stages of dying, grief and mourning, children and death, funeral practices, the hospice movement, euthanasia, suicide, and immortality. The emphasis is on learning to live a deeper, more meaningful life through exploring the importance of death. An additional course fee is required.

PSYC 205 Statistics in Psychology I 3 credits
This course is an introduction to basic statistical techniques used in psychological research. This course covers descriptive statistics, and inferential statistics through one-way ANOVA. Attention is given to ethical issues involved in statistical interpretation of data.

PSYC 207 Statistics in Psychology II 3 credits

PSYC 208 Writing Papers in Psychology 2 credits
This course introduces students to the process of writing papers in the field of psychology. Using APA format students write an appropriately documented review of the professional research literature related to a specific topic, write a methods section detailing the proposed design and procedures for gathering empirical evidence related to a chosen topic, and develop a reference list. This course meets the Bethany College focused writing requirement for students majoring in Psychology.

PSYC 210 Psychology of Women 3 credits
This course is a critical survey of empirical and theoretical treatments of the female experience. The intellectual, motivational, biological, and cultural factors which influence women throughout the life cycle are discussed.

PSYC 220 Health Psychology 2 credits
This course provides students with a basic understanding of theories, research, and concepts related to several physiological psychology topics that can be applied to their lives. The understanding of health psychology informs students about many of the biological and psychological processes experienced throughout their lives.

PSYC 230 Developmental Psychology 3 credits
This course is a study of human development from conception through old age. Topics include the influence of genetics, socialization, cognitive growth, and physiological changes on all stages of life. Students learn about current literature and applications in the field.

- PSYC 243 Socio-Psychological Perspective of Physical Activities 3 credits
 This course emphasizes discussions and writings about small sports groups as micro-social systems. The application of group dynamics theory and small group research to the study of sports groups is presented. The influence of group members' characteristics, environmental factors, interpersonal relations, and group structural characteristics on an individual member's adjustment and the effectiveness of the group are investigated. The course is intended to investigate those aspects of psychology which influence performance and the participant in sports. Motives, arousal, aggression, and other socio-psychological variables are discussed. (This course may be taken for credit as PHED 243.)
- PSYC 250 Multicultural Psychology 3 credits
 This course is an examination of historical and contemporary factors which differentiate the experiences of African, Asian, Latino, and Native Americans from the experiences of other Americans. Students examine mainstream psychological treatment of these ethnic minority experiences and pose alternative approaches.
- PSYC 287 Organizations and Human Behavior 3 credits
 This course is a study of specific aspects of organization culture, such as motivation, conflict, power, and leadership. Focus is on improving the effectiveness of organizations by strengthening human processes. (This course may be taken for credit as ECON/BUSA 287.)
- PSYC 301 Tests and Surveys 3 credits
 This course is an overview of test and survey construction, intended to help students conducting original research to design their own psychological measurement instruments. Topics to be discussed include bias in testing and survey wording, assessment of reliability and validity, and various item formats used in psychological testing. Students will construct and test their own psychological instrument.
- PSYC 306 Research Methodology 3 credits
 This course is an examination of various types of research design and important issues in design and statistical analysis. Students propose research projects as an application of principles covered in the course. Prerequisite: at least junior status.
- PSYC 311 Experimental: Cognitive 4 credits
 This course gives students experience, at the intermediate level, with the research process in psychology. Students will engage in experimental work in the areas of perception, cognition, and social processes. Some familiarity with computers is desirable. Prerequisites: PSYC 100.
- PSYC 312 Experimental: Learning 4 credits
 This course is similar in objective to PSYC 311, but covers the areas of learning and motivation. PSYC 312 may be taken before PSYC 311. Prerequisites: PSYC 100, 205.
- PSYC 313 Experimental: Biopsychology 4 credits
 This course is an exploration of the biological basis of behavior through experimental work. Focus is on the nervous and endocrine systems and on their respective roles in the production of normal and abnormal behaviors. This course includes a laboratory component. Prerequisites: PSYC 100.
- PSYC 315 Modification of Behavior 2 credits
 This course has two main aims: to help students learn systematically to analyze behavior in terms of reinforcement principles and to help students develop skills in the application of these principles to the modification of behavior in practical situations. Behavior modification is examined in the areas of behavior disorder, child-rearing, the work situation, and habit change.
- PSYC 324 Personality Psychology 3 credits
 This course covers major theories of personality and principles of personal adjustment and growth, including the following: development; motivation; dynamics; problems in group living; and intellectual, emotional, and social adjustment. The course should be valuable to the potential doctor, nurse, social worker, child-care worker, teacher, or parent.
- PSYC 325 Abnormal Psychology 4 credits
 This course explores the development, dynamics, social significance, and theoretical implications and treatment of deviant behavior. The concepts of normality and abnormality in relation to cultural norms and stereotypes are examined. The course should prove particularly useful to students planning a career in the helping professions.
- PSYC 326 Social Psychology 3 credits
 Aspects of social behavior are examined in the context of theory and experimental research. Topics include social factors in development, cooperation and competition, aggression, issues of gender and race, motivation, attitudes and attitude change, social influence, and interpersonal and group processes.
- PSYC 327 Interpersonal Relationships 3 credits
 This course explores various theoretical perspectives of relationships with a primary focus on romantic relationships. Additionally, research on romantic partnerships will be explored. This course involves a number of primary source readings and is intended for advanced students. Prerequisites: PSYC 100, junior or senior class standing. PSYC 326 is recommended.
- PSYC 328 Interpersonal Aspects of Psychotherapy and Counseling 3 credits
 This course is a study of the interpersonal characteristics and personality traits that are essential for successful counselors and psychotherapists. Communication skills are emphasized and practiced throughout the course. This course would be important for anyone who will be working in the helping professions, but would also be useful for anyone who is interested in improving interpersonal communication skills. Enrollment is limited to 12 students. Prerequisite: PSYC 100.

- PSYC 329 Theories of Psychotherapy and Counseling 2 credits
 This course provides students with a basic knowledge of the varied theories and techniques used in professional psychotherapy and counseling. Both academic and experiential learning are included. This course should be particularly useful to students interested in careers in one of the helping professions. Enrollment is limited to 12 students. Prerequisite: PSYC 100.
- PSYC 377 Junior Seminar 1 credit
 This seminar prepares students for graduate school and employment opportunities after graduation as well as preparing for the senior year. Topics include preparing for aptitude tests, researching graduate schools, and beginning the application process. Students also gain more experience with reading research articles and begin preparation for the senior project.
- PSYC 415 Systematic Psychology 3 credits
 This course is an examination of the systematic positions and theories that have been important in the history of psychology. Major figures holding each position are also discussed. Prerequisite: senior status.
- PSYC 470 Internship in Psychology 2-4 credits
 Internships provide students with off-campus exposure to the life and work of professional psychologists. All internships must have the approval of the Psychology Department faculty and are supervised and evaluated by the departmental internship coordinator and by a psychologist in the field. A journal and a written summary of the student's experiences and their relationship to pertinent theories and practices of psychology is required. Prerequisite: declared Psychology major; junior standing or permission of the instructor.
- PSYC 477 Senior Seminar 1 credit
 This course is an introduction to professional opportunities in psychology and related fields and an exploration of value and ethical consideration. Continued guidance on senior project and senior comprehensive examinations also is provided during this course.
- PSYC 480 Methods and Materials in Teaching Psychology 3 credits
 This course is a study of materials and methods used in teaching psychology at the secondary school level. The course focuses on contemporary theories and practices and examines the nature, objectives, and curricula of psychology Teaching aids, resource units, lesson plans, evaluation, and teaching reading and study skills are considered. (This course may be taken for credit as EDUC 480.) Prerequisites: EDUC 242; a passing score on PPST-PRAXIS I; admission to the teacher education program.
- PSYC 487-488 Independent Study 2-4 credits
- PSYC 490 Senior Project 2-4 credits
- PSYC 495 Graduation Audit Non-credit
 Registration for this course initiates a graduation audit process to verify that all requirements for graduation are scheduled to be met by the anticipated degree completion date.

Social Science

Social Science is a grouping of courses only. It is not a department and does not offer a major. It provides general and interdisciplinary courses in social science. Students who participate in such programs as the American University Washington Semester and other off-campus programs may receive credit in this area.

Requirements for Teaching Certification

Only students who have completed the following courses or their equivalents will be recommended for state certification in Social Studies in the secondary schools: HIST 101, 102, 201, 202, 225; SOCI 150; ECON 162, 163; GENS 202; POLS 225; SOSC or EDUC 480; the courses in the Professional Education Requirements described in the Education section of this Catalogue and on the department's website or in the resource area in the College's courseware solution.

SOSC 100 Service Learning 1 credit
 This course is an experiential learning activity in a social welfare agency or academic setting supervised by a professional. Each student selects from a list of designated settings in an area of interest. To earn credit for the course, a student must complete a minimum of 30 hours of activity and observation in the designated setting and complete reading assignments, maintain journals, and write an analysis of the experience. The course is designed to provide experience in a practice area such as school social work or elementary education to assist students in making decisions about majors or to enable students to develop experience-based resumés. (CR/NCR only) Prerequisite: Approval by the Education Program Director or by the Social Work Program Director.

SOSC 101 Introduction to Law and the Use of Evidence 3 credits
 This course is an overview of the objectives and procedures of criminal law. It includes a study of the elements and proofs associated with criminal acts. The rules of evidence and the protections of individual rights are examined.

SOSC 200 Introduction to the Social Sciences3 credits

This course provides an introduction to several of the social sciences, how they relate to one another, and how they differ from the natural sciences and humanities. Students are exposed to the differing theories and practices employed in these fields through examination of a single topic from multiple perspectives. At the conclusion of the course students apply what they have learned in an analysis of a new topic.

SOSC 340 Professional Transitions3 credits

This course prepares students for professional employment opportunities or graduate school. The aim of this course is to introduce the student to the professional world he or she is about to enter with an emphasis on practical strategies and techniques for success. It is intended mainly for juniors and seniors.

SOSC 480 Methods and Materials in Teaching Social Studies3 credits

This course is an examination of the nature, objectives, and curricula of social studies in junior and senior high schools. Concepts and methods of approach are emphasized. Methods, techniques, teaching aids, resource units, lesson plans, evaluation, and teaching reading and study skills are examined. (This course may be taken for credit as EDUC 480.)

Programs

The Social Work Program offers:

- Major in Social Work
- Dual Major in Psychology
 - * Bachelor of Arts with a Human Services Emphasis
 - * Bachelor of Science with a Scientific Emphasis
- Minor in Criminal Justice
- Equine-Facilitated Therapy Certificate Program

Program Mission Statement and Goals for Social Work

Based in the context of liberal arts education and the generalist model, the Social Work Program prepares students for beginning-level, professional social work practice in all practice settings. Program implementation is founded in a humanizing orientation growing out of the historical roots of social work. It is designed to support the development of a lifelong social conscience reflecting a respect for human dignity, diversity, and a commitment to social justice.

In keeping with the mission statement for the Social Work Program, the following goals provide a foundation for program objectives and student learning outcomes:

- Preparation of students for beginning level, generalist social work practice within the framework of the NASW Code of Ethics.
- Preparation of students to work with populations affected by oppression and discrimination and advocate for social and economic justice.
- Preparation of students with a solid foundation for graduate education and continued professional growth and development.

Social work faculty believe that the Goals statements support the fulfillment of the Program Mission and accurately reflect the Mission of the College and its Goals.

Requirements for Major in Social Work

The purpose of the social work program is to prepare the student for entry-level, generalist social work practice. Students accomplish this goal by completing the following courses: SOWO 120, 150, 210, 230, 310, 320, 340, 350, 352, 377, 455, 470, 472, 490; EDUC 203 or PSYC 230; and PSYC 100. Students are advised to take selected liberal arts core courses to complete the social work major. Students majoring in social work are expected to complete the liberal arts required courses before they begin the professional study for the major. Social work practice courses must be taken in sequence, and students may not take the field placement courses (SOWO 470 and SOWO 472) without first completing all required social work courses except SOWO 455 and SOWO 490, which are taken in conjunction with the field placement experience. SOWO 120 is a prerequisite for all courses in social work except SOWO 125-145, 150, 210, 230, and 310. The Council on Social Work Education (CSWE) accredits the Social Work program at the Bachelor of Social Work level.

Requirements for Dual Major in Psychology and Social Work

The dual major in Psychology and Social Work is designed for those students interested in clinical social work or mental health practice. Students completing the dual major must complete all of the Requirements for Social Work Major listed above, plus all of the Requirements for Major in Psychology: PSYC 100, 205, 206, 207, 208, 301, 324, 415, 477, 490; plus the courses from one of the following options:

- Human Services Emphasis: A minimum of two additional credits in Psychology. Recommended are additional courses in psychology and courses in biology, history of scientific thought, human development, philosophy, sociology, and social work relevant to the student's particular interests. This track is designed to meet the needs of students who wish to pursue masters-level education in a variety of fields, such as counseling, organizational psychology, and guidance; of students who desire a broad undergraduate education and graduate education in areas outside psychology, such as business, law, and education; and of students who seek a broadly applicable undergraduate degree. Students completing this track earn a Bachelor of Arts degree.
- Scientific Emphasis: An additional course from: PSYC 311, 312, 313; six credits in courses in natural science, including at least 2 credits in biology courses emphasizing animal physiology, genetics, or natural selection (BIOL 100 and 108 do not meet this requirement) with the remaining 4 credits in similar biology courses, physics (except Astronomy), or chemistry. Students planning on graduate school in psychology are advised to take at least one course in calculus. It should also be kept in mind that graduate schools may require a reading knowledge of a world language, usually French, German, or Spanish. This track is designed for students most interested in the scientific aspects of psychology, particularly for those who are considering graduate work in experimental or clinical psychology. Most Ph.D. programs in experimental or clinical psychology require the types of undergraduate courses included in this track. Students completing this track earn a Bachelor of Science degree.

See Psychology Department for course descriptions.

Requirements for the Minor in Criminal Justice

The minor in Criminal Justice is designed for those students interested in a career in a criminal justice setting, including probation programs, prisons, or the court system. Students complete the following required courses: CRJU 147, CRJU 148, CRJU 149, CRJU 201, CRJU 211, and two of the following elective courses: CRJU 301, CRJU 311, CRJU 321, INTD 203, or CHEM 108.

Requirements for the Equine-Facilitated Therapy Certificate Program

This option is only available to those students with a major in social work. The Equine-Facilitated Therapy Certificate program is designed for those students interested in the use of horses to work with a variety of at-risk populations, including those with Autism, cerebral palsy, and other behavioral or physical challenges. The course work provides the foundation content for the Professional Association of Therapeutic Horsemanship (PATH) certification. Students must complete all courses listed under Requirement for Social Work Major, plus: EQUI 100, 101, 200, 202, 304; 2 credits from EQUI 103, 203, 204, 205, 303, 306, 403; BIOL 168, 169. Students are encouraged to choose from the following courses to supplement their preparation for the PATH certification: PSYC 205; SPED 212, 312; and EQUI 201. See Equine Studies in the Biology Department listings for more course descriptions.

Other Suggested Minors

The following minors are recommended for consideration to supplement the social work major for those students not interested in the above listed options. Refer to the department indicated in brackets to learn more about requirements for these minors: Nonprofit Management Minor [Interdisciplinary Studies]; Religious Studies [Humanities]; Spanish [Humanities]; Women's Studies [Interdisciplinary Studies]

The Social Work Program Curriculum: Students preparing for social work must complete the required professional courses. Social work practice courses must be completed in the sequence noted below. Required courses cannot be taken on a credit/no-credit basis.

Admission to Social Work Program: During SOWO 120: Introduction to Social Work and Social Welfare, students majoring in social work will begin the process of admission to the Social Work Program. Students must complete admission to the Social Work Program prior to applying for the Senior Field Placement. Information and necessary forms can be obtained from the Department office. In order to be admitted to the Program, the following criteria must be met:

- Successful completion of SOWO 120: Introduction to Social Work and Social Welfare.
- Grade- point average of 2.0 overall.
- At least one positive recommendation from: an upper-class social work major in good standing; a previous faculty advisor; a full-time teaching faculty member from outside the department; or a professional social worker.
- Completion of an essay entitled, “Why I Want to Major in Social Work.”
- Successful completion of a 30-hour service-learning assignment with appropriate documentation from an agency representative.
- Completion of a criminal background check.
- Completion of a formal interview with the Social Work faculty advisors.

Applicants may be granted full admission, provisional admission, or denied admission. Appeal of the decision can be made through the Social Work Program Director.

Junior-Year Field Experience: Social work majors who have achieved the class rank of junior must complete two 50-hour field placement experiences. These experiences provide opportunities for students to apply content covered in SOWO 350/352: Social Work Practice I and II, and prepare the student for the senior field placement experience. Junior field experiences must be completed and all documentation submitted by April 15 of the junior year in order for the student to be eligible to apply for the senior field experience.

Senior-Year Field Experience: The senior field placement experience occurs during fall semester of the senior year. Students are placed in social service agencies in the surrounding counties/states. Related course work is integrated with the field placement to provide direct application to field experience.

Students can participate in the field placement semester only after having completed all required courses in social work, except SOWO 455 and SOWO 490, which are taken in conjunction with the field placement experience (which includes SOWO 470 and 472). Students must also have an academic record appropriate for retention in the Social Work Program, complete the Application for Field Placement, and file it with the Coordinator of Field Placements. The completed application is reviewed by the faculty of the Social Work department, which grants approval to enroll in the field experience.

Students are not permitted to schedule courses or undertake extra-curricular activities that conflict with the field placement experience.

Application for Licensure: Many states recognize licensure for social workers at the bachelor degree level (BSW). Students can obtain information about state licensing requirements from the office of the Social Work Program Director.

Advanced Standing in Graduate School: Graduates of the Social Work Program are eligible for advanced standing in Council on Social Work Education (CSWE) accredited MSW programs. Graduates with advanced standing are exempt from foundation level courses in the MSW degree program, which eliminates up to two semesters of graduate education. In most cases, graduate degrees can be completed in as little as twelve months.

Transfer Students: Transfer students should contact the office of the Social Work Program Director for assistance in obtaining credit for course work required for the major, to assure that course work is not duplicated, and to obtain information about the Application to the Social Work program. The Program Director works with each transfer student to develop a plan to ensure a smooth transition.

Social Work Courses

SOWO 120 Introduction to Social Welfare and Social Work 3 credits

This course is an examination of the origin and development of social welfare as an institution in the United States. Examination of the role of the social worker and of the place of the profession in society is the focus of study. A field placement is required for this course.

SOWO 125-150 Special Topics in Social Work 2 or 3 credits

SOWO 125 Family and Child Welfare 2 credits

This course is a comprehensive study of the principal child welfare services. It defines child welfare, placing it as a field of practice within social work, and presents a scheme for the categorization of child welfare problems in terms of role theory. It provides an historical perspective on how and why welfare services developed and describes the current socio-economic context in which they operate. Topics covered include adoption, child abuse and neglect, day care, foster care, and other child caring institutions.

SOWO 130 Drug and Alcohol Abuse 2 credits

This course provides drug and alcohol education to students interested in an enhanced understanding of the effects of drugs and alcohol on individuals, families, and the community at large. Topics covered in the course include the effects of alcohol and drugs on the body, the relationship between alcohol and drug use and mental illnesses, family issues resulting from abuse and addiction, the role of peer pressure, and identification, prevention, and treatment of alcohol and drug addiction.

SOWO 135 Working With the Aged 2 credits

This course is a study of the biological, psychological, social, economic, cultural, and spiritual factors of the aged in society. It is an overview for persons in the helping professions who want to work with older people individually or with members of families, groups, organizations, or communities. Research efforts are presented that illuminate present knowledge about various aspects of aging and about the heterogeneous elderly population in the United States. A field experience is an integral part of the course.

SOWO 145 Women's Issues Across the Life Span 3 credits

This course is an examination of the dilemmas facing women at various points throughout the life cycle. The study includes an exploration of the historical underpinnings of the women's movement and the formation of female gender identity in childhood. Subsequent emphasis is on adulthood, middle adulthood, and the later years of life. (This course may be taken for credit as SOCI 145.)

SOWO 150 Social Problems 3 credits

This course introduces the basic concepts and perspectives of the study of society including analysis of the principal institutions, social processes, and social problems experienced in contemporary society. (This course may be taken for credit as SOCI 150.)

SOWO 151-159 1 credit

SOWO 210 Human Diversity 3 credits

This course explores areas of human diversity, including race, religion, gender, national origin, socio-economic status, developmental challenges, sexual minorities, and alternative lifestyles. Using a systems approach to understanding human behavior, students study the impact of diversity on developmental tasks at the micro, mezzo, and macro levels. Interventions, needs of the population, and available community services are explored. Implications for policy, research, and practice are considered. (This course may be taken for credit as SOCI 210.)

SOWO 230 Supportive Counseling 3 credits

This course is designed to help students develop helping, listening, and counseling skills. In particular, students will demonstrate an understanding of the therapeutic relationship, including the skills of active listening, empathy and positive regard, and the issues of resistance, transference, and defense mechanisms. Students will identify the effect of body language and environment on the counseling process. Students will identify and practice the skills needed to provide individual and small group counseling in a social service setting.

SOWO 310 Human Behavior and the Social Environment 3 credits

This course is an exploration of human behavior with the continuing potential for growth and change. The developmental process across the life span is studied with an emphasis on interaction with the social environment at the individual, family, small group, organization, and community levels. The bio-psycho-social-cultural-spiritual determinants of behavior are studied, integrating knowledge of individuals with their environments to build a foundation for the development of professional assessments and interventions. Prerequisite: EDUC 203 or PSYC 230

- SOWO 320 Social Welfare Policies and Services 3 credits
 This course is an examination of the social, historical, political, and economic context of social welfare policies and programs. Students gain experience in analysis of specific policy issues and their implications for professional social work practice. Prerequisite: SOWO 120
- SOWO 340 Research Methods and Statistics 3 credits
 This course is the study and use of qualitative and quantitative methods. It includes study of statistical and sociological analysis of social phenomena. The statistical study focuses on numbers, frequencies, means, variance, regressions, multivariate analyses and SPSS. The sociological study focuses on the process of conducting social research, the application of statistics, and computer technology. (This course may be taken for credit as SOCI 340.) Prerequisite: SOWO 120
- SOWO 350 Social Work Practice I 3 credits
 This course is the first course in knowledge, skill, and value development for generalist practice. Basic theories and concepts and the skills for professional social work practice with individuals are presented. The study focuses on professional values, social work roles, and social work client relationships. Skills in interviewing, data collection, problem solving, planning, case recording, and evaluation are explored and practiced. Social work practice is explored within the context of current programs and practice methods. A field placement is required for this course. Prerequisite: SOWO 120
- SOWO 352 Social Work Practice II 3 credits
 This course is the second course in knowledge, skill, and value development for generalist practice. Basic theories and concepts and the skills for professional social work practice with families and small groups are presented. The study focuses on professional values, social work roles, and social work client relationships. Skills in interviewing, data collection, problem solving, planning, case recording, and evaluation are explored and practiced. Social work practice is explored within the context of current programs and practice methods. A field placement is required for this course. Prerequisite: SOWO 120
- SOWO 377 Junior Seminar 1 credit
 The purpose of this course is to prepare junior social work majors to enter the senior field placement experience. Students will identify the process to apply for field placement and current opportunities available for the senior placement, develop resumes, set up interviews, and submit choices for placement. The course will also prepare students for the graduate school application process, field placement and job interviews, and appropriate dress and behavior in the workplace. Prerequisite: SOWO 120
- SOWO 455 Social Work Practice III 3 credits
 This course is the third course in knowledge, skill, and value development for generalist practice. Basic theories and concepts and the skills for professional social work practice with organizations, communities, and society are presented. The study focuses on professional values, social work roles, and social work client relationships. Skills in interviewing, data collection, problem solving, planning, case recording, and evaluation are explored and practiced. Social work practice is explored within the context of current programs and practice methods. Prerequisite: SOWO 120
- SOWO 470 Field Placement 9 credits
 This course is an educationally directed internship experience as a social work practitioner in a social welfare agency or program. Students are assigned to qualified field instructors in designated settings. The field experience involves five full days each week during the fall semester of the senior year. The placement is designed to test and increase student practice skills and formalize the development of a professional identity, with the goal of self-direction and the appropriate use of supervision and consultation within the social work practice setting. Prerequisite: SOWO 120
- SOWO 472 Field Placement Seminar 2 credits
 This course is an integrative seminar for the transitional role of the student moving from an undergraduate academic setting to the world of work. A field experience is required. (CR/NCR only.) Prerequisites: SOWO 120
- SOWO 487-488 Independent Study 1-4 credits
 Studies may be planned as extensions of or additions to existing Social Work offerings.
- SOWO 490 Senior Project 2-4 credits
 This course is a self-directed research project in a selected topic of social work practice designed to allow the student to integrate the professional value, skill, and knowledge base for generalist practice.
- SOWO 495 Graduation Audit Non-credit
 Registration for this course initiates a graduation audit process to verify that all requirements for graduation are scheduled to be met by the anticipated degree completion date.

Criminal Justice Courses

- CRJU 147 Introduction to Criminal Justice 3 credits
 This course provides the student with an overview of the criminal justice system, including how the various components work together. Students will examine the impact of the courts, Constitution, and laws on the various organizations within the system. This course also presents the student with the definitions of key terms and concepts that will appear throughout the criminal justice curriculum. This course is a pre-requisite for all other courses.

CRJU 148 Law Enforcement 3 credits
This course provides the student with an overview of the development of law enforcement organizations throughout American history, with an emphasis on local policing. Students will examine the missions, procedures, and challenges found in local law enforcement agencies. Topics covered in the course include arrest procedures, patrol strategy, community relations, and organizational structure.

CRJU 149 Corrections 3 credits

Graduate Program

Bethany College also participates in Dual Degree Masters Programs with Carnegie Mellon University and Duquesne University, for additional information see the section on the Dual Degree Programs in this Catalogue.

Master of Arts in Teaching

Admission Procedures

An applicant for admission to the Bethany College MAT graduate program must possess a baccalaureate degree from an American college or university accredited by one of the recognized regional accrediting associations, or the equivalent from an international college or university.

The ordinary standard for regular admission to the MAT program is an undergraduate GPA of at least 2.75 (on a 4.0 scale). Students falling below this level may submit other evidence of their ability to successfully complete a graduate program.

Applicants may be admitted to the Bethany College MAT graduate program in one of the following categories:

Conditional Admission: Applicants are admitted under this category when they have a marginal undergraduate record. Applicants will be permitted to take a maximum of six graduate credits in this admission category. Upon completion of six graduate credits, a conditionally admitted student will either be admitted or denied admission into the MAT program based on his/her performance.

Provisional Admission: Applicants who do not meet all of the criteria for Regular Admission, but show reasonable promise for success in the MAT program, may be admitted provisionally. Students will be permitted to begin graduate studies while completing admissions deficiencies.

Notices

Bethany College admits students of any race, color, sex, religion, sexual orientation, disability, and national or ethnic origin to all of the rights, privileges, programs, and activities generally accorded or made available to students at the school. Bethany does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, sex, religion, sexual orientation or nation or ethnic origin in the administration of its educational policies, scholarship and loan programs, athletic activities, or other school-administered programs.

In all matters related to employees and students, Bethany College does not discriminate on the basis of race, sex, age, national origin, religious preference, sexual orientation, status as a Vietnam-era veteran, documented disability, or infection with AIDS or associated diseases. Further, the College takes affirmative steps to recruit members of minority groups and women, and in accordance with federal law it gives preference in employment matters to Vietnam-era veterans and physically-handicapped persons.

Bethany College will not tolerate harassment of its employees. Any form of harassment related to an employee's race, color, sex, religion, national origin, age, or documented disability is a violation of this policy and will be treated as a disciplinary matter. For these purposes, the term harassment includes, but is not necessarily limited to slurs, jokes, other verbal, graphic, or physical conduct relating to an individual's race, color, sex, religion, national origin, age, or physical or mental handicap. Harassment also includes unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal, graphic, or physical conduct of a sexual nature.
